Without doubt the publishers of the Family Herald and Weekly Star of Montreal, have this year excelled themselves. The two pictures, "Battle of Alma," in colors, and "Pussy Willows," are now being distributed to subscribers, and we must say they are most attractive. THANKSGIVING SERVICE.

It would be difficult to imagine a pleasanter Harvest Thanksgiving Service than that given in the Church of England last evening. The night was very wet but notwithstanding this fact there was a goodly attendance. The church was decorated with various kinds of grain, fruit, leaves, vines, roots, flowers and choice plants, and looked exceedingly pretty. The service was taken by the pastor, Rev. John Gibson; Mr. Field, pastor of St. John's church, Oak Ridges; and Rev. F. C. Heathcote, Rector of St. Clement's church, Toronto. Mr. Heathcote gave an eloquent address in which he referred to the Joy of Harvest time and the wonderful gifts of God. The hymns were appropriate, and the choir were assisted by a number of the Mendelssohn Choristers. Miss Ethel Switzer and Miss Frances Crosby each sang a solo, and the former with Mr. F. Redditt gave a vocal duet.

OCTOBER CANADIAN MAGAZINE.

Among the features of the October number of The Canadian Magazine is a series of three articles on the West Indies. There has recently been some talk about the possibility of annexing Jamaica, Bermuda and the Bahamas to Canada, and consequently the three illustrated articles published by our national magazine this month are opportune and of tremendous interest. Professor Shortt has the leading place in the issue with a very clever and broad-minded article entitled "In defence of Millionaires," the title being fully explanatory of the contents. The sporting season brings forth an article on Ruffed Grouse, (Partridge) and a promise of six articles on the Big Game of Canada. Charles Lewis Shaw, Joanna E. Wood and Eric Cromer give the closing instalments of their contributions, and the next number of the magazine will likely appear with an entirely new cast of characters. The November number, by the way, will open the fourteenth volume. Only one other Canadian magazine ever attained this age.
