The Liberal.

RICHMOND HILL, January 25, 1900

SUMMED UP THE RECORD.

In the course of an after dinner speech the other evening Mr. Archibald Campbell, the Federal member for Kent, neatly summed up the record of three years of Liberal administration as follows: The Government had on taking office, he said, to face most difficult questions, such as the Manitoba School question, which, if it had not been settled, would have ended in rebellion or breaking up of Confederation. Within six months of taking office the Liberal party had settled this question, and if they had done nothing more they would have won the gratitude of the people of Canada. Then they had to face the revision of the tariff, which had been burdensome to the people of Canada. They revised that tariff so as to lighten the burden of the people, and at the same time stimulated the industries of the country. Had the old tariff remained in force the people of Canada would have paid for their importations of last year $3,000,000 more than they did pay. Then came the Crow's Nest Railway. The concessions obtained from the C. P. R. in freight rates would in a few years more than repay all that the road cost the country. Not a man in Parliament, Conservative or Liberal, ever said a word against the bill.

A good deal was heard about the increase of the national debt. It was amusing to hear some politicians talk about the national debt. Under the Conservative Government the debt increased at the rate of $6,500,000 a year. The Liberals had completed the works commenced by the Conservatives. They had increased the debt by only seven and one half millions in the four years. Mr. Campbell spoke, too, of the deepening of the canals, the extension of the Intercolonial Railway and the opening of the Yukon. Some Conservatives cried out about the expenditure. The Conservatives had left an expenditure of $38,000,000. The Government last year spent $41,000,000, but of this $2,000,000 was for the Yukon and would be repaid. Then the expenditure for the Drummond County Railway was being repaid again and again. The Opposition had always cried out about their loyalty, but it was the Liberal party that had granted a 25 per cent. preference to British goods, reduced the postage on letters to other parts of the empire, and for the first time in the history of the empire sent 2,000 of Canada's sons to fight for the empire.

For some time past The Mail and Empire has contained some pretty severe articles not at all complimentary to either The World newspaper or its proprietor, Mr. W. F. Maclean, M. P. The World, however, has shown no disposition to resent the imputation, but last week The Markham Sun came to the rescue. The Sun claims that The Mail had misrepresented Mr. Maclean in its report of the meeting of the East York Conservative Association, and thinks that the readers of The Mail should not be "humbled by such exaggerated reports."

The Sun says: "Of course we are fully aware that The Mail does not love the proprietor of The World, and that he is a thorn in the flesh of The Mail" &c.

We sympathize with The Sun in its delicate position, but hope it may be instrumental in bringing about love and harmony between the two Toronto dailies. Of course we do!

It is sometimes said that the Liberals are losing ground in the country, and that the next General Election will show that they do not possess the confidence of the electorate. The result of the nominations held last Thursday does not bear out the statement. Four out of the seven constituencies in Manitoba, Ontario and Quebec returned Liberals by acclamation, and in only one riding was a candidate put in the field by the Conservative party.
