We have now passing customs several cases of dress goods, linings, &c., which for quality and finish cannot be excelled for stylish costumes. Atkinson & Switzer.

ADVERTISING THE WEED.

Two representatives of The Empire Tobacco Co. visited this place on Saturday, and disposed of a large quantity of their different kinds of tobacco. The object was to introduce their goods, and as no charge was made they experienced no difficulty in getting rid of a lot of it. The team in themselves was quite an attraction, one of them, including the plug hat being more than 7 feet high, while "Shorty" was of very small dimensions.

HIGH SCHOOL CONCERT.

Don't miss the High-School entertainment to be given in the Masonic Hall on Friday evening of this week. Among the attractions will be a lecture on The Boers, by Prof. Mackenzie, of Trinity University, selections by the Mendelssohn Choristers, a tableau by young ladies of the High School, who will present a famous witch scene; the entertainment to conclude with an exciting scene among the outlaws in Sherwood Forest, entitled "Robin Hood and His merry Men." Admission, 10 and 15 cents. Chair taken at 8 o'clock.

A concert will be held in the School house at Oak Ridges on Monday evening, the 27th of March, commencing at 8 o'clock. A programme will be given by the scholars, assisted by the best local talent. Admission 15 cents, children 10 cents. Proceeds in aid of India Relief Fund.

AGRICULTURAL MEETING.

The Executive Committee of the Agricultural Society met on Saturday afternoon, when the revision of the prize list for the annual Fair to be held on the 24th of May was taken up. Mr. T. Lloyd, President of the Society, occupied the chair. The Executive recommended that the prizes in several of the classes be increased, and in speeding they decided to raise the purse in the free-for-all trot from $70 to $100. The 3-minute trot was changed to 2.40, and the purse raised from $50 to $60. With the above purses the directors hope to draw some fast horses here on the 24th of May.

This week we are showing the finest range of men's suitings ever shown in this section, and it is needless to say that they are all good patterns and excellent quality, at prices to suit everybody. Atkinson & Switzer.

READING CIRCLE.

The Epworth League Reading Circle will meet as usual next Monday evening in the Vestry at 8.35 sharp. The meeting promises to be very interesting. Mr. Fred Harrison will lead the discussion, which will be on "Gaspard de Coligny," Admiral of France, "William Tyndale," and "John Knox," from "The Beacon Lights of the Reformation." Let every member be present next Monday evening and prepared to take part in the discussion. No member can afford to miss one meeting. An exceedingly profitable hour was spent last Monday evening in conversation on "The New Citizenship." Non-members are always welcome.

Now is the time to place your orders for Easter costumes. Our dress and mantle making department is in full swing, and we can assure you when ordering here that you can always rely on getting the most fashionable dresses that can be got anywhere. Atkinson & Switzer.

REAMAN—SAVAGE—At the residence of the bride's parents, Sunny Hill Farm, on Monday, March 19th, by Rev. J. A. Grant, M. A., Jacob C. Reaman of Concord, to Florence Ida May, only daughter of Mr. John Savage.

Reaman—Savage.

Sunny Hill Farm, the residence of Mr. and Mrs. John Savage, was on Monday, March 19th, the scene of a very pleasant and happy event, when their only daughter, Florence Ida May, was united in the happy bonds of matrimony to Jacob C. Reaman of Concord. Early in the forenoon the sun burst forth in all its splendor and those of a superstitious turn of mind remembered the old adage, "Happy is the bride that the sun shines on." Though the afternoon was anything but pleasant, all within doors was bright and cheerful.

At the hour of 4 o'clock, Mrs. Chas. Savage of Toronto, who presided at the piano, struck up the air of a lively wedding march, and soon the groom, accompanied by his brother Daniel J. Reaman, who acted as best man, took his position at the west end of the capacious sitting-room. The bride leaning on the arm of her father soon appeared and took her place beside the groom. Miss Mable Reaman, cousin of the groom, acted as bridesmaid. The short but important ceremony was performed by Rev. J. A. Grant, M. A., of Richmond Hill, in the presence of the immediate relatives of the contracting parties. After those present had extended their best wishes to the newly-married couple, they repaired to the dining-room where about forty partook of a sumptuous wedding dinner. Before rising from the table Rev. Mr. Grant proposed a toast to the health and happiness of the bride and groom.

The bride was attired in a pearl grey travelling suit trimmed with white satin; while the bridesmaid wore a beautiful costume quite suited to the occasion, and each carried a bouquet of white carnations.

In the evening, amidst showers of rice and old shoes, Mr. and Mrs. Reaman left for the city. They will spend a week or so of their honeymoon with relatives of the bride in Western Ontario.

The bride was the recipient of many handsome and costly presents, not only from the wedding guests, but also from her many friends.
