MARRIAGES.

LARKIN—LEGG—At St. John's church, Oak Ridges, by Rev. Mr. Kirkby, of Aurora, assisted by Rev. Mr. Hand of Lloydtown, on Wednesday, July 4, Mr. John Larkin, Postmaster, Nobleton, to Elizabeth, eldest daughter of G. F. Legge, Esq., Jefferson.

Jefferson.

A MARGUERITE WEDDING.

A very pretty wedding was celebrated in St. John's Church, Oak Ridges, yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock, when Elizabeth, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Legge, was married to Mr. John Larkin, merchant and postmaster at Nobleton. The church had been tastefully adorned by the young people of the congregation with marguerites and orange blossoms and looked very pretty. The marriage ceremony was performed by the rector of the parish, Rev. Mr. Kirkby, who was assisted by Rev. Mr. Hand of Lloydtown, the church being crowded to the doors.

The bride was handsomely costumed in white swiss muslin, with bridal veil, decorated with lilies of the valley, and looked graceful and queenly. Her Maid of Honor was Miss Flo. Larkin, who was dressed in fardie over white, and she was further attended by Miss Menzies of Toronto, and Miss Emily Legge, who were attired in organdie over blue and yellow. The bride and her fair attendants made a lovely group, and every movement was executed with ease and grace. The groom was supported by Mr. C. Legge, Mr. Trent and Mr. Carter.

Immediately after the interesting ceremony the invited guests to the number of about 75 drove to Mr. Legge's residence, 2nd concession of Vaughan, where the bride and groom received the hearty congratulations of their many friends.

The wedding breakfast was served in a mammoth tent, the tables being also beautifully decorated with choice flowers. After a very recherche breakfast, in which nearly every seasonable delicacy was included, Rev. Mr. Kirkby proposed the toast, "The Bride and Groom," in an able and witty speech. The groom on behalf of himself and his bride responded briefly in appropriate words. Rev. Mr. Hand next proposed "The Bridesmaids," and Mr. C. Legge replied. Rev. Mr. Steacy of Ottawa, then proposed "Our Host and Hostess," and Mr. G. Legge responded. Mr. T. F. McMahon was then called upon and made a few complimentary remarks relative to the happy event. All the speakers, as far as good taste would permit, referred to the amiability and true worth of the bride, and the admirable personal qualities of the groom. The presents were handsome and useful.

The newly-married couple left in the evening, followed by showers of rose leaves and the best wishes of all present. They are taking the St. Lawrence trip, and on their return will go to their home in Nobleton.
