RICHMOND HILL, November 8, 1900

THE SOLDIERS' RETURN.

Canadians and loyalty are synonymous, but it is doubtful if patriotic rejoicing and enthusiasm ever before reached the proportions assumed in Toronto Monday afternoon when the heroes of Paardeburg returned from the battle-fields of distant Africa. From the time the train steamed into the C. P. R. Station yard at North Toronto till the brave boys reached the armories there was a continual and spontaneous outburst of welcome all along the line, and the participants in the demonstration must have numbered nearly 200,000 people. Those who were not present on the occasion can get an idea of the immensity of the procession from the fact that it took fully an hour to pass a given point. Scenes witnessed along the streets will never be forgotten, and taken altogether Monday may be said to be the greatest day in the history of Toronto. The decorations of many public and private buildings were magnificent, and the humblest cottages in the most unfrequented streets bore evidences of loyalty and patriotism.

But beautiful as everything looked in the daytime it was nothing when compared to the evening when the places were illuminated by thousands of electric and incandescent lights. The decorations and illuminations at the City Hall and other places left nothing to be desired, but those on the line of march between the arch at Queen Street and the Parliament buildings were simply gorgeous.

There were many sad homes to be sure, caused by the deaths of relatives and friends, but the sorrow seemed to be absent with the tens of thousands who gathered to give a joyous reception to those who were fortunate enough to return to their country and their homes. Canada, from one end to the other, appreciates the services rendered by her brave sons, and she showed it royally in Toronto on Monday.

Messrs. Burns and Rogers were appointed a committee re draining Mount Mellick Pond.

The reeve and Messrs. Gallagher and Rogers were appointed a committee to consider the advisability of removing the Schomberg lockup with full authority to act as they think it wise so to do.

The action of the reeve in sending George Fulkison to the Hospital for 4 weeks was confirmed. The reeve was further empowered to extend the time in hospital if necessary.

The clerk was instructed to notify the township solicitor to defend the appeal action of Bogart vs. King and to secure the service of Mr. Shepley to argue the case.

The council then adjourned to meet at McBride's Hotel, King City, on Thursday, November 15, at the hour of 2 o'clock p. m.

Sherwood

Mr. J. Keffer was visiting at Carrville on Sunday last.
Mr. Wm. Boddy of Woodbridge, was renewing friends and acquaintances here.

We are very sorry to lose Miss Tena Keffer, who has gone to Toronto and taken a situation.

Mr. Henry Keffer, an old and highly esteemed resident of Sherwood, who met with an accident the other week, was able to be out the first time on the 23rd ult.

Mr. Lawrie of Carrville, our new postmaster and general manager of our store, has taken possession. The mail will be kept directly opposite the blacksmith shop now.

Mr. Frank Keffer, who was ill and under the doctor's care, is able to be out and is busily engaged at his work.

Mr. James H. Keffer, we are sorry to say, is still under the doctor's care, but hope to see him around again soon.

The Ladies' Aid in connection with the church met at the home of Mr. N. Shunk, Maple, on Wednesday, Oct. 24. Mr. Mark Harrison and wife and Miss Tena Keffer were visiting at Mr. I. Keffer's Tuesday evening.

The Lutheran choir was tendered a supper at the home of Mr. J. Julian, Teston, a member of the congregation, all being present except Miss Ettie Lahmer.

Mrs. A. Badka of Toronto, spent Saturday under the parental roof of her mother, Mrs. A. Keffer.

Politics

may be your specialty. Repairing fine watches is my specialty.

The most profitable work in all lines is done by specialists.

You will find it profitable to pay a fair price to a good workman when your watch needs repairs.

It is not the repairs left undone that injures a good watch but it is by having repairs improperly done that ruin watches and makes them so difficult and expensive to put in first-class order.
