The procession of farmers and others with their new purchases will be headed by the band, and dinner will be served at the Queen's Hotel. The procession promises to be the longest ever seen in this place and a good time is expected.

LEG FRACTURED.

Mr. Giles Kerswill of Elgin Mills suffered a painful accident on Thursday last. He was drawing wood home from Markham, and when on the sidewalk opposite Mr. Dickson's house the load upset. Mr. Kerswill jumped the opposite way thereby escaping being crushed with the load, but his foot caught in the sleigh fracturing his leg between the ankle and the knee.

A HEAVY LOSS.

Mr. Geo. Gormley of "Burnside Farm," Unionville, lost one of his registered Clydesdale mares on Thursday night. This valuable mare was apparently all right when she was fed in the evening, but next morning she was found dead in her stall. It is scarcely necessary to say the animal was a prize-taker as nearly all the colts and horses raised on this farm find their way to county fairs and exhibitions.

CARD OF THANKS.

Mr. P. G. Savage desires through THE LIBERAL to thank the many kind friends who did so much for his beloved wife during the few short days of her illness, the members of the choir who assisted at the funeral service, and the scores of distant friends who sent letters of condolence on learning of his irreparable loss. Only those who have suffered in a similar way can fully realize the loss of a loving wife and mother, and only those know how to appreciate messages of sympathy in time of sorrow.

Owing to last night's storm the Skating Carnival at Thornhill has been postponed until next Wednesday evening, 20th inst.

Mr. J. E. Hodgson, M. A., paid an official visit to the High School Tuesday, and Mr. A. B. Davidson, B. A., inspected the Public School on the same day.

Master Robbie Grant, eldest son of Rev. J. A. Grant, was thrown from a sleigh by the horses jumping, one day last week, receiving a fracture of the collar bone. The little fellow is out again, but it will be some time before he is able to put on his coat.

The Mineral Springs Hotel and stables, Thornhill, better known as the Collins House, was burned to the ground Monday night about 7 o'clock. A frame house directly opposite was saved by hard work. The hotel was owned by Mr. R. Seager.

PAYMENT OF LIFE INSURANCE CLAIMS.

The following paragraph relating to the promptness with which the Royal Templars pay their claims, taken from the Hamilton Post on the 9th inst., can readily be believed by beneficiaries in Richmond Hill whose deceased relatives were insured in this Society:—

"Section 80 of the Ontario Insurance Act provides 'that every lawful claim against an insurance company shall become legally payable on the expiration of sixty days after the claim papers have been filed, but the Insurance Corporation may at its discretion pay the claim at any time before the expiration of the sixty days.' An examination of the annual statement of the Royal Templars for 1900 shows that they act under the latter clause of the section. Of a total of sixty-one claims for life insurance filed with them last year, fifty-nine were paid on the day on which they were filed and the other two within forty-eight hours of the filing. Such promptness in settlement of claims cannot fail to be appreciated and must not only be a source of gratification to Royal Templars, but also a strong recommendation of the order to the insurance public."

This is the store of plenty. The stocks yield to every wish and bend to every purse: 8 bars Cameo soap for 25c.; good selected Valencia raisins, 9c. lb.; Heinz's pickles, 15c. qt. Atkinson & Switzer.

HEADFORD.

The Oyster supper and entertainment in the Headford Methodist church last Friday night was attended with the usual unfavorable weather which prevented a crowded house. The ladies, however, catered so efficiently to the material comfort of their guests that at the appetizing tables the storm without was forgotten. The musical and literary programme presented reflected credit upon the participants and was received in a way that showed no lack of appreciation on the part of the audience. Miss Minnie Robinson of St. Paul's Methodist church, Toronto, contributed two soprano solos, and with her friend, Miss Annie Fawcett, of the same choir, shared the honors in several duets. Master Clarence Glass, Boy Soprano of Sherbourne St. Methodist Church Choir, won laurels for the mastery way in which he rendered three concert numbers. His apparent unconsciousness of the rare gift he possesses and the careful training, his voice is receiving under the direction of Mr. Arthur Blakely, together produce an effect that is irresistible and wins the hearts of the audience. Miss Irene Lane naively provoked the humorous by her clever recitations and gives promise of becoming an entertainer who will be heard in years to come. An unexpected pleasure was given by Miss Eva Petch of Aurora who though not previously announced very kindly contributed a reading and an encore. It was a matter of regret that Miss Ethel Switzer was not able to take her part and that Mr. Savage was also prevented through the sad bereavement he has sustained. The programme was not curtailed however as Miss Foster, the local school teacher had a class of her scholars contribute a chorus and Rev. Mr. Large sang two bass solos. Miss Wallace acted as accompanist throughout the evening and Rev. N. Wellwood acted as chairman. All present seemed unanimous in the opinion that the entertainment was a good one and deserving of a larger house and better financial returns.

LAI D TO REST.

The funeral of the late Mrs. P. G. Savage took place from her late residence Friday afternoon to the family plot in the village cemetery. As might be expected with one so highly respected and esteemed the funeral was very large, friends being present from Toronto, Whitty, Aurora, Lansing, Willowdale, Maple and other places, as well as many from the village and immediate neighborhoods. Both the High and Public schools of the village closed in the afternoon, so desirous were all to show every mark of respect to our deceased citizen. The floral tributes from friends were beautiful among which were noticed on the casket the following:—A pillow, bearing the word "mother" from the family; an anchor from the wives of the brothers; a wreath of roses from the Misses Jennie Palmer; a spray of roses and carnations from Miss Susie Trench; a wreath from the Confederation Life Association; a spray of lilies from Mrs. Wm. Innes; a spray of roses from Miss Richardson; a spray of lilies from Mrs. Suddaby; and a spray of roses from Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Proctor and Mr. Harold Proctor. The pall-bearers were Messrs. John Savage, Andrew Savage, James Savage and Charles Savage, brothers of the husband; Mr. N. Davis, brother of deceased; and Mr. W. Shepherd, a brother-in-law. The services at the residence and the grave were conducted by Rev. Mr. Wellwood, Rev. Mr. Grant, and Rev. Mr. Large. Rev. Mr. Wellwood gave a short but impressive discourse, making many touching references to the life of the departed. He spoke of her willingness to assist in the church or in any good work, but referred particularly to the tender attention she always gave to her home, her husband and her family. In prayer Rev. Mr. Grant and Rev. Mr. Large spoke words of comfort to the sorrowing husband, the aged mother, the sons and other relatives, pointing out that while home circles are being constantly broken, others are constantly being formed in Heaven. Mrs. Savage will long be remembered as a true friend, and a loving wife and mother, and on the day of her burial many a tear was seen to fall as sympathetic friends looked upon her face for the last time on this side of the grave.

Some folks think that all that is necessary to attract is low price. How fallacious. Price only is no test of value; it is what the price represents that proves its attraction. Atkinson & Switzer.
