CANADIAN MAGAZINE FOR MAY.

The Canadian Magazine for May contains some excellent material and the first instalments of two new serials. Joanna E. Wood writes of Charles Algernon Swinburne whom, she claims, is the greatest living English writer. The illustrations for this article are very valuable. Another beautifully illustrated article is Katharine Hale's "Some Prominent Players" with portraits of Bernhardt, Willard, Mansfield, John Drew and others equally famous. Among the other contributors of the month are Professor Maurice Hutton, Professor J. E. DeRossignol, F. Clifford Smith, Agnes Deans Cameron, Agnes Maule Machar, Charles Gordon Rogers, F. Blake Crofton, Virna Sheard, Headon Hill—all well-known names.

MR. C. E. KYLE HONORED.

Mr. C. E. Kyle, brother of Mrs. G. Wiley of this village, was on Saturday evening honored by his fellow travelers who presented him with an address and an oil-painting of himself handsomely framed. The following paragraph showing the high esteem in which he is held is taken from The Mail of Monday:

"Mr. Charles E. Kyle, the retiring president of the Commercial Travelers' Association of Canada was enthusiastically honored by his fellow-members on Saturday afternoon at the offices of the association, 51 Yonge street. The president-elect, Mr. M. C. Ellis, was in the chair, and on behalf of the association, read an address to Mr. Kyle, praising his business integrity, dignity, and business ability which had prompted his associates to elect him to a seat on the Board of Management, then as second and first vice-president in turn, and finally as president two years in succession by acclamation. Much of the progress of the association has been due to Mr. Kyle's ability and rectitude, while his genial and kindly disposition has endeared him to all."

The recipient acknowledged the address and the gift in a feeling reply, after which other addresses eulogistic of Mr. Kyle were made by Past Presidents and others.
