BICYCLE ATTACHMENT.

Mr. B. Hollingshead of Woodbridge, was in the village Thursday evening exhibiting a bicycle attachment and the novel conveyance certainly attracted a great deal of attention from our wheeling citizens. The attachment was invented by C. A. Coey of New York, and is made to run on any railway track. It consists of three braces, one being attached to the front and the hind wheel of the bicycle, the other to the head. The braces keep the machine in rigid form, and these braces connect at the other end with a small wheel which runs on the other rail, this small wheel having a flange to keep it from running off the rail. The braces are made of steel tubing, and are joined in the middle so that when not in use they may be telescoped and carried on the bicycle in a case prepared for that purpose. Some half dozen of our wheelmen tried the combination on the Metropolitan track and all pronounced it a success.

THE CIRCUS.

A number of our citizens went to Toronto on business on Monday, and incidentally (?) attended the circus and menagerie of the Ringling Bros. The circus reached the city Sunday morning from Barrie in three trains, and is said to be the best that visited Toronto for many years. An idea of the extent of the show can be gathered from the following facts recorded in a city paper: Sixty-five cars are required for the transportation of the big show from place to place. There are over 1000 people travelling with the show, a small army in itself. Over 500 horses, 30 elephants and scores of rare beasts of the jungle are carried by Ringling Bros. The main tent is 540 feet long by 210 feet wide, and will seat nearly 15,000 people. In the tent are three rings, two stages, and the accompanying flying swings necessary for the mid-air acts of scores of artists. The cost of the show to the owners is said to be $7000 a day. One day's supply for the tables includes the following: 1000 loaves of bread, 600 pounds of meat, 600 pounds of vegetable, 50 gallons of milk, 75 gallons of coffee, 30 gallons of tea, 100 dozen of eggs, 60 pounds of butter, and 250 pounds of ice. The animals consume daily such quantities as these: 600 pounds of meat, 600 pounds of vegetables, 80 tons of hay, 20 tons of straw, 100 bushels of oats and 60 bushels of corn.
