In the August Review of Reviews Dr. Shaw discusses the great steel strike in its various aspects and comments on many other matters of current interest at home and abroad. THAT UNLUCKY DAY.

Friday seems to be an unlucky day—even for cows. Last Friday two cows were killed at Davisville by a Metropolitan car, the property of Edward Hinds, and one suffered a similar fate at Thornhill, the property of William Ford.

CARRVILLE.

Sincere sympathy is felt in this place for Mr. J. H. Prentice and his five little children who were bereft on Tuesday of last week of a loving wife and devoted mother. Before removing to Unioville a couple of years ago Mr. and Mrs. Prentice resided here, and both were highly respected and esteemed. The funeral of deceased took place to the Carrville Cemetery on Thursday, and was largely attended. Much sorrow was manifested by relatives and friends, and the sudden death is keenly felt.

Ashton's best prints, 10c. yard; best 6 cord, 200 yard spools, black or white, 4c. doz.; a fine straight front corset for 50c. Atkinson & Switzer.

LICENSES GRANTED.

The License Commissioners for East York District held a meeting in East Toronto Village on Saturday. The members of the Board were all present namely, Messrs. Fletcher Morgan, J. McElroy, and A. Russell; also the Inspector, Mr. James Eckardt. The following licenses were granted for the balance of the license year, having previously been for only three months: John Palmer, John Ellston, Richmond Hill; Samuel Harris, East Toronto; T. Meagher, Orchard Park. The transfer of the license for the Half Way House from S. Sanderson to I. Hull was granted, but nothing was done in regard to the licenses of the Norway House, the Dutch Farm, or the Franklin House, Markham.

Try pure Concord grape vinegar, there is none equal to it, very fine for table use and for pickling is par excellence; 50c. per gal. Atkinson and Switzer.

LESLIE'S MONTHLY FOR AUGUST.

Of all the writers who have lately become close friends of the public none has taken a firmer hold than Ralph Connor with his "Sky Pilot." We have seen far too little of the Pilot himself, and we feel this all the more on reading the story of his last adventure in "The Swan Creek Blizzard," which appears in the August number of Leslie's Monthly. This Mid-Summer number is a notable one for fiction. Miss Cholmondeley, author of "Red Pottage," contributes a story in a vein which is apparently a new field for her. "Let Loose," touches with great suggestiveness upon the thin line which divides the natural world from things not easy to understand. From Mr. Hornung, the Magazine has secured a capital tale of the Australian Bush. Its title, "The Taking of Stingaree," is very suggestive of an author's skill.

BANKERS' OUTING.

The managers and clerks of the Standard Bank, Toronto, and of the branch at Parkdale, went through here Thursday afternoon in a special car, on their way to Bond Lake. They stopped here for the manager, Mr. J. F. Rowland and Mr. C. Mulcahy, junior clerk, and Messrs. Beck and Mahler who drove over from Markham also accompanied them. It was the intention of the bankers to have a programme of sports, including a baseball match but owing to the downpour of rain this had to be abandoned. A first-class supper was served at the hotel by Mr. Cosgrove.

DR. BLAKELY HONORED.

The Winnipeg Daily Tribune of July 27, refers at length to the resignation of Dr. Blakely, chief clerk of the Department of Education, which position he has held in Manitoba for the past twelve years. On his retirement the Dr. was presented with an address from teachers and inspectors, and a handsome and costly onyx mantel clock finished in gold, two gold-finished candelabra and a pair of artistic gold chased vases. After the presentation the recipient made an appropriate reply, and a number of complimentary addresses were given by those present. Dr. Blakely is a brother-in-law of Mrs. J. Grant, Mrs. A. J. Wright and Mr. R. E. Law of this place.

No. 1 Canadian laundry starch, 5c. lb.; best white starch, 6c.; Benson's No. 2 corn starch, 5c.; pure corn starch, 6c. Atkinson & Switzer.

SPORT, TRAVEL, FICTION.

The August Canadian Magazine, in keeping with the season, is devoted to sport, travel and fiction. Nonie Powell writes of the Birthplace of Napoleon, and the relics and momentos of him stored in Ajaccio, Corsica. S. Turner describes a record trip up the Matterhorn made at the close of last year's Alpine season. W. A. R. Kerr gives a history of "Golf in Canada," showing that the game was played in Montreal as early as 1821. These three articles are profusely illustrated, the latter being accompanied by eighteen photographs. C. W. Nash writes of "The Bass of Ontario," his article being embellished with three excellent drawings. There is a fine collection of short stories in addition to the two serials now running in the magazine. A. T. Hunter makes some pungent criticisms of our militia camps, while John A. Cooper gives utterance to some observations on the progress of the Maritime Provinces.

LADIES' HOME JOURNAL.

Evidently no effort has been spared to make The Ladies' Home Journal for August a positive boon to its readers during these warm midsummer days. Its light readable articles, bright stories, clever poems, charming music and numerous beautiful illustrations afford the easiest and pleasantest kind of entertainment for leisure hours. Enchanting views of the lovely scenery in the Engadine Valley and among the Swiss and Italian lakes, as well as such delightful articles as "The Singing Village of Germany" and "What Girl-Life in Italy Means" allure the thoughts to foreign lands, while there are timely suggestions about "The Picnic Basket," "Keeping a House Cool in the Dog-Days," and "Sea-Side Toys and How to Make Them." Other thoroughly interesting contributions are "The First White Baby Born in the Northwest," "My Boarding School for Girls," and the usual serial and departmental articles. By The Curtis Publishing Company, Philadelphia. One dollar a year ten cents a copy.
