The Liberal.

RICHMOND HILL, September 5, 1901
MR. MULOCK WON'T RETIRE.

The Toronto World is again displaying its journalistic enterprise (?) by telling its readers that another Liberal is retiring from the ranks. First The World stated that East York's Local Member would not be a candidate at the next election; then the Liberals of West York would have to seek another standard bearer before the general election; and lastly, on account of ill-health, Hon. Wm. Mulock of North York, Postmaster-General, has decided to quit the Cabinet.

In all three cases the members have given an unqualified denial to The World's statements, and there is good reason to believe they will all be members after the general elections are held. It is well known that Mr. Mulock suffered from rheumatism when away on his trip to Australia, but he has no intention of stepping down from his high position. Had The World been anxious to give its readers reliable information it would have been little trouble to get an answer from Mr. Mulock himself. But The World is not accustomed to do things in that way.
