We want our shelves to whisper, "Come again." Atkinson & Switzer.

Mr. Asa Curtis, owner and keeper of the Oak Ridges hotel for the past 35 years, died on Sunday, 29th Sept., aged 65 years 10 months. His remains were interred in St. John's cemetery on Tuesday. The funeral was large.

We have before us a lengthy communication bearing on Metropolitan mismanagement, and mentioning many acts of alleged discourtesy. As the correspondent does not give his name we must decline to insert.

Millinery opening, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, Oct. 8, 9, and 10. We will excel all former displays. Atkinson & Switzer.

Mr. Milbourne, on behalf of St. Mary's Church, wishes through THE LIBERAL to convey thanks to Mr. J. H. Sanderson and others who assisted in decorating the Hall Thursday evening, and made everything so pleasant for those who took part in the entertainment.

"The Last Days of President McKinley," by Walter Wellman, in the Review of Reviews for October, is the most comprehensive account of the Buffalo tragedy that has appeared in print. All things considered, it is a remarkable journalistic achievement. It should be read and preserved as a complete record of a great historical event.

XXX white wine vinegar, cider vinegar, Concord grape vinegar, malt vinegar. Concord grape vinegar is extra fine for pickling and table use. Atkinson & Switzer.

Owing to the wet weather the congregations at the Methodist Church last Sunday were not large. Good sermons were preached by Rev. Alfred Brown of St. Paul's Church, Toronto. The Thank-Offertings placed on the plate morning and evening were $123, but it is safe to say that with sums handed in this week the amount will be $150. The trustees are pleased with the cheerful response.

We have disposed of a large lot of sugar lately; are giving a big $ worth this week. Atkinson & Switzer.

The Metropolitan management has been improving the appearance of the road-bed by removing the grass between the rails. From the southern boundary of the corporation to Wright's the grass was gathered up and taken away, but from that point north the ditch was considered good enough for a grass receptacle. Surely this was not done with the approval of the Council!

Sugars—On Friday and Saturday of this week we will give 23 lbs. granulated sugar for $1; 35 lbs. brown sugar for $1. A large lot of sample top shirts, up-to-date goods, at special prices. Naughton Bros., Elgin Mills.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred J. Johnston received a large number of friends Monday afternoon and evening, the occasion being their post-nuptial reception. The callers enjoyed the hospitality extended, but many while expressing pleasure at Mr. Johnston's good position in the town of Orillia, could not help regretting that the newly-married couple are to sever their connection with their friends here.

Special value this week in cotton grain bags, floor oilcloth, wool blankets and men's socks. Atkinson and Switzer.

CARD OF THANKS.
This is to certify that the Gore Fire Insurance Co. of Galt, Ont., through their agent, Mr. J. T. Saigeon of Maple, have paid my loss, sustained by fire, to my entire satisfaction.
MRS. JANE H. DOBSON.

ANNUAL SOCIAL.

The annual social of the W. M. S., Victoria Square, will be held on Wednesday, Oct. 9. Supper will be served in the church from 5 to 8 p. m., after which a musical and literary entertainment will be given, for which the following excellent talent has been secured: Miss Madge Brown, M. E., of Stouffville, the popular and talented elocutionist; Rev. J. H. More of Richmond Hill, who will deliver an address; The Baker Family of Baker Hill, in solos and quartettes; Drs. Barker and Nelles of Stouffville, and others, who will give instrumental duets on mandolin and guitar. Miss Jessie Brown, accompanist. Admission 10 and 20 cents.

We have had a big sale of fruit jars, the quality and prices being right; have a few dozen imperial quarts left. Best jar rubbers, 5c; dozen. Atkinson & Switzer.

LADIES' HOME JOURNAL.

The Ladies' Home Journal for October is, perhaps, the best number of this magazine ever issued. The literary features include "How the Leopard Got His Spots," by Rudyard Kipling; "A Fifth Avenue Troubadour," by Ernest Seton-Thompson; the first installment of "A Gentleman of the Blue Grass," by Laura Spencer Porter; the last of "Miss Alcott's Letters to Her 'Laurie,'" and the closing chapters of "Aileen." "Some Things the President Does Not Do," a collection of anecdotes about Whistler, the artist, and Mr. Bok's advice to a young man about to marry are important features. The regular editorial departments are supplemented by nine new ones of great interest, among which Professor Edward Howard Griggs' talks on "The Education of a Child from Eleven to Eighteen," Professor Schmucker's "Seeing Things Outdoors," and Miss Withey's "Writing and Speaking Correctly" are noteworthy. The illustrations and art features are superb. By The Curtis Publishing Company, Philadelphia. One dollar a year; ten cents a number.

We benefit ourselves most when we serve you best. Young men should examine our stock of hard and soft felt hats, shirts, collars, cuffs, ties, all the latest; we can save you money. Atkinson & Switzer.

ENTERTAINMENT.

The Masonic Hall was well filled on Thursday evening when a delightful entertainment was given in aid of the Church of England of this place. An excellent programme was rendered, and it is safe to say that every number was thoroughly enjoyed by all lovers of good music. Dr. L. Hamilton Evans of Toronto, acted both as chairman and musical conductor, and that gentleman was as happy in the capacity of the former as he was efficient in that of the latter. With the exception of our own "Col." Milbourne who assisted with the bones and tambourine in certain popular selections, the talent was all from the city, the array of artists being as follows: Miss Covert, Miss Edith Rowland, Miss Eleanor Rowland, Miss Kate Rowland, Miss Schulte, Miss Grace Hogaboom, Miss Hettie Smyth, Miss Madeline Evans, Miss Winifred Evans, Miss Emily Falconbridge, Mr. Paul Hahan, Dr. E. K. Richardson, Mr. Massie, Mr. F. J. Riearde-Seaver. With such an array of skilled musicians it is difficult to individualize, suffice it to say the music was all melodious and sparkling, and the large audience were perfectly delighted. Miss Covert and Miss W. Evans proved themselves pleasing pianists, and as an elocutionist Miss Schulte gave selections in a manner which could not fail to be appreciated by all. The vocalists had very good voices, and added to a pleasing personality, they easily made themselves favorites. Every number was well received, and every performer was worthy of special mention if space permitted. In fact seldom does a Richmond Hill audience have the pleasure of listening to such a perfect combination of mandolins, guitars, banjos, and violins for the production of pure music. The music was high-class and up-to-date, but for the sake of old times the orchestra played "Soldiers' Joy" and "College Hornpipe," and in these the "Col." got in his fine work on the bones and tambourine. The "Col." whose every appearance on the platform was the signal for acclamation, and who shouldered the whole responsibility, is to be congratulated on the success of the entertainment, which, after paying expenses, will leave a small balance for the funds of the church. We must here close, but cannot do so without referring to the cello solo played in such an eminently skillful manner by the master hand of Mr. Paul Hahan. The following is the programme in full:

- PART I.
1. Piano Duet, Miss Covert and Miss W. Evans.
2. Song, Miss Grace Hogaboom.
3. Violin Duet, The Misses Rowland.
4. Reading, Miss Schulte.
5. Guitar Duet, Miss Covert and Miss Hettie Smyth.
6. Song, Mr. Massie.
7. Swedish Wedding March, Loin du Bal, Soldiers' Joy, Orchestra.

- PART II.
1. Piano Duet, Miss Covert and Miss W. Evans.
2. Song, Miss Grace Hogaboom.
3. Cello Solo, Miss Madeline Evans.
4. Reading, Miss Schulte.
5. Mandolin, guitars and banjo duet, Miss W. Evans, Miss Hattie Smyth, Miss Covert, Mr. Riearde-Seaver.
6. Song, Dr. E. K. Richardson.
7. Cello Solo, Mr. Paul Hahan.
8. Al Fresco, Daughter of Love, College Hornpipe, God Save the King, Orchestra.

You can buy a new 1200 lb. scale at C. Mason's for $15.

A ROYAL NUMBER.

The October Canadian Magazine is, as might be expected, somewhat of a Royal Number. Arthur H. U. Colquhoun writes of "The Significance of the Royal Visit"; Claude Bryan, of "The Duke and Duchess of York at Home," and Joanna E. Wood, of Presentation at Court. These articles are profusely illustrated with attractive photographs. The full-page picture of a debutante dressed for presentation at the British Court, is something of a novelty in this country. Nor does Royalty monopolize the issue. The sportsman will find good reading in "The Game Laws of Ontario and Quebec" and "Wild-geese Shooting in New Brunswick." "Canada at the Glasgow Exhibition" is another valuable feature, the illustrations being especially fine. Dr. Wickett breaks new ground with his article on "Commercial Education at Universities," in which he quietly advises the universities to follow the lead of Germany, France and Belgium, and bring their teaching to bear on the subjects in which business men should be trained. The various departments show that the staff-writers of The Canadian Magazine are clever and capable, summarizing foreign events, dealing with events of interest to women, and giving such literary comment as is required even by those who make no pretension to authority. Any person reading this issue will desire to preserve it.

Prices that cannot be ignored by those of a saving turn: Green Ric coffee, 10c. lb.; good roasted blend coffee, ground fresh, 15c.; best Rangoon rice, 4c.; bright India rice, 5c.; McIntosh's wheat flakes, 8 lbs. for 25c. Atkinson & Switzer.

PARLOR MEETING.

A pleasant Parlor Meeting, under the auspices of the W. C. T. U., was held in the Temperance Hall Tuesday evening. The Hall looked very pretty, the platform being neatly decorated with flags, flowers, and framed pictures of the King, and Duke and Duchess of York. The chair was occupied by Mrs. Switzer the president, who in her introductory remarks referred to some of the work done by the Unions in the various departments. After a number of vocal selections she introduced Mr. Leckie, the speaker of the evening, who talked along the line of "Life in the Camps." After giving a history of his own life he told about camp life, and referred to the lumbermen in the northern part of the province as a thrifty lot of men, strictly honorable, and who were well provided for. He said he believed in people taking the pledge, and he was always prepared to vote for the Duncan Act, the Scott Act, and any Act that had the word temperance in it. He complimented the Women's Christian Temperance Union on the good work they are doing, referred to the comfort bags sent to the lumbermen, and said that the above were the only society who were taking an aggressive stand along the line of politics. During the evening solos were sung by Mr. A. J. Hume, Miss L. Wright, Miss L. Duncan, Miss V. Storey and Mr. J. H. Sanderson. The accompaniments were played by Miss Wiley, Miss Clark and Miss Linfoot. Before closing a number of ladies handed in their names to become members of the local Union.
