MR. WALLACE'S FUNERAL.

Over 5000 People Present.

Probably never before did the citizens of this county witness such a large funeral as that of the late Hon. N. C. Wallace, M. P. for West York on Saturday last. Between 5,000 and 6,000 people attended and showed their last mark of respect and esteem to the departed and the bereaved family. From early in the day until the lid of the oaken coffin was fastened down there was a constant stream of friends and acquaintances passing through the modest though comfortable dwelling, all being anxious to get a last look at him who from his birth had lived in that place. The obsequies which were impressive in their simplicity were conducted by the Rev. Mr. Swallow, and the funeral arrangements were under the direction of the Orange Grand Lodge. About 800 members of the Orange Order marched in procession, and followed the remains of the Grand Sovereign. There was no ostentation, everything was done in a quiet manner, but a feeling of sorrow and grief was manifest on the solemn occasion. All business in Woodbridge was suspended for the day, and many homes were draped in mourning in token of sympathy and good will.

Two special trains of 18 coaches arrived from Toronto shortly after two o'clock. Public men and members of the Orange Order were present, not only from all parts of this province, but from Manitoba, Quebec, Nova Scotia and other parts. Mourning badges consisting of black, purple and yellow ribbons with a likeness of deceased were worn by nearly everybody present.

Want of space will only permit the mention of a few of the very prominent men present. Among the thousands present were the following:—Sir Mackenzie Bowell, ex-Mayor E. F. Clarke, Hon. Geo. E. Foster, Hon. E. J. Davis, Mr. J. P. Whitney, M. P. P.; Col. Sam. Hughes, J. Clancy, M. P.; John Richardson, M. P. P.; W. J. Hill, M. P. P.; Mayor Howland, Dr. Sproule, Grand Master B. A.; J. W. St. John, Dr. Beattie Nesbitt.

The casket was placed in the centre of the drawing-room in the home, which was literally banked with flowers, wreaths and other floral tributes having been sent from all parts of the Dominion. The chief mourners were the widow, four sons, three daughters, two brothers and two sisters.

After the family carriages followed the members of L. O. L., No. 28, Woodbridge, of which the deceased was a member, in full regalia and wearing crape on arms, then came the Grand Lodge officers in full regalia, members and ex-members of the Dominion Parliament and Provincial Legislature, then the members of the different Orange lodges and friends of the deceased. The sad procession marched four deep along Wallace street up Pine street, along Eighth avenue to the Agricultural Fair grounds, around the grounds and along Pine avenue to Christ Church. The pulpit and chancel of the church were draped in black and purple. Hon. N. Clarke Wallace had long been a member of this church and a regular attendant, and for a number of years was Superintendent of the Sunday school. The casket was borne down the centre aisle and deposited in front of the pulpit, the immediate members of the family and relatives occupying two pews on the right. The church was speedily filled with the officers of the Grand Lodge and other mourners. The pastor, Rev. F. W. Swallow, conducted the service, being assisted by Rev. McKay McLennan.

In his address to the congregation Rev. Mr. Swallow touched only upon the personal qualities of the deceased. It was not the time nor the place, he remarked, to refer to all his political career. He pointed out that under the Christian belief all the sting of death was removed. That was the grand lesson of the Scripture. It should be a matter of joy and thankfulness when a brother was removed from the trials and suffering of this world, and why, therefore, should they not give thanks even if their own friends and relatives were taken away. But while this was true, it was proper also that they should grieve, although it should be done in submission to God's will.

With regard to the departed, while he could not judge still it was right that we should use the virtues of others as an encouragement to ourselves. The deceased was one who knew it was our duty to render to God his due, and Sunday after Sunday he was in attendance in the sanctuary. He also regularly approached the altar of God and partook of the bread and the cup. For many a long year he was Superintendent of the Sunday School, a difficult and arduous work that no man could keep up without being sincere.

By rendering to God His dues, by regularity of attendance at worship, by the reception of the Holy Sacrament and by his good works, by all these they had great hope that their brother would rest in the Saviour.

The singing of the hymn, "On the Resurrection Morning," concluded the service, and as the casket was taken out of the church "The Dead March" was played by the organist, Mr. C. W. Edwards of Toronto.

At the grave the Orange service was conducted by Dr. Sproule, who is now Grand Master for British America. At its conclusion the gathering recited together "The Lord's Prayer," the brethren filed past and dropped into the open grave the mourning badge, and the mournful ceremony was concluded.

THE NOVEMBER DELINEATOR.

A seasonable atmosphere rises from the various useful and valuable features of the November Delineator. The styles shown are for early winter; the dressmaking article tells about the making of coats; the fancy needlework article bears upon Thanksgiving and Christmas gifts; the crocheting articles are those of a winter character; the gardening article deals with the pruning and protection of rose trees throughout Winter. Every woman who wishes to get splendid value for her expenditure should buy The Delineator for itself. It in return will help her to economize in household matters at every point.

My Lungs

"An attack of la grippe left me with a bad cough. My friends said I had consumption. I then tried Ayer's Cherry Pectoral and it cured me promptly."
A. K. Randles, Nokomis, Ill.

You forgot to buy a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral when your cold first came on, so you let it run along. Even now, with all your hard coughing, it will not disappoint you. There's a record of sixty years to fall back on.

Three sizes: 25c., enough for an ordinary cold; 50c., just right for bronchitis, hoarseness, hard colds, etc.; $1, most economical for chronic cases and to keep on hand.
J. C. AYER & CO., Lowell, Mass.
