HARD TO SUIT.

The Toronto Evening News does not like the bill giving additional representation to New Ontario. The News says "The change will in all probability give the Government three additional supporters, which is a sound political reason for the leader of the Opposition fighting it." The News should not encourage Mr. Whitney to take a stand for "political reasons" when the interests of the Province are at stake. The same paper thinks that the unit of representation in the new constituencies is too small, instancing the city of Toronto with unit of representation, much higher. The comparison is hardly fair. The doctrine of representation by population is all right, but it would not be practicable to carry it out to the letter in new and sparsely districts like New Ontario which will probably have a large population within the next ten years.

The trouble with the News seems to be that it is looking through political spectacles. But in finding fault with the bill it says: "That probably is what the Tories would have done under similar circumstances, but it is not right, and any party resorting to such tactics is unworthy the support of the electors." The News, apparently, has no faith in either political party, but would like a change as an experiment. The News may recall the reply which King Charles gave to his brother, the Duke of York, when the latter reminded the former that a plot was on foot to murder the King and put James in his place. "Brother," said Charles, "they will never murder me to make you King."

"KING PRINTING."

Two or three weeks ago the Newmarket Era complained that its tender for King printing was rejected by the Council, and the township printing given to another firm, though the figures of the last named firm were considerably higher than those of the Era. The Era contained what seems to us a very serious charge, in the following words: "It was hinted to us that if we would allow a commission to a certain person that the printing might come our way, but we refused to be a party to any such transaction." etc. The Newmarket Express and the Leader and Recorder have since had articles giving credence to the Era's report, and the whole affair looks very bad in print. Without positive proof THE LIBERAL could not believe the charge, but it is unfortunate that such a stigma should be placed on the Municipal Council of the Township of King.

Since writing the above we learn that the Era has acknowledged its error, and apologized to King Council in the following words:—"We admit we were a little hasty in our remarks, as the explanation in last week's issue puts a reasonable construction on the matter, and we duly apologize to the members of King Council for the insinuation." -This is the manly thing for the Era to do, but it should act as a warning to the Express and the Leader and Recorder not to condemn until the alleged culprits are proven guilty.

The Ontario Legislature was prorogued Monday afternoon. The session had not been a lengthy one although 116 bills were assented to.

Of the bills passed none took up nearly as much time in discussion as the measure respecting the sale of intoxicating liquors. A bill was passed giving increased representation to that portion of the province known as New Ontario. A bill was passed dealing with electric railways, and a committee of the Executive Council was appointed with jurisdiction over all electric systems in the Province, subject to the Legislature. The Government majority was 12 or 13. Mr. Martin voted with the Government on several occasions.
