A FINE ISSUE.

The May number of The Delineator is the third of the great Spring issues in both fashion and literary features and is the most notable of the season. With the many artistic designs for garments for late Spring wear come advance Summer fashions from the hands of eminent designers, and in attractiveness these styles have probably never been surpassed. An article of especial interest at this season is on graduation dresses. The chief literary contribution is The Educational Value of Some Recent Plays, written by Norman Hapgood, the celebrated critic, and splendidly illustrated. Dr. Elliot's recollections of the child Patti, at the time of her first benefit, make one of the most delightful papers in the series of Notable Women; and in a different vein Clara E. Laughlin tells the story of the gifted Shelly's unfortunate marriage and its results. Two very pictorial as well as practical subjects are Animal Photography, in which some most interesting records of animal life are presented directly from nature, and Basketball Women, in the series of Athletics for Women, the fine pictures being made from photographs from pictures taken during the play. For the children Lina Beard introduces some new and interesting Pastimes.

Others who will take part in the evening's programme are Mr. Harry Rich, Toronto's best humorist; Miss Mae Dickenson, one of Toronto's most popular vocalists; Miss Irwin, Hamilton's brilliant elocutionist; Mrs. W. E. Ramsay, pianist and accompanist. A little daughter of Mrs. Ramsay will also appear in dances in each part of the programme. The above artists, and the Governor-General's Body Guard Band should give the best entertainment ever listened to in the Agricultural Hall.

Small prices, best quality and a large stock are Atkinson & Switzer's strongholds.

TEMPERANCE ADDRESS.

Mr. John A. Nicholls, organizer for the Dominion Alliance, gave an interesting temperance address in the Temperance Hall on Thursday evening. The chair was filled by Mr. J. H. Sanders, and devotional exercises were conducted by Rev. N. Wellwood. The audience was not large, and as is usually the case on similar occasions the ladies present were in the majority. Mr. Nicholls, in an able address, dealt with the question of temperance in a clear and forcible manner, giving a historical review of the prohibition movement in this country. He also referred to the present status of the question in Manitoba and our own province. Relative to the defeat of the temperance measure in Manitoba last week, the lecturer said it was due mainly to the action of the Dominion Alliance. The Alliance took the ground that the present Manitoba Government were elected on their promises to pass a prohibitory measure, that they had passed it, but that now the Roblin Government had practically disowned their own measure. The Alliance, therefore, refused to encourage the temperance people to vote again on the referendum. Mr. Nicholls expressed his disapproval of the action of the Alliance, and while saying that he did not regard the Ross referendum as satisfactory, yet he felt that it was the duty of every prohibitionist in Ontario to go to work and do what he could to carry the measure when the vote is taken next fall.
