TRESPASSING.

Certain individuals have been trespassing in Mrs. John Harris' berry garden and Mrs. Harris informs us the party is known. We thought the caution given by Mag's r. le Ellis a couple of weeks ago would put a check to trespassers for some time to come, but this does not seem to be the case.

Never too soon to buy a necessity. Atkinson & Switzer.

MARCONI WIRELESS.

Messrs. Munroe & Munroe, of 44-60 Exchange Place, New York, have published a handsome booklet of 53 pages, containing 32 half-tone illustrations, giving a full and complete history of wireless telegraphy under the above title. They have agreed to give a copy to every reader who feels favorable to an investment in Marconi stock and who will write to them requesting it. Address Munroe and Munroe, 44-60 Exchange Place, New York City.

SCHOOL BOARD.

The Board of Education met Monday evening to consider applications for the position of Principal for the Public School and a second assistant for the High School. There were 51 applicants for the former, and 21 for the latter. The Principalship of the Public School was given to Mr. Thos. A. Lamont, who has been teaching during the past year in Brougham, West Ontario. The applications for an assistant for the High School were not read, but a resolution was passed to adjourn till Thursday evening at 7 o'clock, to discuss the advisability of making further changes in the High and Public School staff.

THE AUGUST PEARSONS.

Bearson's Magazine for August has even more than the usual amount of clever fiction. There are eleven bright short stories—The Ghost of Guadalupe, by General Charles King; Uncle Benny's Sedative, by Elizabeth A. Moore; How Don Q. Outwitted Don Luis, by K. and Hesketh Prichard; The Black Hands, by Albert Bigelow Paine; Cupid in the Elevator, by Carroll Watson Rankin; Heroes Both, by Walter E. Grogan; Such Stuff as Dreams are made on, by Gisely Dittick Britt; A Powerful Blend, by Claudia Ashton; The Story of the Retired Car Conductor, one of the tales of the Picaroon;—A San Francisco Night's Entertainment; The Adventures of the Persian Prince, by R. E. Venedi and The Squire's Ride, by E. D. Ross; also Cyrus Townsend Brady's fascinating serial—Sir Henry Morgan—Buccaneer. Four entertaining special articles, The Building of the Panama Canal, by North Overton Messenger; Weber & Fields, "L.L.D." by John-a-Dreams; How to Improve Your Game of Lawn Tennis, by a Veteran player; and Photographing Invisible Ripples, by Herbert C. Fyfe, furnish the more serious articles. Home Notes, giving practical suggestions on household and fashion topics, complete a number which will help thousands of magazine readers to pass many pleasant and profitable hours. The stories and articles are exceptionally well-illustrated.

Mr. Ley Harris, of New York City is home to spend a month's holidays with his father.

Misses Keith and Cassie Hill have gone to Everett to spend part of their holidays, and Miss Eva Hill is visiting relatives at Victoria Harbor.

Some of our citizens were naturally indignant this morning when they found they had arisen an hour before the usual time, the bell having been rung by mistake. Of course it didn't matter to the writer as he was thinking of getting up anyway!

Our profit comes when we buy; yours when we sell. Atkinson and Switzer.

S. S. EXCURSION.

The Methodist Sabbath School yesterday had their annual excursion over the Metropolitan and Toronto railways to Munro Park. Two cars left the church shortly after 8 o'clock, and returned between 9 and 10 p. m. They have often been at that place before, but the children still say there is no place for a picnic equal to Munro Park.

Correct shapes and colors in the latest in ladies' collars at 20 and 25c. Atkinson & Switzer.

NARROW ESCAPE.

Just as the S. S. excursion cars came along yesterday morning from the church several people came out Arnold street and beckoned the cars to stop. Some of them crossed in front of the car, but in doing so Miss Deadman was struck by the car and thrown down. She was not injured, but her escape was due more to good luck than to good management. It seems strange that people will risk their lives by crossing in front of moving cars.

Boots and Shoes—We are showing special bargains in boots and shoes to clear odd lines: Ladies' Oxford shoes, about half price; a snap in girls' slippers and shoes. Naughton Bros., Elgin Mills.

FELL ON LIVE WIRE.

Emile Madore, 19 years of age, a Bell telephone employe, whose home is in Quebec, climbed a pole on Tuesday afternoon in the north end of the village to repair a wire. One of his spurs gave way, and he fell on the Metropolitan feed wire. He received a terrible shock, was badly burned about the head and body, and fell a distance of 25 feet. As both doctors were out of the village the unfortunate man was placed on a car and removed to St. Michael's Hospital. Sympathetic women and others in the immediate vicinity where he fell brought cushions and a stretcher, and tenderly did all they could for the sufferer, but the accident was a severe one, and slight hopes are entertained of his recovery.

AGAIN PROMOTED.

We are pleased to observe by the Winnipeg Telegram that Mr. H. L. Brown, a former High School boy here, has been advanced another step in the employ of the C. P. R. Harry is steadily climbing up the ladder, and is now promoted to the position of Head Ticket Agent for Winnipeg City. The Telegram, in referring to the new appointment, says: "Mr. Brown is well known to the travelling public in the west. He came from Toronto about four years ago, and was recently travelling passenger agent for the same company. He was first employed in the general office at Winnipeg, and also as assistant in the ticket office at Nelson. During the last two years he was travelling passenger agent at Portland, Ore. Mr. Brown has many friends in the travelling fraternity who will be glad to see him at such an important office as the Winnipeg station."

Honey Pot

The annual civic holiday of the thriving town of Elgin Mills was held on Friday last, when an excursion was run under the auspices of the Rocks Football Club to Orange Valley to play a game with the Honey Potters of that place. The excursion was largely attended, business being entirely suspended, and almost the total population, headed by Mayor Clift, enjoying the trip through this most picturesque country.

The excursion party was met by Chief Magistrate Jones, and after the customary salutations and greetings, a procession was formed, headed by the Honey Pot band, and marched to the athletic grounds.

The game was fast and scientific throughout, both teams putting up a very spectacular game, almost of the cyclonic nature. The Honey Potters, however, proved too strong for the Rocks, and succeeded in scoring two goals to the latter's nil.

For the visitors, Hamilton in goal was a star. Naughton, McKenzie and Carson were the pick of the forwards, and Bert Newton at half put up a great exhibition, particularly when Lie Heck-a-Me bodied him into the pond.

Every man on the Potters played well, but Lie Heck-a-Me was the star; he seemed to be every place at once, and always on the ball. Hart, Cook, Blaney and Espey might be mentioned for their clever work on the Potters' forward.

The return game will be played in the near future at Elgin Mills, and a most interesting time may be expected, as the residents of Orange Valley are already giving odds of 2 to 1 on their favorites.

The teams were as follows:
Rocks—Hamilton, Newton, McKenzie, Topper, Naughton, Glass, Carson, C. Topper, H. Naughton, J. Jones, C. Glover.

Honey Potters—Clement, Lie Heck-a-Me, Espey, Bales, Clement, Cook, Cook, Crook, J. Clement, Burns, Burns, Hart.

Mount Pleasant

The three united congregations, Omeme, Lakevale and Mount Pleasant will be called on to decide who of all the ministers that have occupied the pulpits since the Rev. W. Kaminin left for Woodville, as to their choice. The 28th inst. is the day chosen for the vote to be taken by the congregations. The late Principal Grant in speaking of ministers said: "The Principle described as tragic in their awfulness many of the sermons he had been compelled to listen to during the last forty years. There are men who will not work. Preachers should work on the Scriptures, for regarding them the average preacher was terribly ignorant." During the vacancy of the three congregations we have had a variety, but neither a Spurgeon or a Moody has appeared on the scene.

I have not heard of the Presbyterians in Toronto commencing their evangelistic work in the open air as mentioned in the papers a short time ago. There is work for them now, seeing that the Privy Council has said that our laws regarding the sanctity of the Sabbath day is ultra vires. The churches, on account of this decision, will find it necessary to be on the alert.

The hay crop is exceeding all expectations in quantity; other crops are looking well and promise an abundant harvest.

Mr. T. W. McLean is enjoying the cool, refreshing breezes that are found at Mount Pleasant, his parental home.

J. McLean, Esq., has returned home again after visiting at the home of his daughter at Elmlea. He gives a glowing description of the crops and the general prosperity of the community in and around Richmond Hill.

It may be said that Premier Ross has not been the cause of this great prosperity, but it is certainly found all over Ontario during his reign, and for over thirty years past while the Liberals ruled in Ontario our farmers are prospering beyond all description, so that they will soon be lenders of money, instead of borrowers, as many of them have been for days gone by. Interest on loans very low, and money galore.

Miss Pearl McLean, of 152 Huron Street, is enjoying life during the holidays at the home of her grandfather here.

Mrs. Denney of Ottawa, is here on a visit to her father, John Sutcliffe, who is very ill. Mrs. Mawhinney, his daughter, is also here; her home is in the North West. Both of his daughters came to be near him during his illness.

Premier Ross made a splendid speech to the home-comers at the University grounds on the 2nd inst., giving them the freedom of Ontario.

Our Ways Of Business.

If we knew precisely how much customers would pay, and what they would take in goods, a big business could be done in a store 20x20. But the only proper way to manage is to keep a store full of goods, and think well over prices.

We're doing both. We sell nothing but what's honest in quality, fine if we say it is, and strong if we give it credit for that.

We do the best we know to give you the kind of goods you come for. We have all the kinds of Dry Goods that are fit to sell, and plenty of each grade. There are two ways to cheapen prices: Cheapening the goods, or lowering the profit on reliable goods. The latter is our way.

We quote:

Ladies' extra heavy Crash Skirts, with flounce, $1.35.

Ladies' fine ready-to-wear Skirts and Blouse Waists, $1.70 and $2.00.

Men's fine colored Cambric Shirts, regular $1.25 for $1.00.

Men's black Cashmere Hose, special quality, 25c.
