Fancy Clocks
Fancy clocks, as a rule, are not good timekeepers because they are not high enough to allow for a pendulum of the proper length. The Wm. Gilbert Clock Company have quite recently produced a fancy 8-day spring clock, in richly carved wooden case, which is a splendid timekeeper because they are the same height and contain the same length of pendulum as their old model which has stood the test for years. I sell them at $5.00 and guarantee them to keep better time than any other make of spring clocks.
