TINNED MEATS.

There is a good demand in Great Britain for tinned meats but complaints are made that Canadian tinned meats, etc., are often colored next the tin by some acid action. This may be caused by using light grade tin plates for making cans. These plates are rolled after being tinned and so much of the tin being taken off the iron is exposed in spots and a chemical action sets in shortly after the goods are packed. Some British firms who import heavy lines of canned goods from Canada furnish the tin plates from which the cans are made and also have an export representative to supervise the packing of their goods during the season, the result being general satisfaction and increased demand for the brands.

The quality of Canadian beef and mutton is preferred to the imports from other countries, the packs of which countries are often filled with meats from which extracts have been taken to make fluid meat preparations.

Most of Canadian tinned beef and mutton is put up in tins holding not over two pounds of meat. There is a great demand for tins holding six pounds especially for War Office and Naval Stores.

A bill is before the Legislature having for its object a blow at the saw-off system in election trials. It was shown that after the 1898 elections 76 petitions were entered against the return of members and of those only about half a dozen went to trial. The inference, therefore, is that many petitions were entered merely for the purpose of sawing off with some opponent whose seat was attacked. As the law stands at present a deposit of $1,000 has to be made when the protest is entered, but the deposit can be withdrawn before a certain time if the protest be dropped. By the new bill it is proposed that the $1,000 deposit be forfeited should the protest not be followed up. The proposed measure is sound, and can be made effective if the members on both sides of the House look at it in a non-partisan spirit. At present too many protests are entered, and too few go to trial. With a forfeiture of $1000 staring them in the face men will often hesitate before entering a case against a political opponent probably only as a bluff.

Mount Pleasant

The cyclone of the 3rd inst. was the worst blizzard of the season. It carried away part of the roof of Mr. C. Laughlin's barn, and chimneys suffered from its effects.

The storm of the 29th ult. was severe. Mr. A. P. McLean of Peterboro, left for home on Monday evening and arrived at Peterboro on Tuesday evening at 8.45, a distance of about 10 miles. One day and night waiting at Cavanville for a train.

Miss Annie Gill of Penetanguishene, was in Peterboro on business on Saturday, the 5th inst. She expects to return to the frozen regions of the north under the rule of the Stars and Stripes where 40 below zero is reported during the winter. How is it possible for people to exist in such a climate? I am sure many would desire and live in a land where 40 below zero is never known, and where safety exists under the Union Jack.

The pastor of the Methodist Church chose for the subject of his discourse Temptation or Trials. New light is thrown on each of his sermons, and evidence of close study of the scriptures, so that the earnest hearer who is in search of truth finds a store of thought for the coming week.

"Open thou mine eyes that I may see wondrous things out of thy law," was the text chosen by the pastor of the Presbyterian Church, which was very suitable for Bible Sunday. He dwelt principally on the 119th Psalm, giving very definite explanation of it and showed that he had studied his subject very carefully, which many fail to do.

VARICOCELE

CURED TO STAY CURED.

Varicocele impairs vitality and destroys the elements of manhood. Surgical means should not be employed to treat this complaint, as operations always weaken the parts. We daily practice by successful results that Varicocele can be cured without operation.
