CATTLE QUARANTINE.

In a recent speech on the budget delivered in the House of Commons, Mr. Arch. Campbell, M. P. for West York, showed conclusively that the present Government had done much to benefit the farmers in this country. The following paragraph taken from Hansard, relates to the quarantine of Canadian cattle, before and after the Laurier Government came into power:

"In the four and a half years during which that quarantine was in force we only sent to the United States 3,762 head of cattle at a valuation of $52,000, in round numbers. What did this government do? The Hon. Sydney A. Fisher, the practical businesslike intelligent farmer who was placed at the head of the Department of Agriculture, a man who knew what this country demanded, a man who understood what the farmers wanted, a man who realized the responsibility of his position, immediately set himself to work to effect a remedy. With the Hon. John Dryden, Minister of Agriculture in the Province of Ontario, he went to Washington and there, like business men, they brought this matter to the attention of the American government, the state of affairs was explained and by bringing their business ability to bear upon the authorities at Washington, they secured the removal of this quarantine that had proved so disastrous to the interests of the farmers of Canada. What was the result in the next four and a half years? In the next four and a half years after the quarantine was removed instead of sending 3,762 head of cattle to the United States, we sent no less than 349,393 at a valuation not of $52,000, but at a valuation, getting it back in good Canadian money, of no less than $5,329,000. Will any man say that that was not one act which contributed largely to the welfare of the great agricultural classes of this country? Ever since, the exportation to the United States of our cattle has been going on. We have a great many cattle that we cannot send across the ocean. It does not pay to send them 3,000 miles to market. We find that in the great cities in the United States, such as New York and Boston, where there are millions and millions of people, a market for these cattle, and the result is that the farmers of this country sent in, four and a half years after these quarantine restrictions were removed, no less than 349,000 head of cattle at a valuation of $5,329,000."

Canada can get good advertising abroad by publishing to the world the facts that her trade has grown from $239,000,000 in 1896, to $470,000,000 in 1903, and the deposits in the banks from $183,000,000 to $423,000,000. No other country in the world can show the same rate of growth in the same period.

"Keep both hands on the Union 'Jack,' are said to have been Lord Dundonald's closing words at Montreal. They might have been omitted. They were unnecessary, and they savor of what is cheap and theatrical. The Union Jack is not involved in the present controversy. The chief danger to the Union Jack in this country is from political demagogues who use the flag either to screen their own rascalities or to stir up the prejudices of the unthinking. —Woodstock Express.

The proceedings in the House of Commons a few days ago were pleasantly varied by the presentation of a resolution expressive of the esteem in which Lord and Lady Minto are held, and expressing regret at the necessity of their early departure from Canada. The address was moved by Sir Wilfred Laurier in one of his charmingly graceful speeches, and seconded by Mr. R. L. Borden in an address felicitiously expressed and no less warm in its appreciation of the Governor General.

The export trade for Canadian and American fall apples will be somewhat restricted, but owing to the better quality of our apples they will still have the preference in the European markets. There will be the necessity, however, of rigidly excluding all second quality fruit. Fall fruit of first-class quality will in all probability bring a fair price, but it is almost certain that second quality fruit will not bring much, if anything, over the cost of marketing. The supply of good winter stock of apples suitable for the British market during the months of January, February and March is not excessive, and it seems reasonable to expect that the demand will be almost equal to that of last year.

We Are Losing Money

on Lawn Mowers at the prices at which we are clearing them out just now.

The Reason is this: we have too many on hand—we need the warehouse space they occupy and would rather sell them at a loss now than carry them over till next season.

Fully Warranted is every machine. They are made by one of the best makers and are thoroughly reliable.

A Dollar off the price of each size is the reduction we have made, as follows: 12 inch cut, reg. $3 50, for $2.50; 14 inch cut, reg. $3.75, for $2.75; 16 inch cut, reg. $4.00, for $3.00.
