Lightning ran along a Metropolitan wire shortly after 12 o'clock yesterday noon and burned the lights out opposite the Waiting Room. BOND LAKE.

Last Saturday afternoon and evening were pleasantly spent at this place, when attractive programmes were given by the Royal Grenadier Guards Band, assisted by several noted musical artists. The many selections played by the band were thoroughly enjoyed, probably none more than "Albion," in which are introduced catchy English, Irish and Scotch airs. The 10th Royal Quartette sang well, and were heartily encored. The Armitage sisters delighted the pleasure seekers in the sailor's hornpipe, the Irish jig and Scottish dances. The entertainment in the evening concluded with an exhibition of moving pictures. There was a large crowd of visitors, especially in the evening.

A SOLDIER'S HOME.

Saturday's illustrated Globe contained a photograph of the house in Richmond Hill from which Colonel Moodie rode, on the night of the 4th of December, 1837 to meet his death by a rebel shot, near the old Montgomery tavern. It was built in 1820, and, though a wooden building, is still practically the same in appearance as it was then. This historic structure is at present occupied by Messrs. W. & J. Nicol.

ICE CREAM SOCIAL.

There was a very good attendance at the Ice Cream Social held in Mr. Amos Wright's lawn Friday evening in aid of the Epworth League, the receipts being something over $19.00. No nicer spot could have been selected for the social. The grounds are large, and the stately trees and small shrubs added to the effect of the decorations which consisted of bunting, Chinese lanterns, etc. The enjoyable program included selections from Miss M. E. Harrison's gramophone, songs by Miss Lorine Wright, song by Mr. Douglas Derry, a piano solo by Miss Millie Trench and recitations by Miss M. E. McDonald, Toronto.
