RICHMOND HILL, October 6, 1904

CANADA'S PROGRESS.

A pamphlet has been issued showing the progress that Canada has made under the Liberal Government. The electors are asked to remember that percentage of taxation has been reduced thirteen per cent.

That during the eight years' administration the public debt has not increased one dollar, whereas during the eighteen years the Conservatives were in power they increased the debt by the sum of $118,000,000.

That from 1896 to 1903, under the Liberal Government, the trade of Canada has increased from $239,025,360 to $467,064,685.

That in the eighteen years of Conservative rule this trade increased only $66,000,000, and that in the seven years of Liberal rule it increased $228,000,000.

That the exports of Canada increased during the Conservative regime by only forty-two million dollars, and that they increased during the Liberal regime by one hundred and four million dollars.

That the country has been so prosperous under the Liberals that the assets of banks increased in the seven years of Liberal rule by $325,862,666, and increased during the eighteen years of Conservative rule by only $140,649,622.

That the Liberal Government found a deficit of $781,142 in the Post Office Department, and have turned this deficit into a surplus of $292,702, while at the same time reducing the domestic postage rate from three cents to two cents, inaugurating penny postage to Britain, and greatly increasing the number of post offices and the pay of country postmasters.

The above are only a few of the points the electors are asked not to forget.

THE CONTEST.

Announcement was made in the daily papers Friday morning that Parliament was dissolved, and that the General Elections would be held on Thursday, the 3rd of November. The relative strength of the two political parties, therefore, will be known four weeks from to-day. There is no reason why the contest should be bitter. Both leaders are gentlemen, and command the respect of both Liberals and Conservatives alike. The government will stand or fall on its own merits, and as its record has been wonderfully good there is every reason to think that it will win by a large majority. Before the Liberals assumed control of affairs in 1896 there was strife, jealousy and distrust among classes and creeds, but this has all disappeared, and there is industrial development and prosperity in every part of the Dominion.

When Sir Wilfrid Laurier was called upon in 1896 to form a government he had no difficulty in surrounding himself with strong supporters. Some changes have since been made, but fortunately the Premier has always been able to fill any vacancies that might occur with men of ability and worth. The latest addition, that of Mr. A. B. Aylesworth who enters the cabinet without portfolio, will be most popular with all classes of people. Mr. Aylesworth possesses those qualities which are essential in a business career, and the appointment of no other gentleman to a seat in the Dominion cabinet would give greater satisfaction at the present time.

Desperate fighting still goes on in the neighborhood of Port Arthur, and the loss of life is terrible. The Japs have distinguished themselves by invincible courage, and the Russians entrenched behind the fortifications have also shown the most stubborn resistance. The besiegers are men who do not know what failure means, and the besieged realize that the military honor of their country is in their keeping. The fortress is doomed to fall, but the great sacrifice of life may yet be appalling before the final struggle. Is it not surprising that such butchery can be carried on in the boasted light of the 20th century?

Edgely CIDER & JELLY MILL

Will run on custom work during September three days only, namely:—Tuesday, Sept. 20 and Monday and Tuesday, 26 and 27 of the last week, and will run first four days of each week during October and November up to and including Nov. 17, 1904. As is well known we make raw cider, boiled cider, apple butter and jelly all from your own apples while you wait. Cider can be boiled to any thickness. Jelly apples should be well ripened and two-thirds sweet. Parties wishing apple butter should keep their peeling apples separate from the cider apples. We expect to buy a quantity of cider apples (from customers only.) As we have now, after many improvements, a capacity of about 3,000 gals. of cider boiled into jelly and apple butter, per day, we hope to give our customers quicker work and better satisfaction than ever. Customers are respectfully requested to do business on the above mentioned days as we live a distance from the factory and customers coming any other day would find it very inconvenient. As will be noticed, the business has changed hands, however, we still intend to take the best of care to please every customer, as the senior member of the present firm is H. Winger, formerly of Winger Bros. So we hope to see all our old customers back again this season as usual, with as many more as possible. Thanking the general public for past favors, we solicit a continuance of the same in the future.
