NOTICE THIS FACT.

DIED ON MONEY.

The old gentleman was 75 years of age, and was confined to his bed two weeks previous to his death. Interment took place in the Dunkard cemetery, Gormley. His wife survives him, also his only child, Mrs. Elliott.

Just to hand at Atkinson & Switzer's a splendid lot of fancy flannelette made in Britain, direct import. Special value.

We can say of our men's stiff and soft felt hats, they wear just as well as they look. Atkinson & Switzer.

NOVEMBER SUCCESS.

The opening page of the November "Success" brings to mind the fact that Thanksgiving is once more rolling round, and that we must prepare for the festive turkey. Strickland W. Gillilan, the president of the American Humanists, contributes a poem to this page in "Success" which contains a certain delicate humor that will put all who read it in good spirits. It leads on to better things in the magazine, among which we find an article entitled "The Presidency," analyzing the principal presidential candidates, by Alfred Henry Lewis whose campaign writings have been very noticeable this year.

We have the leading breakfast foods in stock:—Orange Meat, Force, Shredded Wheat Biscuit, Triscuit, Cream of Wheat, Malt Breakfast Food, Grape Nuts, Quaker Oats, Banner Oats, Tilson's Oats, etc. Atkinson & Switzer.

THE CHRISTMAS GLOBE.

The Christmas Globe will be issued about the usual time. It will include four supplementary plates, and promises to be an excellent number. Mr. Norman Duncan, the popular young Canadian author, has contributed one of his splendid stories, and in addition to this there will be several other stories, including the winners in the Christmas Globe Prize Competition, and several original articles and poems written specially for this number. In addition to the numerous illustrations in black and white, there will be eight full pages in four colors, making this number the richest in illustration ever published in Canada. The price will be 50 cents, the same as last year. As only a limited number will be printed those who wish one or more copies should leave their orders at once. For several years past the full issue of Christmas Globes has been disposed of in a day or two after they were put on the market. Orders taken at THE LIBERAL Office.

FINED $20.

David Roberts was charged in the Police Court at Toronto Junction, by Detective Greer with running a game of chance at the Woodbridge Fair, and had to pay a fine of $20 and costs, in addition to the confiscation of his outfit. The method adopted by Roberts was to pin bank notes to the wall and allow fortune-seeking youths to throw rings over the pins. The detective claimed that the rings could not go over the pins. For this reason it is somewhat difficult to see how it was a game of chance. But there it was certainly a good chance for those who played the game to lose their money.

Wethley's Mince Meat 10c., Pure Corn Starch 8c. lb., Shifala Shoe Polish 10c., Taylor's Shaving Soap 5c., Pure Lard 11c. Atkinson & Switzer.

CANADIAN MAGAZINE.

Like a breath of peace and tranquillity is the November Canadian Magazine which shows no evidence of the political turmoil that is disturbing the country. The first article deals with "The Argentine Gaucho," a peculiar character who lives on the ranches and prairies of our great South American competitor in wheat growing. The illustrations for this article are exceptionally fine. A. Theodore Waters, a Canadian who has been a self-supporting missionary in British Tongaland, tells how he worked his way to South Africa via London, how he studied the Zulu language and how he fared there in wartime. There are some rare photographs with this article. The editor gives his impressions of Canada's display at St. Louis, and they certainly are not in harmony with the average opinion of other writers. This too is illustrated profusely. There is a short history of the Grenadier Guards, the oldest regiment in the British Army, with some more excellent illustrations. The Canadian Celebrity of the month is Mr. Robert Meighen, another man who has carved his way to prominence by native courage and ability. There are splendid portraits of Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Mr. Borden, of Earl Gray and Lady Gray, and a new portrait of Marshall Saunders. The stories are worthy of the number.

We offer to make ~~30~~ your measure suits that fit, that are shapely, that have "tone," not one detail neglected, everything guaranteed, and our ambition is to measure you for a nice fall suit. Atkinson & Switzer.

Our made-to-measure suits are so constructed that they hang easily and gracefully, the coat fits around the neck, across and on top of the shoulders and under the arms. Let us measure you for a fine fall suit. Atkinson & Switzer.
