

SUFFERED TORTURE FOR FOUR YEARS

THEN DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS CURED WM. DOEG'S RHEUMATISM.

He Was so Bad That He Could Not Lie Down, But Had to Sit Night and Day in a Chair.

Sunbridge, Ont., Nov. 7.—(Special) —M. William Doeg, of this place, now a hale, hearty man, tells of his almost miraculous cure of Rheumatism by using Dodd's Kidney Pills.

"For four years I suffered excruciating torture," says Mr. Doeg, "I was scarcely an hour free from pain. I could not lie down to take rest, but had to sit night and day in a chair."

"I was treated for Rheumatism by several doctors and also tried several medicines without receiving any benefit. Almost in despair I feared I never again would be free from pain. Then I read of some remarkable cures by Dodd's Kidney Pills. I procured a box and soon found they were doing me good and before I had finished the second box I was entirely free from pain and a new man."

Dodd's Kidney Pills always cure Rheumatism by putting the Kidneys in shape to take the cause—Uric Acid—out of the blood.

GREAT HEAT FROM SUN.

Iron Melted by Magnified Rays of Sunlight.

The pyroliophor, or sun machine, the invention of Father M. A. G. Himalaya, a young Portuguese priest, has succeeded at the World's Fair in generating more than seven thousand degrees of heat (Fahrenheit).

The sun machine was brought by the inventor and Captain Francisco Xavier de Brito, of the Royal Artillery of Portugal, from Lisbon to St. Louis in April. For more than five months it has been in process of reconstruction on the hill back of the Fish, Game and Forestry Building.

In the presence of Viscomte d'Alte, the Portuguese Ambassador and Commissioner-General to the Exposition, Father Himalaya made his first experiment on Tuesday. Despite the sun was partly hidden by a fog, more than 7,000 degrees of Fahrenheit heat were obtained. Iron melted and magnesia was about to melt, when the sun was suddenly obscured by clouds. Father Himalaya is more than satisfied with the results. He sees a way clear to applying the machine to industrial account.

Aside from many interesting scientific deductions which subsequent daily experiments confirmed, Father Himalaya made the following new discoveries:—

First—The heat of the sun is absolutely of electric origin.

Second—The intensity of the rays that produce the solar radiation is very much higher than that of the electric arc.

Third—The sun machine discloses from whence comes the electric energy which holds between the heat of the sun and the stars.

Fifth—It gives a glimpse of a way to directly transfer the rays of the sun into electric energy.

This is the fourth sun machine Father Himalaya has erected. The first three were built at Lisbon and Paris.

BY PROXY.

What the Baby Needed.

I suffered from nervousness and headache until one day about a year ago it suddenly occurred to me what a great coffee drinker I was and I thought maybe this might have something to do with my trouble, so I shifted to tea for awhile, but was not better, if anything, worse.

"At that time I had a baby four months old that we had to feed on the bottle, until an old lady friend told me to try Postum Food Coffee. Three months ago I commenced using Postum, leaving off the tea and coffee, and not only have my headaches and nervous troubles entirely disappeared, but since then I have been giving plenty of nurse for my baby and have a large, healthy child now."

"I have no desire to drink anything but Postum and know it has benefited my children, and I hope all who have children will try Postum and find out for themselves what a really wonderful food drink it is." Name given by Pestum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

Both tea and coffee contain quantities of a poisonous drug called Caffeine that directly affects the heart, kidneys, stomach and nerves. Postum is made from cereals only, scientifically blended to get the coffee flavor. Ten days trial of Postum in place of tea or coffee will show a health secret worth more than a gold mine. There's a reason. Get the book, "The Road to Wellville," in each package.

MURDEROUS MANOEUVRES.

Sham Fights Where Men Have Been Killed.

In May of last year, during the military manoeuvres held at Grosswarden, Germany, two soldiers were killed by bullets, though only blank ammunition had been served out; while a similar incident took place at Bodgoraz, in September, 1900, when a large field-piece exploded, killing four men, and wounding eighteen mortally.

The number of fatal accidents in the Austrian manoeuvres that have occurred through the use of an imitation bullet, made of twisted red-and-grey blotting-paper, that can inflict, even when propelled by a small charge of powder, a very ugly wound when fired at close quarters, must be considerable; but the actual figures, it is scarcely necessary to mention, are not forthcoming.

In addition to twenty-eight men in one regiment, who died from exhaustion during the march from Tilisch to Arad, in 1900, and the explosion of a shrapnel shell during the field-artillery manoeuvres at Zborow, in Galicia, in the presence of General Prince Windischgratz, the following year, when two sergeants were killed, and a lieutenant and six gunners seriously injured, further instances could be recalled of the perils of the Austrian manoeuvres—perils that had their counterpart during the evolutions of the French 92nd Infantry Regiment, at Clermont Ferrand, last year, when far more ball-cartridges were used than was desirable.

More dangerous, perhaps, than bullets are the cavalry charges that almost invariably form a striking feature of foreign military evolutions. When, in the autumn of 1900, two Belgian regiments—the 2nd Lancers and the 1st Guides—hurled themselves at each other at Farcennes, and the "halt" was not sounded in time, the peaceful evolution bore every appearance of a most warlike encounter.

A large number of men were unhorsed, and the ambulance officers had to attend to a great number of broken arms, and ribs. One man, indeed, was removed with a ghastly lance-wound in the forehead. Fortunately, as far as this country is concerned, no similar occurrence has happened; the nearest approach to a terrible accident happening in the Long Valley, at Aldershot, in 1900, when, owing to the blinding dust, more than one section of the Queen's Bays fell into a ditch, and a number of casualties ensued.

A very similar incident to that happening in Belgium occurred at Nancy, in 1897, when several squadrons of Hussars came into collision, and, in addition to dozens of the troopers who were knocked over, one man was killed, another had his skull fractured, and several had legs or arms broken; but these cavalry blunders were as nothing when compared to two murderous charges perpetrated in the German manoeuvres of 1897, and the Austrian manoeuvres of the following year.

On the first-mentioned occasion 10,000 troopers, led, it is said, by the Kaiser himself, descended upon the opposing infantry and artillerymen with so great an impetus that when the bugle call of "Halt" sounded fourteen dead horses and nine badly wounded men were picked up on the field.

SCIENTIFIC TRIUMPH.

The recent discovery of eucaïne, a powerful anaesthetic, is looked upon as another scientific triumph. It will make possible operations which might not otherwise take place owing to heart weakness, for the patient remains conscious during its use, although, of course, those parts of the body to which it is applied are insensible to pain. It will also give the surgeon more time for his work, and do away with certain people's conscientious objections to anaesthetics.

Although it can be used for amputations, it will probably be most useful for treatment of the thyroid glands. In such operations the use of chloroform is often impracticable. Eucaïne is injected by a hypodermic needle under the skin at the place where the incision is to be made. After a few moments the skin may be cut without the patient feeling anything. As different and deeper parts are exposed, the drug is dropped at intervals of a few minutes.

To the observer the operation appears similar to those of the days before chloroform, as the patient is conscious, and now and again makes some remark. The eyes are covered with a cloth to minimize nervousness and the patient is strapped to the operating-table to prevent involuntary movements.

He is conscious, but he cannot feel.

A BIRDLESS WORLD.

A naturalist says that if the world were to become birdless man could not inhabit it after nine years' time. In spite of all the sprays and poisons that could be manufactured for the destruction of insects such pests would simply eat up orchards and crops.

Twitchy Muscles and Sleeplessness.—The hopeless heart sickness that settles on a man or woman whose nerves are shattered by disease can best be placed in contrast with a patient who has been in the "depths" and has been dragged from them by South American Nerve. REMARKABLE CHAPEL.

There is a Baptist chapel in Santa Rosa, California, holding 200 persons, which is built entirely of timber sawed out of a single redwood tree. Timbers, weather-boarding, and inner lining are all of wood, there being no plaster, bricks, or mortar about it. The roofing, too, is made of shingles sawed from the same tree, and after it was all finished there were 60,000 shingles left. A sister tree to the above furnished employment for two years to two hard-working men, who reduced it to shingles.

Minard's Liniment Cures Colds, etc.

Dead men's shoes seldom fit those who are waiting for them.

Manly Strength and Womanly Beauty depend on purity of the blood, and much of that purity depends on perfect kidney filtering. If these organs are diseased and will not perform their functions, man will seek in vain for strength and woman for beauty. South American Kidney Cure drives out all impurities through the body's "filters"—repairs weak spots.—46

SENTENCE SERMONS.

Happiness is health of heart. Short prayers bring quick returns. Little sins never stay small. A wrong is always worth forgetting.

The shallow head soon gets sore. Heavenly mindedness is not earthly blindness.

The money must be measured by the man. Time knows nothing of a reverse lever.

A creed makes a good chart but a poor track. No amount of polish can make a pearl out of a pebble.

The love that is never wasted soon withers. Prayer is only a pillow at night when it has been an endeavor all day.

If the fool would follow up his folly he would soon forsake it. The wind does not whistle through the barn that is full of wheat.

The man who stands on his head always thinks he is holding up the world.

It is always easier to fight the dead sins of yesterday than to face the living ones of to-day.

A man cannot have his interest in sin and keep his principle clean. The lights of the world are doing their shining before mirrors.

Sanctification is a good deal more than feeling sore on the rest of creation. If you are doing no good to others you are doing much harm to yourself.

BUSY MONKS.

The most energetic and active monks in the world are those of the Solovetski Monastery, near Archangel, in Russia. The monastery is situated on a desolate island west of Archangel, over which the abbot rules practically as a despotic monarch. The monks do everything for themselves. They have made magnificent roads, built churches, houses, and other buildings, and even constructed a dockyard, where they build their own steam and sailing vessels. The monastery is a very large one, and the working force of the monks numbers 200 or 300. They are farmers and manufacturers, turning out a great deal of stuff, which they sell in the markets of Archangel for the benefit of the poor and of their order. Large numbers of Russian pilgrims visit the island, whether they are conveyed from the mainland in a small steamer built and sailed by the monks. The voyage takes about twelve hours, and the monks give the pilgrims free lodging and feed them sumptuously on fish caught by themselves.

H.B.K. BRAND BIG SHIRT

Made big enough for a big man to work in with comfort. Has more material in it than any other brand of shirt in Canada. Made on the H.B.K. scale it requires 39½ to 42 yards per dozen, whereas common shirts have only 32 to 33 yards.

That's the reason why the H.B.K. "Big" Shirt never chafes the armpits, is never tight at the neck or wristbands, is always loose, full and comfortable and wears well.

Each shirt bears a tiny book that tells the whole history of the "Big" Shirt, and also contains a notarial declaration that the H.B.K. "Big" Shirt contains 39½ to 42 yards of material per dozen.

Sold at all dealers but only with this brand:—
