If the large boys who took the pumpkins from the little girls on hallow'en would stop to think, they would come to the conclusion that it was a selfish act on their part. Large boys and young men should endeavor to make children happy in their innocent amusements—not to make them unhappy.

Anna Eva Fay has been the chief attraction in Toronto the past week. That talented lady is surprising people by the clever answers she gives to many questions. HALLOWEEN CAPERS. Some people in this village appear to think that one hotel here is all that is required, and are moving to have one of our public places closed. The boys on hallow'en apparently thought we should have one more than we have at present. On Monday night a bar that had done service on special occasions here was erected in front of the Masonic Hall, and on it placed about fifty bottles, with a beer keg in the centre. A sign was erected bearing the words, "The New Method Hotel, A. W. Brown, Proprietor." The bar was fitted up quite up-to-date, and nothing seemed missing in the outfit but the bar-tender.

BEEF ASSOCIATION.

The Town Line Beef Association held its annual meeting at the home of Mr. Wm. Walkington town line between Vaughan and King, on Tuesday evening. The affairs of the association were found to be in a very satisfactory condition. It has always been the aim of the members to produce beef of the best quality, and this year they were eminently successful, the average weight of the beasts killed being 551 lbs. The old officers were re-elected for another year, Mr. Alex. Cameron entering upon his 15th term of office. When the business affairs of the association had been duly attended to the members and their guests repaired to the spacious dining room where a sumptuous repast had been provided by the good wives of the members. After dinner music, recitations and speeches were indulged in until the wee sma' hours of the morning, and a most enjoyable time spent together. Mr. Wm. Walkington made a most acceptable chairman, and conducted a most interesting program. Among the speakers of the evening were Councillor James Cameron, Rev. W. G. Back, Mr. Riddell, N. W. Malloy and the president, in fact every member of the beef association responded to the call. The burden of the speeches was entire satisfaction in the beef ring, prophetic of days to come. In fact the members feel they are not surpassed by any beef ring in the province. If any beef ring disputes this point they would like to hear from them. During the evening Mr. Hadwin jr., contributed a recitation, and Miss Campbell furnished musical selections. The members and their wives and guests separated after singing "God Save the King."

PRESENTATION.

When it became known a couple of weeks ago that the Dominion House was to change hands, and that the Ellston family were about to remove from this place, members of the hockey club, curling club and other clubs with which the Ellston brothers had been connected, together with other friends, decided to show in a tangible manner their appreciation of the services performed in connection with various sports. A committee was formed, and the subscribers met at the Dominion House Tuesday evening and presented Charles and John Ellston each with a gold locket beautifully engraved and appropriately inscribed. After a short musical program, Mr. J. W. Osborne was called to the chair, and in a neat speech stated the object of the gathering, adding a few words of commendation to the genial hosts. He then called upon Mr. H. A. Nicholls to make the presentation. Mr. Nicholls was eloquent in his remarks. He pointed out, as all present knew, that the sporting fraternity are losing able helpers in the persons of C. H. and J. Ellston. During the ten years they have resided here they have always taken a great interest in furthering sports of all kinds. In hockey and lacrosse much of the success of past years was due to the able management of the former, and the latter had always been an enthusiastic curler. In making the presentation Mr. Nicholls, on behalf of those present, referred to the kindness of heart, the cheerful, happy disposition of the recipients, and expressed a hope that success would follow every member of the family. He hoped that the little gifts would always be a reminder of the good feeling which existed, and the happy days spent together. Each of the brothers made a feeling and appropriate reply. No such tokens were necessary to assure themselves of the kindly feelings between themselves and those assembled, nevertheless they were pleased to accept the marks of esteem, and would always value and prize the gifts presented. After again thanking the donors for their remembrance all those present were invited to return with a number of other friends the following evening to a complimentary farewell supper.
