RICHMOND HILL, December 15, 1904

Mr. J. W. St. John, ex-M.P.P. for West York, who occupied the chair at the meeting in Massey Hall Sunday, in connection with the Canadian Temperance League, spoke of the growing temperance sentiment in Ontario. It was the duty of Governments, said he, to safeguard the citizen, and every effort that tended to minimize an evil made for the safety of the people. "To the extent that you restrict the liquor traffic," said Mr. St. John, "you open avenues for increased freedom among the people. Oh, for the day to come—and let it be soon—when we will safeguard our youth against the avenues to sin—close the door of the liquor traffic."

We have no doubt Mr. St. John was sincere in uttering the above words, but had he said half as much in the recent Conservative Conference in Toronto, he would have proved himself to be a man possessing backbone. When the subject of temperance was touched upon in the conference, Mr. St. John opened not his mouth. The door of the liquor traffic will never be closed, nor will prohibition be secured by speeches made in Massey Hall on Sunday afternoons.

The Mail of Monday repeats its opinion expressed on a previous occasion that "every man who becomes a candidate for the Ross Government accepts the responsibility for the political crimes, and the nominee cannot be dissociated from the offences."

To what crimes and offences does The Mail refer? Mr. Gamey has gone so far as to charge contemplated murder against the Ross Government. The Mail would like to associate the members of the Government with the recent ballot box frauds at Belleville, but where is the ground for such a charge? The Government and all honest Liberals deplore the rascality, and are prepared to do what they can in punishing the perpetrators of the crimes. There has been no charge of corruption proven against Mr. Ross or his associates. If empty charges and coarse abuse would stand for sound reasoning and argument, the names of the members of the Government would have been wiped off the slate long ago. But no charge of corruption has been proven against them.

The Toronto Star of Tuesday contained an article in which it was stated that the Dominion Alliance would probably nominate candidates for the legislature at the coming elections. A member stated that if Mr. Whitney wins in the coming contest the Alliance will ask him to grant prohibition. This looks like folly, as Mr. Whitney has publicly stated that he has no use for prohibition.

The Mail and Empire of Monday says: "The first task that will engage the attention of the Prime Minister upon his return to the capital will be the selection of a speaker. The general impression is that the choice for speaker of the Commons will fall upon Mr. A. Campbell." If Sir Wilfrid selects the member for Centre York for the position of speaker, there is every reason to believe the latter will fill the position with grace, dignity and honor.

The Ontario House has been dissolved by the Lieut. Governor, and elections will be held on the 25th of January.

Mr. John Richardson, who has been local member for East York for the past ten years, has been appointed Clerk of the County Court for the County of York. Mr. Richardson has been a faithful member of the House, and his geniality and honesty has made him a favorite with both sides of politics. He has never been noted for making long speeches in the Legislature, but his previous municipal training as township councillor, county councillor and warden made him one of the most valuable members of the various committees on which he worked. Mr. Richardson has not enjoyed the best of health for a number of years past, but we sincerely hope he may long be spared to fill the position to which he has recently been appointed.

The Mail of yesterday contained the following among its editorial notes:—

"Mr. Ross has begun his campaign in the Globe by sneers at Mr. Whitney. Such tactics reveal the exact measure of the man who resorts to them. They show that the Premier is a dwarf among men."

Come now, Mr. Mail, tell your readers what Mr. Ross has said in a sneering way about Mr. Whitney that shows him to be a dwarf among men. Surely you do not take your readers for a lot of blockheads who swallow everything they see in the newspapers. Give Mr. Ross' exact words and let people judge for themselves. You often talk of British fair play, but we fail to see any trace of it in your remarks as quoted above.

Real Bargains

Bargains are generally goods sold at a reduction in price on account of being out of date, or of poor quality; but that is not the case here.

In silverware I can afford to give real bargains in up-to-date goods of first quality, having purchased a traveller's sample line. The fact that they were chosen for samples is sufficient proof of their quality and finish. These goods are excellent choice for Christmas buyers who want good silverware.
