RICHMOND HILL, December 29, 1904

Mr. Walter Scott of Victoria Square, Markham Township, who received the unanimous nomination of the Liberals of East York yesterday, is a strong candidate. He was nominated by Mr. Lyman Kennedy, an ex-reeve of Scarboro, and seconded by Mr. A. J. Reynolds, secretary of the Farmers' Institute, and is recognized as a man of excellent parts. He served for a number of years in the Markham township council, and has filled many offices of trust with much credit. Though always a thorough Liberal he has never been looked upon as an extremist, and has enjoyed the respect of both political parties. He is in the prime of life, and we bespeak for him a strong support.

CHEAP RATES.

The passenger traffic on the Metropolitan branch of the Toronto and York Radial Railway was very heavy during the Christmas holidays. This was doubtless due in a measure to the manager, Mr. W. H. Moore, advertising by posters that there would be cheap rates. Tickets were sold at single fare, good to the 2nd of January, between points where the fare is 30 cents or over. The manager is to be commended for having taken the public into his confidence, and giving the above information, but he might have gone a step further and made it known that late cars would be run Christmas eve. However, the travelling public were pleased to learn before getting in the cars what the rates would be. It is one thing to have special fares but quite another thing to let the public know in proper time.

THE SECRET IS OUT.

The Family Herald and Weekly Star has recently hinted that there might possibly be a surprise for its readers in the near future, and we see in this week's issue they have carried out the hint. Ralph Connor, the author of "The Man from Glengarry," has issued several startling stories, but the greatest of all is his thrilling work entitled "The Prospector." Only the wealthiest magazines of England and the United States with their millions of readers have heretofore been able to pay the price to secure serial rights of such stories, and it is indeed a surprise to learn that the Family Herald has secured exclusive Canadian rights of "The Prospector" as a Christmas gift to its readers. Family Herald readers may well feel proud of their weekly visitor, for they certainly are in for a big dollar's worth this season.

Things You Need Now.

A Good Axe

We have a large range of Axes, prices go down as low as Fifty Cents, but there is no economy in buying a low priced axe. It's our aim to sell you one of which you'll say "that is the best axe I ever used." Such is our Dollar Axe.

The light that faileth not

Is that given by our "Superior Lanterns," a brilliant, steady flame, which will not be extinguished by the strongest wind. The lantern we sell is good 75c. value, but we cut the price to Sixty-five Cents.

Strong Cattle Chains.

When it comes right down to good, strong dependable Cattle Chains there is none to excel the kind we sell. A complete range of sizes to suit the bull or the calf.

Our Prices are Right.

Warm and Windproof

Are our Horse Blankets. We have them in various weights, sizes and patterns, for street and stable use. Our buying in great quantities direct from the largest makers in Canada enables us to sell to you at prices the average dealer would have to pay to the wholesale man.
