

ANOTHER VOICE ON THE PRAIRIES

TELLS OF DIABETES CURED BY DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS.

W. G. Bartleman Could Get No Relief Till He Tried the Great Canadian Kidney Remedy.

Wapella, Assa., N. W. T. July 17—(Special).—This thriving town furnishes one of the most remarkable cures of Kidney Disease that has ever been reported on the prairies. Mr. Wm. G. Bartleman, a well-known farmer, is the man cured and he makes the following statement:—

"I had Kidney Trouble and it developed into Diabetes. I went to the doctor but his treatment was of no use whatever to me. I began to take Dodd's Kidney Pills in December, 1902. I took them all winter and summer while I was unable to work my farm. I took twelve boxes in all and in August I was able to work.

"Now I am quite strong. I worked all winter without pains in my back or any part of my body. Dodd's Kidney Pills cured me."

If the Kidney Disease is of long standing it may take time to cure it. But Dodd's Kidney Pills will do it.

OYAMA, THE SILENT.

Commander of Japanese Army Who Wastes No Words.

In Moscow Military Hospital at present are 150 wounded Japanese soldiers, nearly all of whom fell into Russian hands during the early stage of the battle of Mukden.

A correspondent who has interviewed one through the medium of an interpreter obtained the following information about Field Marshal Oyama:

"Unlike General Kuroki, who always speaks encouragingly to his officers before a battle, our Commander-in-Chief says nothing. Nor does he say much after a victory. At the battle of the Shaho a despatch rider named Hiroto did a brave act which was contrary to the instructions he received. The Field Marshal sent for him, questioned him, and sent him away without praise or blame. Hiroto thought the Commander-in-Chief's silence meant that he was about to order some punishment and killed himself with his bayonet. Almost before he was dead a staff officer rode up with a hundred yen in money, which Marshal Oyama had sent the suicide in reward for his courage. The reward arrived too late.

"At the battle of Liaoyang the Marshal was slightly wounded in the left arm. He said nothing about it, and all the soldiers who knew also kept silence, fearing that if they spoke the news would spread in an exaggerated form and cause depression in the army.

"The Field Marshal is the most religious man in the whole army, and often complained that many officers when learning European methods also acquired European tendencies to unbelief. He believes in all the Japanese gods, and has a temple at his house in Tokio."

CHANGED HUSBAND.

Wife Made Wise Change in Food.

Change of diet is the only way to really cure stomach and bowel trouble.

A woman says: "My husband had dyspepsia when we were married and had suffered from it for several years. It was almost impossible to find anything he could eat without bad results.

"I thought this was largely due to the use of coffee and persuaded him to discontinue it. He did so, and began to drink Postum Food Coffee. The change did him good from the beginning, his digestion improved; he suffered much less from his nervousness, and when he added Grape-Nuts food to his diet he was soon entirely cured.

"My friend, Mrs. ———, of Vicksburg, (my former home) had become a nervous wreck also from dyspepsia. Medicines had no effect, neither did travel help her. On my last visit home, some months ago, I persuaded her to use Grape-Nuts food. She was in despair, and consented. She stuck to it until it restored her health so completely that she is now the most enthusiastic friend of Grape-Nuts that I ever knew. She eats it with cream or dry, just as it comes from the package—keeps it in her room and eats it whenever she feels like it.

"I began eating Grape-Nuts food, myself, when my baby was two months old, and I don't know what I should have done without it. My appetite was gone, I was weak and nervous and afforded but very little nourishment for the child. The Grape-Nuts food, of which I soon grew very fond, speedily set all this right again, and the baby grew healthy, rosy and beautiful as a mother could wish. He is two years old now and eats Grape-Nuts food himself. I wish every tired young mother knew of the good that Grape Nuts would do her."

BRIDEGROOM YAWNED.

Hesitated at Altar and Got a Thrashing From Bride.

A young Belgian, named Deneck, who repented a promise to marry at the wedding ceremony was about to be performed, now lies in a hospital in a battered condition, telephoning the Paris correspondent of the London Express.

He was engaged to Celeste Voisin, the pretty daughter of a Bethune peasant, and the wedding was fixed at the mayor's office. Relatives and guests were assembled, and the pair stood side by side before the mayor. When, however, the mayor was about to pronounce the words which would have made them man and wife Deneck yawned. The mayor had never seen a would-be-bridegroom yawn, and he stopped the service.

Deneck yawned again, and angry whispers were heard among the relatives. Then Deneck relieved the tension.

"I have thought better of it," he said, making ready to leave. "And I do not think I want to marry at all."

But he had reckoned without the Voisin family. Celeste rushed after him, and smote him in the ear with all the force of her dimpled fists. Her three brothers followed suit and pummeled the recalcitrant lover until he cried for mercy, and pleaded to be allowed to marry the girl.

Finally he was rescued by the mayor and his clerk and removed to the hospital. He is now taking proceedings against the Voisin family.

A lady writes: "I was enabled to remove the corns, root and branch, by the use of Holloway's Corn Cure." Others who have tried it have the same experience.

A wise barber asks the very young man if he wants a shave and the very old man if he wants a haircut.

"My Physician Told Me I Must Die, but South American Kidney Cure cured me of that awful Bright's Disease." This is a sentence from a letter of a well-known business man in a western town who through overwork and worry had contracted this kidney pestilence. It will relieve instantly and cure all kidney diseases.—102

Nearly all infants are more or less subject to diarrhoea and such complaints while teething and as this period of their lives is the most critical, mothers should not be without a bottle of Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Dysentery Cordial. This medicine is a specific for such complaints and is highly spoken of by those who have used it. The proprietors claim it will cure any case of cholera or summer complaint.

ROTHSCHILD'S SANITARIUM.

Baron Nathaniel Rothschild, whose death was announced a few days ago, has left the sum of $4,250,000 to found a sanitarium on the latest scientific lines for persons suffering from nervous diseases. This sanitarium will be erected in the neighborhood of Vienna for the benefit of persons suffering from nervous ailments other than epilepsy, insanity and incurable spinal disorder.

The late baron was subject during the greater part of his lifetime to a peculiar form of nervous complaint. It was this disease which induced him to spend his winters in the desert, far away from all society except that of his beloved Arabians.

His sympathy for sufferers like himself led him to make this magnificent bequest. In addition to this he left a sum of $400,000 for general charitable purposes.

His famous gardens at Hohenwarte he bequeathed to his nephew Alphonse. The remainder of his property goes to his brother Albert.

As soon as Baron Rothschild's bequests to charity were known crowds of poor besieged the statthalter's office, hoping for an immediate share. They were, however, disappointed.

A PERFECT UNDERSTANDING.

"Yes, I remember that little bill I owe you—remember it perfectly well, and in fact, thought of it just as soon as I arrived in town," said a man in reply to someone who had dunned him. "Let me see. Where will you be at four o'clock this afternoon—at four sharp?"

"At the hotel."

"All right; be at the hotel at four sharp."

"Collins," said an acquaintance, "you are a very plausible fellow. You know that you do not intend to pay that man."

"Well, no; that's a fact."

"Then why did you want to know where he would be at four o'clock?"

"So that I could time myself accordingly. If I know where he is at four o'clock I will be somewhere else at that time. In this life, my dear boy, to have a perfect understanding is to avoid many embarrassing situations."

"I have just been reading the account of a railway wreck in which every occupant of the smoking-carriage was more or less injured, while the rest of the passengers in the train escaped without harm," said old Hodge. "There, Era," cried Mrs. Hodge, triumphantly, "there is another warning against the use of tobacco."

The Flagging Energies Revived.—Constant application to business is a tax upon the energies, and if there be no relaxation, lassitude and depression are sure to intervene. These come from stomach troubles. The want of exercise brings on nervous irregularities, and the stomach ceases to assimilate food properly. In this condition Par-melee's Vegetable Pills will be found a recuperative of rare power, restoring the organs to healthful action, dispelling depression, and reviving the flagging energies.

HOW SHE KNEW.

"Ellen, has George come home from school yet?" called Mrs. Snaggs to her servant.
"Yes, ma'am," came back the answer.
"Where is he?"
"I haven't seen him."
"How do you know, then, that he's home?"
"Because the cat's a-hidin' under the dresser."

It is not every man who knows how to compliment a woman gracefully. The following dialogue took place between a very pretty lady singer and a celebrated composer, who is by no means addicted to flattery:—"Tell me, my dear maestro, which would you like the better, to be blind or deaf?" "Deaf, madam, when I am looking at you, and blind when I hear you sing."

Sleeplessness.—When the nerves are unstrung and the whole body given up to wretchedness, when the mind is filled with gloom and dismal forebodings, the result of derangement of the digestive organs, sleeplessness comes to add to the distress. If only the subject could sleep, there would be oblivion for a while and temporary relief. Parmelee's Vegetable Pills will not only induce sleep, but will act so beneficially that the subject will wake refreshed and restored to happiness.

"Well," complained the cranky woman, "I never met a man so hard to please as my husband." "How quickly men change!" remarked Miss Sly. "It was only a few years ago he proposed to you."

"I believe it to be the most effective remedy for the Stomach and Nerves on the market." is what Annie Patterson, of Sackville, N.B., says of South American Nerve, for, she says, La Grippe and the complications which followed it left her next to dead with Indigestion, Dyspepsia and General Nervous Shattering. It cured her.—100

"AFTER YOU, SIR."

A French paper tells the little story of an old violinist who occasionally played with his man servant who had been the best fiddler in his native village.

"Why are you always one or two beats behind me?" demanded the violinist, impatiently, one day, when no tappings of his foot or frowns had served to make the valet realize his fault.

"But, monsieur, it is that my old fiddle has the respect," said the man, meekly.
