In the sporting contests, the Talagoos defeated the Sunnyside lacrosse team by 8 to 3, the North Sides beat the South Sides by 12 to 3 in baseball, and in football Holt won from Bogart Town.

MIDLAND ILLUSTRATED.

We have received a very creditable number of The Midland Free Press, which gives a description, illustrated, of what the publishers claim to be "The best situated town on the Great Lakes." Among the engravings shown are the elevators, the General and Marine hospital, Presbyterian, Methodist and Baptist churches, some of the largest stores, the High School, etc. The publishers refer with commendable pride to several of the public institutions of the Town, and give special prominence to the High School, with its six acres of playground, which is said to be "classed by the Inspector of High Schools as the best in the province." We might here say that Mr. W. A. Glass, B. A., one of our esteemed citizens, is a teacher in the above named institution.

NOT AN ELOPEMENT.

The saying that "news never loses anything by travelling," is quite true. Two weeks ago the Victoria Square correspondent wrote to this paper conveying, in his own way, the information that on the previous Friday a young gallant from Elgin Mills quite properly rose early that morning, proceeded to Victoria Square, and took a lady friend on the Richmond Hill Firemen's excursion to Niagara Falls. The Newmarket Era evidently thinks that the above was a sensational elopement, as that paper last week said: "The people of Richmond Hill must be terribly slow to allow a man from another county to enter the municipality and carry off a young lady to the United States before the authorities are aware of it." Also that an account of the affair was given in "The Herald." We may say that the Era's account is partially correct, only the young lady does not live in Richmond Hill, the young man was not from Elgin county, and our village paper is not called The Herald.

A Practical Store

One cannot exist solely on cake. A store cannot be widely useful if it lacks in the practical.

We blend the artistic and the useful—make the useful as artistic as possible, but never slight usefulness for art.

Our organization sees to it that we keep closely in touch with the fountain-head of style.

The needs of the home are varied, and to-day along with beauty, display, we put forward much of homely usefulness.

Is n't it worth while to be known far and near as the practical store?
