

MANITOULIN CAN DO HER PART

SHOWING THE GOOD WORK DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS ARE DOING.

Mrs. Thomas Rumley One of the Many Who Found Health in the Great Canadian Kidney Remedy.

Silver Water, Manitoulin Island, Aug. 7—(Special).—Every part of Canada seems to be testifying to the good work Dodd's Kidney Pills are doing and there is no reason why Manitoulin Island should not do her part. Many a man and woman here blesses them for aches relieved and health restored. Take for instance the case of Mrs. Thomas Rumley. She says:—

"I doctored for years and did not seem to get any better. It seemed to be my kidneys that was the trouble so I thought I would try Dodd's Kidney Pills and they helped me very much.

"I cannot say how many I have taken for my house is never without them and whenever I don't feel right I take a few. My husband also takes them once in a while. I find them a splendid medicine to have handy."

Dodd's Kidney Pills are the greatest family medicine of the age. They can be taken by young or old with perfect safety. They cure all kidney ailments, and nine-tenths of the sickness of the present day springs from bad kidneys.

ARABIAN NIGHTS PALACE.

Gorgeous Splendors of an Eastern Potentate.

There is now in the North-West Punjab a royal palace which for beauty and splendor will eclipse any similar building in India, the country already so rich in monumental treasures, says the London Daily Mail.

It is the new winter palace of his Highness the Maharajah of Kapurthala, and its total cost, it is anticipated, will not be far short of $1,000,000.

"It will be a dream in blue and white marble," was the terse but picturesque description given of the building yesterday by a gentleman intimately connected with its construction, "and the designers," he added, "might well have based their plans upon the gorgeous palaces which appear only in the pages of the 'Arabian Nights.'"

Despite the famous speech of Lord Curzon in which he deplored the fact that Tottenham Court road art was ousting native art in the palaces of Indian rulers, the new building will almost throughout be decorated in European style.

All round this vast palace of delight will run a spacious verandah with marble floors, supported by blue Canadian marble columns, and the entrance hall will be paved with blue and white marble, the colors of the Maharajah. There will be fourteen state rooms, many of them overlooking a beautiful courtyard and gardens, where fountains will play among the foliage.

The durbar hall alone of all the chambers will be decorated in Indian style. Adjoining it will be the state salon, in the style of Louis XIV., and the English dining-room of Charles II. period. The many other rooms in the palaces will exemplify the best representative periods of English and French art. The erection and decoration is being carried out by Messrs. Waring and Gillow, Limited, and will occupy about two years more.

So far as sanitary arrangements, ventilation, and lighting are concerned it will be equal to any building in the world. All fittings, furniture, carpets, wall-papers, curtains, panels, tiles, marble, etc., everything of the finest procurable will be taken from this country, and the kitchens, the fitting of which will cost $25,000, will, it is stated, be second to none in the world.

BABY'S INSTINCT.

Shows He Knew What Food to Stick To.

Forwarding a photo of a splendidly handsome and healthy young boy, a happy mother writes from an Ohio town:

"The enclosed picture shows my 4 year old Grape-Nuts boy.

"Since he was 2 years old he has eaten nothing but Grape-Nuts. He demands and gets this food three times a day. This may seem rather unusual, but he does not care for anything else after he has eaten his Grape-Nuts, which he uses with milk or cream, and then he is through with his meal. Even on Thanksgiving Day he refused turkey and all the good things that make up that great dinner, and ate his dish of Grape-Nuts and cream with the best results and none of the evils that the other foolish members of the family experienced.

"He is never sick, has a beautiful complexion, and is considered a very handsome boy. May the Postum Company prosper and long continue to furnish their wholesome food!" Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

THE FIGHTING SWORDFISH

MONSTER WITH THE HORNY WEAPON ATTACKS SHIPS.

And In Some Cases He Comes Off Quite as Well as the Vessel.

Along the north Atlantic coast just now the fishermen are having many a tussel with the fighting swordfish, that remarkable denizen of the deep, whose head bears a long horny mass with saw-like edges. Armed with such a terrible weapon as this "sword" and gifted with amazing powers of speed, the animal has no enemy to fear but man. It has a habit of lying quietly near the surface, with its big, black dorsal fin waving gracefully to and fro in the air, and often the tail is almost as conspicuous. A man stationed on the lookout platform at the mast-head is watching for the appearance of the fin, and when it is discovered the steersman is warned and sends the vessel in the direction indicated. Care must be exercised by the lookout not to lose sight of the small speck just visible to his practised eye, as it would not be easy to pick it up again when once lost. As quietly as possible the vessel is run close

BEHIND THE FISH. Sometimes the fish sees her and quickly sinks himself out of sight. When the bowsprit is within twenty or thirty feet of it the harpooner hurls his weapon with a skillful and powerful hand into the fish's back. The dart dislodges itself from the shaft, which is hauled back to the vessel by means of the line attached to it, and the stricken fish goes off at a tremendous rate of speed. As soon as the fish is struck the buoy tied to the rope which is attached to the dart is thrown overboard. Then away it sails, sometimes out of sight and at other times skimming the water and making the foam fly as it dashes along. In the course of time the fish tires himself so that a sailor puts out in a dory and picks up the cask. Then he hauls slowly on the rope and gently brings his catch to the top. If the fish is ugly there is opportunity for a lot of trouble. When brought near enough he is lanced until dead. The vessel is then run alongside, the tackle attached to its mouth and the fish hoisted aboard.

When angered, the swordfish, owing to its great strength and terrible weapon, is able and anxious to inflict serious damage upon its persecutors. Many instances have been reported where it has attacked vessels and boats. In 1871 the English ship Queensberry was struck by a swordfish, the sword penetrating to a depth of thirty inches, causing a leak which made necessary the

DISCHARGE OF THE CARGO.

One of the Gloucester fishing schooners, while on a trip to Georges Banks in 1875, was attacked by a swordfish in the night time. He assailed the vessel with great force, and succeeded in putting his sword through one of the planks some two feet, and, after making fearful struggles to extricate himself, broke the sword off, leaving it hard and fast in the plank, and made a speedy departure. Even with the sword in, the vessel leaked badly, requiring pretty lively pumping to keep her free. The brig P. M. Tinker in 1876 was struck by a swordfish. The sword penetrated the copper sheathing, a four-inch birch plank, and through the timbers about six inches—in all about ten inches. The crew had to pump steadily until port was reached.

WHEN PRINCE WILL SAIL.

Will Leave London for India on October 18th.

It has now been definitely arranged for the Prince and Princess of Wales to leave London for their tour in India on Wednesday, October 18, and to join H.M.S. Renown at Genoa two days later. Their suite will leave Portsmouth in the battleship on October 10, their Royal Highnesses being accompanied on their departure from London only by an equerry and the Prince's private secretary.

It is expected that the Prince and Princess will witness some evolutions by the Mediterranean fleets under Lord Charles Beresford before continuing their voyage to the East. The landing should take place on Thursday, November 9, the King's birthday, and also the date of his Majesty's landing in India thirty years ago. Two or three officers of the Indian army will be attached to the Prince's staff throughout the tour.

Do Not Delay.—When, through debilitated digestive organs, poison finds its way into the blood, the prime consideration is to get the poison out as rapidly and as thoroughly as possible. Delay may mean disaster. Parmelee's Vegetable Pills will be found a most valuable and effective medicine to assail the intruder with. They never fail. They go at once to the seat of the trouble and work a permanent cure.

Lever's Y-Z (Wise Head) Disinfectant Soap Powder is better than other powders, as it is both soap and disinfectant.

"I am proud to say that my grandfather made his mark in the world," observed Mrs. Newriche. "Well, I suppose he wasn't the only man in those days who couldn't write his name," replied Mrs. Uppish.

Prevent disorder.—At the first symptoms of internal disorder, Parmelee's Vegetable Pills should be resorted to immediately. Two or three of these salutary pellets, taken before going to bed, followed by doses of one or two pills for two or three nights in succession, will serve as a preventive of attacks of dyspepsia and all the discomforts which follow in the train of that fell disorder. The means are simple when the way is known.

JANET'S GOOD REASON.

A Scotch divine, who was a bachelor, and whose manse was in the keeping of an old housekeeper called Janet, was constantly annoyed by the fact that the good dame always fell fast asleep as soon as he entered the pulpit, whereas she kept wide awake whenever a stranger was the preacher. One day he summoned his courage to the sticking point, and tackled the old lady on the subject. "Janet," said he, "ye ken when I preach ye're almost always fast asleep before I've well given out my text; but when any of these young men from St. Andrew's preach for me, I see ye never sleep a wink. Now, that's what I call not using me as ye should do." "Hoot, sir," was the reply; "is that a' I'll soon tell ye the reason of that. When ye preach, we a' ken the word of God is safe in your hands; but when thae young 'birkie's tak' it in hand—me certie! but it ta's us a' to look after them."

"Why do you tip the waiter?" asked the man with the nine-fifty-five suit and the rotund front. "He's better off than you are. He owns an automobile." "If he does," replied the man with a comfortable lay-down collar, "he needs the money."

THE RESULT.

Mr. Tawxem, the orator of the evening, exhausted his topic, no doubt. "No," answered Miss Cayenne, "only his audience."

Some persons have periodical attacks of Canadian cholera, dysentery or diarrhoea, and have to use great precautions to avoid the disease. Change of water, cooking, and green fruit, is sure to bring on the attacks. To such persons we would recommend Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Dysentery Cordial as being the best medicine in the market for all summer complaints. If a few drops are taken in water when the symptoms are noticed no further trouble will be experienced.

PROPER CARE OF BOOKS.

These rules should be framed and hung up in the library:—
Never hold a book near a fire.
Never drop a book on the floor.
Never turn leaves with the thumb.
Never lean or rest upon an open book.
Never touch a book with damp or soiled hands.

Always keep your place with a thin bookmark

Never pull a book from the shelf by the binding at the top, but by the back.

Never touch a book with a damp cloth nor with a sponge in any form.

Never place another book, or anything else, upon the leaves of an open book.

Never rub dust from books, but brush it off with a soft dry cloth or duster.

Never close a book with a pencil, a pad of paper or anything else between the leaves.

Never open a book further than to bring both sides of the cover in the same plane.

Always keep books of value out of the reach of children and in a clean dry place.

Always keep a borrowed book covered with a paper cover while in your possession.

Never cut the leaves of a book or magazine with a sharp knife, as the edge is sure to run into the print.

A Good Name is to be Prized.—There have been imitations of Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil which may have been injurious to its good name, but if so, the injury has only been temporary. Goodness must always come to the front and throw into the shadow that which is worthless. So it has been with Electric Oil; no imitation can maintain itself against the genuine article.

REMARKABLE SUNDIAL.

At the Eutaw entrance to Druid Hill Park, Baltimore, stands one of the most remarkable sundials in the world. The time in many parts of the world is shown wherever the sun is shining. It is easily possible almost at first glance to read the time within two or three minutes, while closer acquaintance with the dial enabled the correct time to be read to the minute. The base is of carved bronze. The instrument was presented to the park by Peter Hamilton, who designed and made it entirely with his own hands.
