HELP YOUR PAPER

We are sometimes asked why a certain article of news did not appear in our paper. The probable reason was that the editor did not know about the occurrence. If our friends would take the trouble they could often help us by handing in items or telling us about them in good time. We wish to give all the local news possible, but many an interesting event will escape if we do not get assistance. By helping others we often help ourselves. Whether you are a subscriber or not, we shall be pleased to get news items from you. If you give us some news this week it may interest others, who in turn may possibly interest you another time. Don't stand on ceremony. Let the people know what is going on around. Your local paper is the proper medium. Send us the news.

GARDNER—BRYDON.

A charming wedding took place yesterday afternoon, Wednesday, Sept. 20, at "Spruce Lawn," when Miss Orma, third daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Brydon, became the bride of Wallace B. Gardner of Scranton, Pa. Rev. J. A. Grant, M. A., officiated and Mr. Earle Newton played Wagner's Wedding March. The bride, who was unattended, was given away by her father, and was dressed in pale green silk colienne and carried a bouquet of bridal roses. Her traveling dress was of dark green. At the close of the ceremony all assembled in the tastefully decorated dining room and partook of the wedding supper. The newly married couple left the same evening for the east, and on their return will reside in Toronto.

AN ILLUSTRATED HOME PAPER.

The Magazine section of the Weekly Globe and Canada Farmer is happily unique in its pictorial and literary qualities. No other paper going into the homes of the farmers of Canada is able to keep its readers so closely in touch with, and so well informed regarding people and events of national and international interest. The illustrations and articles published each week help to widen the knowledge and increase the culture and refinement of those who are privileged to receive the Weekly Globe and Canada Farmer. This splendid Family newspaper enables those even farthest removed from the centres of population to enjoy and profit by the best that art and talent have to offer.

CHILDREN RUNNING WILD

Once more we draw the attention of certain parents to the fact that they are doing their little children a grave injustice by allowing them to be in the streets late at night. Night after night little boys—yes, and little girls—may be seen and heard around the Metropolitan Waiting Room long after they should be in their beds. The lives of the children are endangered by the many cars switching and passing by. Not only that, they are forming habits which their parents in after years may find it difficult to change. Parents are the proper persons to keep their children home after dark, but as a number of them fail to do so, some other means should be sought. The children are to be pitied, the parents are to be blamed for their carelessness, or lack of parental authority.

SAVAGE—TRENCH.

A quiet but very pretty wedding took place in the Central Methodist Church, Bloor St., Toronto, Monday afternoon, when Miss Susy Hilda Trench, youngest daughter of Mrs. Wm. Trench, was united in marriage to Mr. Armand Gould Savage, youngest son of Reeve Savage, both of this village. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. Smith, pastor of the church, only the relatives of the contracting parties and a few particular friends being present. The bride, who was given away by her eldest brother, Mr. T. H. Trench, was married in her travelling dress of new blue voile, with hat to match trimmed with wings and green roses. The married couple were accompanied to the train by most of the friends who witnessed the ceremony, and are spending their honeymoon in American cities. Mrs. Savage will be at home on the third and fourth Thursdays in October.
