SHERIFF'S WARRANT

A rather unusual proceeding was taken at Osgoode Hill Thursday morning, when Mr. Justice Magee issued a warrant to the Sheriff of the County of York, commanding him to immediately put the James Bay Railway Company into possession of the portion of the property of Mrs. Margaret Davies which they require as a right-of-way for the new railway. Mrs. Davies' property adjoins Thorncliffe Farm in the Don Valley, which is owned by her husband, Robert Davies. Only in cases where resistance is offered to the railway taking possession is a warrant issued to the Sheriff. The company has deposited $1,502.03, which is fifty per cent. more than the alleged value of the land.

THE NEWS OF THE WORLD

In the matter of news The Weekly Globe and Canada Farmer covers the whole field. All items of interest are collected, sifted, condensed and presented in an easily accessible and readable form, so the busy farmer may keep himself thoroughly posted regarding the home and foreign events of importance without wasting time. Every effort is made to secure information at first hand to insure its authentic character. The Weekly Globe and Canada Farmer is a high-class newspaper of national interest, sympathy and outlook. It is read regularly by people living in the United States and in all parts of the British Empire. For widespread circulation it is, perhaps, unequalled by any other newspaper published on this continent.

MISS BELL REMEMBERED.

The departure of Miss Winifred Bell, one of the High School teachers, was made the occasion of a pleasing event last Friday afternoon. Word had gone forth for the teachers and pupils to assemble in Form 1 during the last period of the afternoon. The Principal, Mr. Shaw took the chair, facing over ninety happy faces, and delivered an eulogy on Miss Bell's services, expressing regret at her departure, and extending his best wishes for her future. Mr. Andrew, English Master, also added words of commendation, saying he felt sure that Miss Bell was taking with her to her new field of labor the good will of every pupil in the school, as well as that of the citizens generally. The chairman then called upon Mr. Charles Hopper, who, on behalf of his fellow students, in a few happy words expressed his appreciation of his teacher's worth and his wishes for her future success. Mr. Walter Frisby then read an appreciative address, at the conclusion of which Miss Bell was presented by the teachers and students with a very handsome dressing case, Miss Hazel Welsh making the presentation. Miss Bell replied in feeling terms, thanking the donors for the beautiful present and for the expressions of good will. A mighty cheer closed the proceedings, and after a general hand shaking teachers and pupils separated.

TRACTION ENGINES

Now that the threshing season is in full swing it will be of interest to owners of threshing outfits and the general public to quote the act regulating the use of traction engines on the highways. The act first provides for precautions against frightening horses and requires the engine to be stopped and the person in charge of the engine to lead the horse or horses by. In the year 1903, the Act authorizing and regulating the use of traction engines on highways was so amended that the provisions requiring the owners to strengthen, at their own expense, all bridges and culverts to be crossed by traction engines, and to keep the same in repair as long as the highway was so used, were made not applicable to engines used for threshing purposes or for machinery in construction of roadways. Last year the act was amended so that only traction engines used for driving threshing machines and road machinery, and being less than ten tons in weight, were exempt from the liability, and the following clause was added: "Provided, however, that before crossing any such bridge or culvert, it should be the duty of the person or persons proposing to run any engine or machinery mentioned in any of the sub-sections of this section to lay down on such bridge or culvert, planks of such sufficient width and thickness as may be necessary to fully protect the flooring or surface of such bridge or culvert from any injury that might otherwise result thereto from the contact of the wheels of such engine or machinery, and in default thereof the person in charge and his employer, if any, shall be liable to the municipality for all damage resulting to the flooring or surface of such bridge or culvert as aforesaid." All of which means that if your engine is over 8 tons you must strengthen the bridge or culvert, sufficient to carry you over, before attempting to cross. It also means that whether your engine is over or under 8 tons in weight, you must use such planking on the bridge as will prevent the floor being damaged by your engine.
