Mr. Aylesworth for North York.

At Newmarket on Saturday last, Hon. A. B. Aylesworth, the new Postmaster-General, was the unanimous choice of the Liberals of North York, to succeed Sir William Mulock in that riding. On nominations being called for, the following names were submitted by ballot, as read out by the Secretary, Mr. Widdifield:—Hon. A. B. Aylesworth, Toronto; H. S. Cane, Newmarket; Jos. Davidson, North Gwillimbury; E. J. Davis, Newmarket; C. R. Fitch, Stouffville; H. W. Fleury, Aurora; Luke Gibbons, King Township; W. Howard, Toronto; L. L. Hartman, township of Whitechurch; R. D. Moorehead, Toronto; C. E. Landy, East Gwillimbury; T. J. Robertson, Newmarket; F. W. Underhill, Aurora; W. C. Widdifield, Newmarket. The Chairman withdrew Mr. Davis' name, as he said they all knew that gentleman would not allow his name to go before the convention. Messrs. Aylesworth and Howard were not present, but the other nominees, one after another, retired in favor of the Postmaster-General, except Mr. Davidson, who retired "in favor of the nominee of the convention, whoever he might be."

Those nominated expressed confidence in Mr. Aylesworth. They considered him a strong and honorable man, a man of whom the riding will have reason to be proud. Mr. Aylesworth was not present, but before the meeting closed he intimated through the telephone that he would be proud to accept the nomination.

During the progress of the meeting, a resolution was passed expressing regret at the severance of the political tie which for the last 23 years has bound them and Sir Wm. Mulock; also a resolution expressing confidence in the Government of which the Right Honorable Sir Wilfrid Laurier is the head.

Mr. Arch. Campbell, the member for Centre York, addressed the Convention, and was given a very hearty reception.

He commented on the magnanimity of the local men who had withdrawn from the contest, and then eulogized Mr. Aylesworth as a strong candidate and a lawyer who stood at the head of his profession. Mr. Campbell adverted to some of the features of the Government's record, observing that there had been progress in every department during their nine years of office. A great amount of rubbish had been said about the autonomy bill. Mr. Campbell defended Sir Wilfrid Laurier's position saying he was in the same position now as in 1896; he now sought to maintain the schools established by the Territories, as in 1896 he fought to retain the schools desired by Manitoba. Besides, clause 2 of the autonomy bills gave the new provinces the right to change the ordinances and permit the people to have their children educated the very best possible way they can.

Of the bill granting increased salaries and indemnities Mr. Campbell also spoke. "For myself," he added, "I did not say anything in the House, but in our caucus there were a great many of us who did not approve of the bill as it was brought in. We thought, for instance, that an increase of $1,000 a year to the Judges would be sufficient. But I do not know. It is very important that we should have the very best men on the Bench, and the other day one of our best Judges resigned because he could make far more in practice than on the Bench. Then there was an increase to the members. An indemnity of $2,500 is altogether too much for a great many members there—(applause)—and, gentlemen, it is not enough for a great many men or farmers to Ottawa six months of the year and let him spend a good deal of the other six months running around, as he has to do, and it is not too much." As to the allowance of $7,000 to the leader of the Opposition, Mr. Campbell thought it a splendid thing for the country to have a good Opposition, but was inclined to think that $4,000 or $5,000 a year would be money well spent. As to the pensions to ex-Ministers he thought they should not apply before a man was sixty-five years of age, but it was not right that these men should be turned out into the street in their old age. Mr. Campbell concluded by asking the convention to work with their might to return Mr. Aylesworth.

CULTIVATE A CHEERY MANNER

There are some salesmen whose entrance into the presence of prospective customers is like the advent of spring after a hard winter. They bring a burst of sunshiny weather. The tired and ill-humored customer who has been sitting on the mourner's bench all day, nursing his troubles, loosens his hold on his grouch in the presence of that insistent optimism. It is as if some one had opened a window in a stuffy house; he feels the invigorating effect of ozone.—"Success Magazine."

Victoria Square

The Supper and Entertainment in the Church by the Woman's Missionary Society on the evening of Thanksgiving Day was a most enjoyable affair. The supper reflected much credit on the ladies of the Society, and was served in a generous and up-to-date style. An interesting program followed the supper, in the auditorium of the Church, Rev. T. Campbell acting as chairman. The first hour of the entertainment was taken up by Rev. W. G. Smith, who exhibited on canvas about 90 stereopticon views on China, dealing principally with the country from a missionary standpoint. The views were good, and the descriptions and explanations left nothing to be desired. Miss Myrtle Klinek gave a couple of recitations, and Miss Ida Glass and Mr. Douglas Derry contributed vocal solos. The accompaniments were played by Mrs. W. G. Smith and Miss H. H. Wiley. At the close a vote of thanks was tendered Rev. Mr. Smith and all who assisted in the programme.

We are sorry to have to record the death of one of our respected citizens. Mr. Wm. Boynton fell from a building about ten weeks ago, and succumbed to his injuries Sunday morning. The funeral on Tuesday was largely attended; the service was conducted by Rev. T. Campbell and Rev. Herbert Lee. The former preached a very impressive sermon, full of warning to the careless and comfort to the bereaved circle.

News Notes.

Christopher Robinson, K. C., died at his residence in Toronto, Tuesday evening, after an illness of three days, from pneumonia.

Mount Pleasant

Mr. Graham of Belleville has purchased nearly all the apples in this locality; the pickers and packers have been very busy for some time past.

Mr. J. R. McLean and his family have been visiting with his relatives here during the past week.

Mr. Wm. Greig made a visit to the parental home, near the village of Broome.

We regret to hear that Mr. Foster Eggleston is not improving in health as expected.

Miss Mabel G. Marsh of Richmond Hill returned to her home on the 25th after calling on many of her friends here and in Peterboro.

The hum of the threshing mill is heard in our land, and farmers are rejoicing at the bountiful harvest sent them by the Supreme Ruler of the Universe, Who gives freely to the just and unjust. How many of those who occupy high and responsible positions act unjustly. Prior to the flood there was only one person spoken of as being just. We may well ask as we go back to that period so as to bring punishment upon the earth, that corruption and unjust dealing may cease.

"The sons of Belial in the land did set their heads together. They set their heads together, I say they set their heads together. On right and left and every hand we saw none to deliver. We seek but little, Lord, from Thee. Thou kens we get as little."—Burns.

Cider and Jelly Mill

Will run on custom work during September one day only, namely:

Monday Sept. 25, and will run first three days of each week during October and November up to and including Nov. 15, 1905.

As is well known we make raw cider, boiled cider, apple butter, and jelly all from your own apples.

Cider can be boiled to any thickness. Jelly apples should be well ripened and two-thirds sweet.

Parties wishing apple butter should keep their peeling apples separate from the cider apples.

We expect to buy a quantity of cider apples.

As we have now a capacity of about 3000 gals. of cider boiled into jelly and apple butter per day, we hope to give our customers quicker work and better satisfaction than ever.

Customers are respectfully requested to do business on the above mentioned days as we live a distance from the factory and customers coming any other day would find it very inconvenient.

We hope to see all our old customers back again this season as usual with as many more as possible.

Thanking the general public for past favors, we solicit a continuance of the same in the future.
