

BEAUTY DOCTORS' EARNINGS.

The earnings of a successful London beauty doctor run easily into four figures. There is one lady who makes sufficient income out of the business to pay £1,200 a year rent for premises and keep a house in the vicinity of Hyde Park. She charges as much as ten guineas an operation, and for merely manicuring the nails demands half a guinea. Five assistants are kept, in addition to a book-keeper, a lady to receive patrons, and one young lady whose duty it is to look after the advertising.

NO DOUBT ABOUT ROBT. BOND'S CASE

HE WAS CURED OF BRIGHT'S DISEASE BY DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS.

Doctors Said There Was no Hope For Him But he is a Well Man Now.

Mount Brydges, Ont., Nov. 20.—(Special).—That Dodd's Kidney Pills cure Bright's Disease completely and permanently has been clearly shown in the case of Mr. Robt. Bond, a well-known resident of this place. Mr. Bond does not hesitate to say he owes his life to Dodd's Kidney Pills.

"My attending physician," Mr. Bond states, "said I was in the last stages of Bright's Disease and that there was no hope for me. I then commenced to use Dodd's Kidney Pills and no other remedy. I used in all about twenty boxes when my doctor pronounced me quite well. I have had no return of the trouble since."

Bright's Disease is Kidney Disease in its worst form. Dodd's Kidney Pills always cure it. They also easily cure milder forms of Kidney Complaint.

PERSONAL GOSSIP.

Interesting Notes About Some Prominent People.

Lord Roberts is able to endure a fast so prolonged that most men would be incapacitated by it. He eats very sparingly at all times, and always of the simplest kinds of food. The Queen of the Netherlands believes in early rising, notwithstanding that she has not a great amount to do. She has been accustomed to be downstairs by half-past seven of a morning ever since she was a little child.

To be the possessor of a distinct peerage in England, Scotland, and Ireland is a rare honor. Only three nobles can claim it. One of them is the Duke of Abercorn, who recently celebrated his sixty-seventh birthday, and the others are the Marquis of Lansdowne and the Earl of Verulam.

Lord Ashbourne, who is now sixty-eight years old, has been Lord Chancellor of Ireland for twenty years, having risen from a practising barrister with remarkable quickness. Entering Parliament in 1875 as member for Dublin University, he was appointed Attorney-General for Ireland in 1877, and in 1885 got his Chancellorship and his seat in the Cabinet, which he has since continued to hold uninterruptedly.

It is the man who puts his hand resolutely to the grindstone that keeps the other fellow's nose there.

PASSING OF PORRIDGE.

Makes Way for the Better Food of Better Day.

"Porridge is no longer used for breakfast in my home," writes a loyal Briton from Huntsville, Ont. This was an admission of no small significance to one 'brought up' on the time-honored stand-by.

"One month ago," she continues, "I bought a package of Grape-Nuts food for my husband, who had been an invalid for over a year. He had passed through a severe attack of pneumonia and la grippe combined, and was left in a very bad condition when they passed away."

"I tried everything for his benefit, but nothing seemed to do him any good. Month followed month and he still remained as weak as ever. I was almost discouraged about him when I got the Grape Nuts, but the result has compensated me for my anxiety."

"In the one month that he has eaten Grape-Nuts he has gained 10 pounds in weight, his strength is rapidly returning to him, and he feels like a new man. Now we all eat Grape-Nuts food, and are the better for it. Our little 5 years old boy, who used to suffer from pains in the stomach after eating the old-fashioned porridge, has no more trouble since he began to use Grape-Nuts, and I have no more doctor's bills to pay for him."

"We use Grape-Nuts with only sweet cream, and find it the most tasty dish in our bill of fare."

"Last Monday I ate 4 teaspoonfuls of Grape-Nuts and cream for breakfast, nothing else, then set to work and got my mornings work done by 9 o'clock, and felt less tired, much stronger, than if I had made my breakfast on meat, potatoes, etc., as I used to. I wouldn't be without Grape-Nuts in the house for any money." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. There's a reason.

AFRICAN RAILROADING.

Engineering Feats Called for in Construction of New Line.

In the construction of the Amabele-Butterworth railway in Cape Colony, unusual difficulties had to be surmounted, according to the "Pall Mall Gazette," and the result is, from an engineering point of view, one of the most remarkable railways in existence. After passing through the Kei Hills the line winds around another hill, and then, at a lower level, goes under its own track. This portion of the railway is known as the "spiral." At another point the line travels along the bank of the Mangulu River for two miles, and then doubles back for a mile and a half, so that, after covering three and a half miles, the train is really only half a mile to the good. This section is called the "zig-zag," and, with the spiral is unique in South Africa. All along the Kei heights the route is through cuttings or on embankments. Some idea of its extraordinary character may be formed from the statement that in eighteen miles the line falls or rises, to the extent of 1,500 feet.

ANCIENT ENGINEERING.

Bored Tunnel, Similar to Simplon, 2,500 Years Ago.

Unmistakable evidence exists that 2,500 years ago certain Hebrew engineers (in the time of King Hezekiah) executed exactly the same kind of work which was carried out in the Simplon tunnel, though perhaps on a slightly smaller scale, says the Scientific American.

At first his project seemed doomed to failure, as there existed between Jerusalem and the springs from which the water was to be derived a high chain of hills, over which it would be impossible to convey the water. It was therefore determined to open a passage for the water through the solid rock. One of the Sirach MSS. dating from this period states in this connection: "Hezekiah fortified his city by bringing water thereto, and he bored through the solid rock by means of bronze, and he collected the water in a reservoir."

Recent explorations have enabled this predecessor of the Simplon to be thoroughly identified. It is said to be the Shiloah tunnel by means of which water was brought down from a source to the east of Jerusalem and poured into the Pool of Siloam, mentioned in the Bible. This conduit is 360 yards long. The distance, as the bird flies, between the two mouths of the tunnel is also only 360 yards, which proves that the work was not executed in a perfectly straight line—due doubtless to the difficulties which the engineers encountered in their task, which for the period, was of a really marvelous nature.

That the work was commenced from both ends of the tunnel is not only proved by the inscription, but also by the fact that the marks of the boring tools, picks, etc., may still be seen, all bearing in opposite directions. The direction of the tunnel was altered several times during the construction thereof, as there are several short galleries, which were evidently abandoned as soon as it was noted that working was being done out of line. The floor of the tunnel is finished with the greatest care, and the workings vary from five-eighths of a yard to one yard in width by from three feet to nine feet in height, more or less, according to the hardness of the rock.

A HANDSOME SOUVENIR.

The Grand Trunk Railway System have issued a beautiful set of playing cards which contain fifty-two views of scenes on their lines, reproduced in half-tone engravings—an illustration on the face of each card. The stock of which the cards are made is the best that can be obtained for the purpose, prepared by a waterproof process by the well known English firm of Goodall & Sons, London. The backs contain a handsome design beautifully lithographed in eight colors. The cards have gold edges and are neatly boxed. They are for sale by news agents on Grand Trunk trains, and at the news stands and make an interesting souvenir not only for one's home but to send to distant friends.

Mistress (to new servant)—"There are two things, Mary, about which I am very very particular. They are truthfulness and obedience." Mary—"Yes'm, and when you tell me to say you're not in when a person calls that you don't wish to see, which is it to be, mum—truthfulness or obedience?"

Do not delay in getting relief for the little folks. Mother Graves' Worm Expeller is a pleasant and sure cure. If you love your child why do you let it suffer when a remedy is so near at hand?

Mrs. B.—"I am told that you allow your husband to carry a latch-key." Mrs. G.—"Yes, but it does not fit the door. I just let him carry it to humor him. He likes to show it to his friends, and make them think he is independent."

Yes, it is humiliating to have a skin covered with the trouble and restore your skin to its natural fairness with Weaver's Cerate?

Marie—"Why is Mr. Puffer in such a hurry to marry Maud?" Arthur—"He promised her he wouldn't smoke while they were engaged."

Manly Strength and Womanly Beauty depend on purity of the blood, and much of that purity depends on perfect kidney filtering. If these organs are diseased and will not perform their functions, man will seek in vain for strength and woman for beauty. South American Kidney Cure drives out all impurities through the body's "filters"—repairs weak spots.—48

The Crick in the Back—"One touch of nature makes the whole world kin," sings the poet. But what about the touch of rheumatism and lumbago, which is so common now? There is no poetry in that touch, for it renders life miserable. Yet how delighted is the sense of relief when an application of Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil drives pain away. There is nothing equals it.

"You have spurned me!" he cried bitterly; "I will go into the busy world. I will fight and win. My name shall be known and my riches envied." "Then, when you have done that," she interrupted, "try me again."
