DEATH REVEALS SECRET.

Retired Stewardess of Ocean Liner Possessed Fortune.

Death has revealed a remarkable secret, preserved with strictes inviolability during her lifetime by Mrs. Mary Martin, a former stewardess employed in the service of the P. and O. Steamship Company, who died at sea while on her way home from Bombay on board the mail steamer Egypt, which has just reached London from India. It appears that Mrs. Martin, who was a widow, joined the Egypt as a passenger. Nothing about her was known, except that she had been for many years a stewardess, and that her hlusband, when living, was employed in the Bombay dockyard. When her body had and able to do a good day's work is Mr. been committed to the sea her effects were overhauled with a view of discov-

THE HIGHEST BEDROOM.

After two years' dangerous work a bedroom has been built on the summit of Mont Blanc. It is attached to the Janssen Observatory, and is meant for Alpinists who have been overtaken by a storm on the summit or lost their way in the snows. A large campbed occupies all the floor of the room, and can hold twenty-two persons. The bedroom, which is the highest in the world, is also the most expensive, as every stick and stone had to be carried up by porters from Chamonix. During its erection it was demolished twice and filled with snow nine times.
