During the past winter and spring more than seventy tramps have spent the night in the village lock-up. It is no uncommon occurrence for Mr. Startup, the village inspector, to be called out of bed at 11 and 12 o'clock at night by some stranger asking to be locked up for the night.

Rev. Mr. Campbell has returned from Toronto where he was conducting the funeral service of an old friend of other years, Mrs. W. Ralston, who died on Monday, in her 88th year. A peculiar event in the history of her family is that her mother first received the Sacrament from the hands of the Rev. John Wesley.

His many friends will be pleased to see our esteemed citizen, Mr. J. W. Milbourne home again. He had a severe attack of lock jaw, the result of a flesh wound in the hand, and was taken to Grace Hospital, Toronto, five months ago. For the past few months he had been staying with relatives in Oakville, and returns feeling very well.

Householders are busy these fine days cleaning up their back yards, lanes and corners, and bonfires may be seen in all parts of the village. Now is the time for brightening up the outbuildings by a coat of paint, your cellar by a touch of lime, and dozens of other little jobs around the premises. Do not wait for the inspector to come around and jog your memory.

CLUB ENTERTAINED.

The Victoria Square Rifle Club has closed a very successful and enjoyable season's practice. After the last shoot Mr. Harper of the Queen's Hotel treated the members of the club to an oyster supper which was thoroughly enjoyed. A musical programme followed the supper, and the evening was pleasantly spent by all present.

GOLDEN WEDDING.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Gaby celebrated the 50th anniversary of their wedding at their home, 37 Yorkville Avenue, Toronto, on the 17th inst. There were 50 guests present, including their three children and eight grandchildren. The bride and groom of 50 years ago were the recipients of many handsome presents, including gold rings, a gold call bell, a musical clock, and a purse of gold from the family. Lovely bouquets of choicest flowers were also presented, and the house looked very pretty. Cole, the caterer, did himself justice, and the tables were very prettily arranged. The color decorations in the dining room were gold and white, the flowers being daffodils. After refreshments were served a toast to "the bride and groom" was proposed by Mr. Wye Trench, to which Mr. Querrie responded. The bride—formerly Miss Mary Ann Cook—and her husband are both enjoying good health, and both seemed many years younger at the happy re-union of relatives and friends. Mr. and Mrs. Gaby left Richmond Hill 40 years ago, and we are sure their many friends here will join in wishing them many years of happiness.

HOTELS TO STAY OPEN.

The following information appeared among the County news in the World of Monday: The passage of the local option by-law in the municipalities surrounding the city will not be attended by any radical change in the present accommodation for the traveling public. In the Township of Markham, where the measure was adopted by a good majority at the municipal elections, there are at present seven hotels. With the possible exception of Hughes of Thornhill, these will continue to cater as before to the traveling public. In Unionville, where a wide district is served by the Queen's Hotel, Rogers, the proprietor, states that the hotel would be kept open for the accommodation of the travelling public as before. The Village of Richmond Hill adopted the measure on the distinct understanding that in the event of its passage and the refusal of the local hotel-keepers to keep open their houses, the promoters of the local option bill would furnish the necessary accommodation. Inquiry of the committee in charge of the matter shows that every preparation has been made, and in the event of the present hostelry being closed the temperance element will be prepared to furnish all the accommodation needed. The members decline to disclose their plans, but evidently have the matter well in hand. On Yonge-street from O'Halloran's Hotel in Deer Park to Aurora there is only one hotel, that of D. B. Birrell at York Mills. On Yonge Street in the same distance it is said that at one time there were between 25 and 30 hotels. On May 1 the law will become operative in the Townships of Vaughan and Markham and the Village of Richmond Hill.
