FOOTBALL MATCH.

Jefferson football team came down Friday evening and played a friendly game with Richmond Hill in the park. There was some good play on both sides, but the long grass made combination play difficult. JAMES BAY RAILWAY

The first coach on the James Bay Railway passed through Richmond Hill from Toronto last Thursday evening in Beaverton in the evening. The trip was made in less than three hours some time having been taken up inspecting the work. The road is ballasted for a considerable distance south of Beaverton, and the officials found the road in a very satisfactory condition. The contractors who are building the road to Parry Sound are pushing the work very rapidly. The road promises to be a boon to tourists affording them ample accommodation and quick transit to the many beautiful lakes in the north part of the Province. It is thought now that the road will not be in full operation before 15th of August. Messrs Mackenzie & Mann have ordered magnificent coaches for service out of Toronto.

COMPLIMENTARY DINNER

The daily papers of Brockton, Mass., gave an interesting account of a complimentary dinner given by the firm of Storey and Co., to their employes, on the evening of the 21st of May. It was the second annual party given by the firm and has been made an annual institution as a sort of birthday observance on the birthday of Mr. Charles R. Storey, of the firm, and formerly a Richmond Hill boy. The repast, comprising a splendid menu, was much enjoyed, and Mr. Storey did not escape with mere thanks. He was presented by the clerks with a handsome shower bouquet of American beauty roses. He also received a May-basket in which was a birthday cake, and a card accompanying the gift announced that it was from the clerks of the alteration department, and bore the wish: "May every day bring greater success than yesterday." Inscribed on the cake was "C. R. Storey—many happy returns of the day." The guests at the table numbered 29, and the occasion was thoroughly enjoyed by Mr. Storey and his clerks.

A GREAT TREAT.

THE LIBERAL has succeeded in completing an arrangement by which every person taking advantage of our offer will secure a great treat in reading matter. The Family Herald and Weekly Star of Montreal has lately entered into a syndicate with a few others of the leading papers of England and America by which they have secured, at a cost of $150,000 twelve new stories by twelve of the world's best authors, and they are to appear in the Family Herald before they are issued in book form. Each story is completed in a month, making twelve complete stories, that would cost eighteen dollars in book form, inside the year. It is certainly one of the greatest feats in modern journalism, and only the strongest newspapers could take the risk of the immense expenditure. We have made arrangements to offer THE LIBERAL and the Family Herald and Weekly Star until January 1st, 1907, for the sum of seventy-five cents, and it that time those taking advantage of the offer will secure at least six of the complete stories, not counting the many other interesting features of the Family Herald and their own local paper. To present readers of THE LIBERAL, we offer the Family Herald for the balance of the year for only forty cents.

Subscriptions should be sent to THE LIBERAL office.
