POTTED MEAT NOT PRESERVED.

Manufacturers' Association and Sanitary Inspector So Report.

The following extracts from reports of the National Manufacturers' Association and Inspector Hedrick, Sanitary Inspector of the City of Chicago refute the sensational charges made against the canned meat packers:

Our investigation of the Canned and Potted Meat part of the packing industry showed that the methods used make the use of preservatives unnecessary, and indicated that no preservatives or artificial coloring is now used by the Canned Meat packer.

The meat is first partially cooked in large kettles, then the fat and bone is trimmed off and the meat packed into tins. The air is then withdrawn with vacuum pumps and the cans sealed in vacuum. Next they are put into large cookers, where the cooking process is finished. In the packing of some products it is necessary that the cans be reopened and the steam allowed to escape, the vent hole being immediately resealed while the goods are hot, so as to retain the vacuum.

The entire process is quite similar to that used by the family cook when putting up fruits and vegetables, except that meats are sealed in tin cans instead of being put in glass jars. We found that the solder in making the cans and in sealing them is all placed on the outside of the can and does not come in contact with the contents.

We were informed that much of the cause for complaint in canned meats was because of the mistaken idea that the goods would keep in perfect condition after they had been opened. This would be the fact if they were preserved with chemicals, but as they are only kept in condition because of being sealed in vacuum tins they spoil just as readily as fresh meats do after they have been opened and exposed to the air, but will keep indefinitely if the can is not punctured. It is also a well-known scientific fact that decaying meat generates a gas which will explode any package which is hermetically sealed. Sanitary Inspector Hedrick submitted to Commissioner Whalen his analysis of conditions in the Libby, McNeill & Libby plant. He found "with reference to general conditions, that the floors, halls, stairs, tables, etc., are kept clean" and "that the entire department viewed from our standpoint—was in a satisfactory condition. All workrooms are light, and have good ventilation."

You can always make a satisfactory deal with an honest man—unless you are in the dishonest class.

An old lady who was in the habit of saying after any event that she had foretold it was one day "sold" by her husband, who had got tired of her eternal "I told you so!" Rushing into the house, he dropped into a chair, raised his hands and exclaimed: "Oh, my dear, what do you think? The old cow has gone and eaten the grindstone!" "I told you so! I told you so!" was the reply, "You always let it stand out of doors."

"Here!" roared the old lawyer to his son, studying law with him; "you told me you had read this work on Evidence and yet the leaves are not out." "Used X-rays," yawned the versatile son; and the father chuckled with delight as he thought what a lawyer the boy would make.

Children who are Pale and peevish want something that will make good rich blood; there is nothing to equal "Ferrovin" for this purpose. Mothers, be sure to get a bottle.

THE POLITE BURMAN.

In the cities of Burma, where the natives have been long in contact with Europeans, says the author of "Burns, Painted and Described," they have lost some of their traditional politeness; but in the country districts old-school courtesy is still the custom.

An English gentleman who had bought a new pony was trying him out on a Burman road, when the animal bolted, and ran at top speed down a narrow road.

In the way ahead was a native cart, in which was a family party out holiday making.

The pony dashed into the back of the cart, threw his rider into the midst of the merry-makers, and severely injured the Burman who was driving.

Before the Englishman had an opportunity to explain his unexpected onslaught the Burman picked himself up and bowed low.

"My lord, my lord," he said, apologetically, "the cart should not have been there."

ALL DOUBTFUL.

"Dat was a great wedding, Sam."
"Deed it was."
"Well, who was the lucky man?"
"Dat's hard to say. De groom thought he was de lucky man till he squinted et de bride and foun' out she had wrinkles lak a wedder map."
"Huh!"
"Den de best man thought he was de lucky man till he foun' out de rabbit's foot de groom had gibben him was er cat's fool."
"Lan's! Den de preacher mus' hab been de lucky man?"
"Well he kinder puffed up det way till arter de ceremony en den he disobebed dat de bill de groom had passed him as a fee was bogus."

Worms derange the whole system. Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator deranges worms and gives rest to the sufferer. It only costs 25 cents to try it and be convinced.

Old Gent (proposing health of happy pair at the wedding breakfast): "And as for the bridegroom, I can speak with still more confidence of him, for I was present at his christening. I was present at the banquet given in honor of his coming of age, I am present here today, and I trust I may be spared to be present at his funeral."

Always a Good Friend. — In health and happiness we need no friends, but when pain and prostration come we look for friendly aid from sympathetic hands. These hands can serve us no better than in rubbing in Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil, for when the Oil is in the pain is out. It has brought relief to thousands who without it would be indeed friendless.

LONG ON NAME.

Office Boy: "Want to see the gov'nor? What name shall I say?"
Visitor: "Herr Schweitzsalsburg-hausen."

Office Boy: "Oh, I shan't be able to pronounce all that. I'm leaving at the end of the week."

THE GREAT NORTH COUNTRY.

Nimrod was a mighty hunter, but had he hunted in the "Temagami" region he would have been a mightier one. Nimrod hunted for glory, but Temagamians hunt for game. Those Indians who made the first canoe of birch bark long ago, were our greatest benefactors. The children of these Indians know the canoe, and they know how to use it, and if you go to Temagami this summer they will paddle your canoe in their own superb way. They will be the best guides you ever had.

Students who camp in summer along the Temagami lakes are able to do two years' work in one. Finest of fishing and hunting. Easy of access by the Grand Trunk Railway System. For information and beautiful descriptive publication sent free apply to J. D. McDonald, Union Station, Toronto, Ont.

"I suppose," said the timid young man, "when you recall what a handsome man your first husband was, you wouldn't consider me for a minute?"
"Oh, yes, I would," replied the widow, instantly; "but I wouldn't consider you for a second."

No one need fear cholera or any summer complaint if they have a bottle of Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Dysentery Cordial ready for use. It corrects all looseness of the bowels promptly and causes a healthy and natural action. This is a medicine adapted for the young and old, rich and poor and is rapidly becoming the most popular medicine for cholera, dysentery, etc., in the market.

PEACEFUL AND SOOTHING.

"You shall endeavor to control yourself. Your violent temper has a bad effect on your heart. Get out into the open air. Try the peaceful and soothing effects of a good baseball game."

"I have tried it. They won't let me in any more."
"Why not?"
"Three times I tried to kill the umpire."

CHILD BRINGS PEACE.

Father and Mother Respond to Pleadings and Are Reconciled.

A touching reconciliation has taken place in a house in the Boulevard Voltaire, Paris, between a man and his wife who had long been separated. The husband had divorced his wife owing to a foolish infatuation on her part, and he had been given the custody of the child, a little girl of seven.

The child, deprived of her mother, of whom she was extremely fond, fell ill, and the most careful attention and even change of air did nothing to prevent her from pining away. Her condition became serious. She took no interest in the toys with which her father loaded her, and frequently cried for her mother.

The divorced woman, hearing of her little daughter's illness, succeeded, with the connivance of the nurse, in visiting her, unknown to the father, while he was away at his office. During one of these visits, however, the father came back unexpectedly to see the child, and was brought face to face with his wife.

The pitiful joy of the little girl, who begged that her mamma might not be sent away, and the repentant attitude of the mother, had such an effect that at last the father melted and a reconciliation was effected. They are to be married again as soon as the necessary legal requirements have been fulfilled.

For the Overworked.—What are the causes of despondency and melancholy? A disordered liver is one cause and a prime one. A disordered liver means a disordered stomach, a disordered stomach means a disturbance of the nervous system. This brings the whole body into subjection and the victim feels sick all over. Parmelee's Vegetable Pills are a recognized remedy in this state and relief will follow their use.

A THICK SKIN.

In one of the lesser Indian Hill wars an English detachment took an Afghan prisoner.

The Afghan was very dirty. Accordingly two privates were deputed to strip and wash him.

The privates dragged the man to a stream of running water, undressed him, plunged him in, and set upon him lustily, with stiff brushes and large cakes of white soap.

Well, after a long time, one of the privates came back to make a report. He saluted his officer and said, disconsolately:

"It's no use, sir, it's no use."
"No use?" said the officer. "What do you mean? Haven't you washed that Afghan yet?"

"It's no use, sir," the private repeated. "We've washed him for two hours, but it's no use."

"How do you mean it's no use?" said the officer, angrily.

"Why, sir," said the private, "after rubbin' and scrubbin' him till our arms ached, blamed if we didn't come to another suit of clothes."

Smith: "Brown is getting to be quite absent-minded of late, isn't he?" Griffin: "Why, I haven't noticed it." Smith: "Well, he is. The other day he happened to look in a mirror at home, and he asked his wife what she was doing with that fellow's picture in the house."

They Are Not Violent in Action. — Some persons, when they wish to cleanse the stomach, resort to Epsom and other purgative salts. These are speedy in their action, but serve no permanent good. Their use produces incipient chills, and if persisted in they injure the stomach. Nor do they act upon the intestines in a beneficial way. Parmelee's Vegetable Pills answer all purposes in this respect, and have no superior.

COBALT.

COBALT STOCKS—the right kind—offer immense opportunities for large and immediate profits. For the past few months high-grade ore has been piling up at the mines, shipments being withheld pending the completion of the new smelter. This has resulted in many stocks being quoted by those not understanding conditions at a price far below their real value. Shipments are now commencing, and great returns, not to speak of advances in stock market prices, are assured. Many ground-floor opportunities exist now, but the market is daily becoming more active and NOW IS THE TIME TO ACT.

My booklet (including Govt. report) and weekly news letter furnish full and up-to-date information. They are free.
