Why is it, a careless seven year old kid can drop a half burned match in an alley and burn up all the barns in a block, while an able bodied man has to use up a whole box of matches to get a wood fire started in a heater that has draft enough to draw all the furniture up the stove pipe.

Force ourselves how we will to lead a strained, unnatural life, we can never get entirely used to it. It is never satisfactory. There is a yearning for the simple life, for the natural life, and, for most of us, country life. We want to feel Mother Earth, to breathe the fresh air, to drink in the beauties of flower, of field, of mountain, and of sunset, which never tire or pall upon the mind.—Success Magazine.

Some newspaper men are inclined to draw upon their imagination. In writing of a cyclone out west one of them said it turned a well inside out, a cellar upside down, moved a township line, blew the staves out of a whiskey barrel and left nothing but a bung hole, changed the day of the week, blew a mortgage off a farm, blew all the cracks out of a fence and knocked the wind out of a politician.

"IVANHOE" AT TORONTO

Sir Walter Scott's magnificent novel, "Ivanhoe," will furnish the subject matter for the spectacle at Canadian National Exhibition this year. An old-fashioned tilting tournament is to be made the grand feature. Costumes and scenery will be as exact as artists can make them, agents having been in England and Scotland searching out authorities for the same.

LACROSSE HERE

Secretary Hall of the C. L. A. wired this morning just as we were going to press that the final match for the Junior C. L. A. District will be played in the Park here between the Toronto Junction and Newmarket teams next Wednesday, August 8, commencing at 3.30. The above promises to be an exciting match. Do not fail to see this match. For particulars see bills.

A GOOD SCHOOL

A school that has made an excellent record this year is the popular Elliott Business College of Toronto. The demand made by business firms desirous of securing graduates of this well-known school has been, we understand, about twenty times the supply. The Principal, Mr. W. J. Elliott, claims that the secret of the school's success is due to the fact that they thoroughly satisfy every student. He is also an extensive advertiser and says that newspaper advertising helps him wonderfully in his business. The advertisement of college appears in this paper. Read it. If interested, write for a catalogue.

SUNDAY'S STORM

Another severe electrical storm accompanied by heavy rain passed over this section of country Sunday afternoon. A number of telephones in the village were put out of business for a time, but very little damage was done. Mr. J. N. Boyle's windmill, a few yards from his residence, was shattered by lightning, a shock of wheat in Mr. William Randle's field was burned, a henhouse on Mr. Isaac Keffer's farm at Sherwood was destroyed with a number of fowl, and a chimney on Mr. Jacob Williams house at Edgely was knocked off, but the building did not take fire.

TWENTY-SIX STATIONS

President Mackenzie announces that the James Bay Railway between Toronto and Parry Sound will be open for passenger service within the next month, which would make the opening an auspicious one, since the exhibition traffic will then be beginning. The distance between Toronto and Parry Sound is about 150 miles. Intermediate stations a number of which are now in course of construction will be situated along the route as follows:—Duncan, Thornhill, Richmond Hill, Gormley, Vander, Pine Orchard, Mount Albert, Zephyr, Cedarvale, Pefferlaw, Beaverton, Gamebridge, Brachin, Washage, Udny, Sparrow Lake, Southwood, Torrence, Bala, Dudley, Foot's Bay, St. Joseph, Blackstone, Falding, Parry Sound.

THAT SIGN.

Every few days strangers passing through this place are heard asking "What town is this? A few days ago as Mr. W. H. Pugsley was standing opposite the Metropolitan Waiting Room, stroking the silky mane of his golden broncho, a party of ladies and gentlemen wheeled along from the south in an automobile. One of the ladies in silvery notes called out "Is this the town of Newmarket? Mr. Pugsley drew himself up, looking about three inches taller than usual, and replied in the voice of a gallant:—"No, lady, this is not Newmarket, this is Richmond Hill." Now, we cheerfully acknowledge that Newmarket is a smart little business town, but when our town with its wide streets, is taken for a place on the second concession of Whitechurch, we think the Council should see that a proper sign is erected. A circle on the top of the sign on the Waiting Room would answer every purpose.

EVERYBODY PLEASED

A service of fifteen passenger cars each way between Toronto and Newmarket should satisfy all demands, and we believe it has. Cars leave the C. P. R. Crossing and the Newmarket station at 6 o'clock every morning, and at the even hours all during the day up to 9 p.m., with the exception of 8 p.m. Each Wednesday and Saturday evening a late car leaves the city at 11.30 p.m. for Newmarket and intermediate points, and on the same evenings a car leaves Newmarket at 10.45. The first car goes south from Richmond Hill at 6.45 and north at 6.50. The cars leaving Toronto at 8 a.m. and 6 p.m. and Newmarket at 7.45 a.m. and 5 p.m. connect with Schomberg and Aurora Railways. The last change in Time Table is another indication that the M.R.R. management is making every endeavor to meet the wishes of its patrons.

STARTLING NEWS.

The North Toronto correspondent of The World sprang a note of unexpected surprise and alarm on its readers yesterday by giving out the information that no whiskey could be got in that town. Here is the item:—"Local Option seems sometimes serious. At midnight a gentleman was seen running for the doctor, as his wife and six months old baby had become suddenly ill. The doctor prepared a concoction and ordered, besides the medicine, a little whiskey with water for both patients. Where to get the whiskey was the mystery. Three hotels in town under local option law, the drug store closed, and when it did open yesterday morning not a drop could be got. What the doctor considers to be a necessity to sustain life was only to be obtained at the nearest city hostelry." Possibly the man who went to the hotels for the whiskey was not in possession of the password. It is surmised that in some local option municipalities the needful "medicine" can be got in extreme cases, but the messenger or the patient must be a man to be depended on. Or in other words he must have a "character."

MIDSUMMER NUMBER

The August Canadian Magazine is a midsummer number, somewhat lighter than usual. J. E. B. McCready's account of the death of Thomas D'Arcy McGee, the trial and hanging of Whalen, will be read with interest, because Mr. McCready was a member of the Press gallery at that time. Norman Patterson's article on "The Exhibition Habit" is a clever analysis of a Canadian characteristic. This is accompanied by some excellent drawings by Fergus Kyle, showing the most artistic features of the exhibition grounds and buildings in Toronto. "The Women of Spanish-America," by that energetic Canadian traveller, G. M. L. Brown, presents an attractive appearance with its collection of domestic photographs. It will surprise many to know that there are eighteen Spanish-speaking republics in America. "Bridging the St. Lawrence," by James Johnston, is well illustrated with pictures of the old Victoria Tubular Bridge, the present Grand Trunk bridge on the same piers, the Canadian Pacific Bridge at Lachine, the New York and Ottawa bridges at Cornwall, and a drawing of the new Quebec Bridge. There are stories by S. Frances Harrison, F. J. Blanchard, Theodore Roberts and Mrs. Campbell Praed, besides other other features.
