FELL 25 FEET

Mr. Jacob Atkinson of Elgin Mills an old gentleman 78 years of age, got a severe fall, on Friday last when assisting with the harvest at Kerswell Bros. He had climbed a ladder twenty five feet, and when he stepped into the mow some of the sheaves slid back, bringing him to the barn floor. He alighted on his feet, but received a severe shock. Some sheaves on the floor doubtless saved his life. The patient is being cared for at the home of Mr. Kerswell.

A SEVERE FALL

Mr. James Newton of the firm of Newton and Brother, Elgin Mills, is yet suffering from a painful fall he received last Thursday evening about dark at his home. He was carrying a dipper of warm water from the kitchen, and in the dark, accidentally turned into the cellar doorway instead of through another door close by. He fell forward striking his right shoulder, and also cutting his head as he came in contact with a stone wall near the foot of the stairs. Mr. Newton was assisted out of the cellar and to bed by near by neighbors, and the Dr., who was telephoned for, was at the patient's side in less than twenty minutes after the accident. Fortunately no bones were fractured, but although Mr. Newton is able to be up he still suffers with pain in his arm and shoulder.

SEPTEMBER ROD AND GUN

Even to a wider field than sportsmen will the September number of "Rod and Gun and Motor Sports in Canada" commend itself. The leading article is the first and only complete narrative covering the whole of the visit of Prince Arthur of Connaught to Canada, stress being naturally laid upon his fishing experiences. The story is fully illustrated, and is likely to be widely read throughout the English speaking world. A specially written and exclusive account of the first Summer Camp of the Club of Canada in the Selkirks is also a marked feature of the number, and as the magazine is the official organ of the Club, it is what one expects to see it, the first and foremost in the field in its accounts of the Camp and the performances of the members. Readers with other tastes, however are not forgotten, and fishing, hunting and exploring stories are given in such profusion as to cover the whole of the broad Dominion. The last number of this fine magazine reflects great credit upon its publisher, W. J. Taylor, of Woodstock, Ont.

A Hair Dressing

Nearly every one likes a fine hair dressing. Something to make the hair more manageable; to keep it from being too rough, or from splitting at the ends. Something, too, that will feed the hair at the same time, a regular hair-food. Well-fed hair will be strong, and will remain where it belongs—on the head, not on the comb!
