RICHMOND HILL, ONT., Oct. 4, 1906

Nine hotel men were on Tuesday fined $50 each at Niagara Falls for selling liquor on Sunday, the 16th of September. The defendants started to contest every case, but afterwards entered pleas of guilty. Another case was enlarged and nine more are to come up to-day. There is reason to believe that some hotel-keepers endeavor to strictly observe the law. Evidence goes to show, however, that they are the exception, and that the great majority of them are law-breakers. And yet these men express surprise that people talk of local option or prohibition.

CANADIAN MAGAZINE

While there is nothing startling in the October Canadian Magazine there is variety of interest in the various articles and stories. Perhaps the article by the Hon. Ernest N. Warner on "Civil Service Reform in Wisconsin" will attract most readers, especially such as are looking for information as to the various phases of political reform. Mr. Warner is the author of Wisconsin's new act and has been a leader in the whole movement. It is worth noting that the United States has gone ahead of Canada in this particular reform. Some time ago Professor Leacock wrote an article on the decline of poetry, and now Susan E. Cameron, a Montreal Educationist of standing, takes up the cudgels on behalf of the poets. She belabors the professor rather severely. There are two "Celebrities this month": Agnes Maule Machar, novelist, poet painter; and Mrs. Herbert Chamberlain, who is a daughter of the late Lieut.-Col. Williams, of Port Hope. The other illustrated articles deal with the old Government House at Fredericton and the proposal to restore it; the work and character of the late Bishop Bonpas, of Selkirk; and an exhaustive account of the modern methods for securing "Purity in Domestic Products." The stories by W. A. Fraser and Mabel Burkholder, two native writers, are worthy of special mention.

Victoria Square

On Sunday, October 7, the league are holding special services in the afternoon and evening. Mr. W. Elliott, B. A., Vice-principal of Toronto Normal School is expected to address the afternoon meeting. As Mr. Elliott is an eloquent speaker and one of the leading educationists of this province no one should fail to hear him.

Music will be provided by the young-men of the league assisted by Miss Mary Campbell soloist of Unionville. Collections in aid of forward movement.

The evening service will be conducted by Rev. Mr. Irwin.

Marie

The funeral of the late Neil Watson, of Sherwood took place on Monday morning to the Presbyterian cemetery. The deceased was taken to the Western Hospital about three weeks ago, suffering from typhoid fever, but was afterwards removed to the home of his brother Dr. J. Watson, College St., where he passed away on Saturday. His brother Donald who was also ill with the same disease is recovering. The mother and brothers and sisters have the sympathy of all in their bereavement.

Next Sunday evening Rev. Jos. E. Wilson will preach specially to young people.

Mrs. Wilson and Miss Lizzie returned on Friday evening after spending a month at the "So."

Quite a number from here attended the anniversary services at Carrville on Sunday.

Dr. Logan has gone for a short vacation to Tiverton and other places. His place is taken by Dr. Platt.

Mr. T. Keys and family are moving into their new house which has just been completed.

It is understood that a syndicate composed of a number of gentlemen of the village and vicinity have purchased Mr. F. Daek's property with the view of turning the house into a place of accommodation.

News Notes.

The jury hearing the case of George Arksey, a young farmer living in East Gwillimbury, who was tried for the third time on the charge of attempting to wreck an automobile belonging to Mr. S. F. Wilson, was unable to agree upon a verdict in the County Criminal Sessions. It is said that eight of the jury stood for conviction and four for acquittal. Arksey was allowed to go free, and it is quite probable that the case will never come up again in the Sessions.

Feeding a threshing machine at Kleinburg, Fred Brown, 28 years old, had his right arm drawn in and torn off below the elbow. Another farmer who was operating the machine with him assisted Brown to a farmhouse, where he was attended by the local physician. Although suffering greatly from loss of blood, the injured man undertook the journey to Toronto and was admitted to St. Michael's Hospital, where an emergent operation was performed. It is thought that the injured man may recover.

In Womanly Ailments and Weaknesses

Dr. Shoop's Night Cure Soothes, Heals and Cures while the Patient Sleeps.

The best remedy which physicians know for Female Weaknesses is composed of parts of a certain white lily. To this are added other remedies which draw out the poisons and heal the inflamed membranes. This soothing anti-septic local application is known by druggists and physicians everywhere as Dr. SHOOP'S NIGHT CURE—because it cures while the patient sleeps and the morning finds the pain, the inflammation, the discharges, abated.
