HORSE AND DOG MEAT IN GERMANY.

German Government statistics show that 43,421 horses and 2,151 dogs were slaughtered for food under government inspection during the first three months of 1906. This was an increase of 7,522 horses and 366 dogs over the number slaughtered during the same time in 1905. And this only accounts for the dogs and horses killed under government supervision. It is estimated that among the poorer classes, forced to resort to dog and horse meat by the exclusion of American and other foreign meats from the country, the consumption of this sort of meat was much larger than the official records show.

NOISE AND HEALTH.

Eminent Physician Attacks One of Britain's Cherished Institutions.

"Big Ben" is nothing but a relic of barbarism." Such was the attack made upon one of Britain's most cherished institutions by Dr. Theo. B. Hyslop, senior physician to the Royal Hospital of Bridewell and Bethlehem at the Congress of Sanitary Inspectors at Blackpool recently.

Dr. Hyslop, however, only touched on Big Ben in passing. He classed it merely as one of the many noises which torture the town-dweller, and the subject of his speech was the effect of noises on health. The effect, it seems, is a very bad one indeed.

"The fact that town life under existing circumstances makes it impossible to obtain adequate brain rest goes far to cause the prevalence of insanity about which municipalities are so solicitous, and which, in my opinion, they could do so much to prevent," said Dr. Hyslop.

The influence of noise upon infant mortality, he continued was much more serious than was at present dreamed of. He had seen the growth of infants who lived in or near noisy streets greatly arrested, and their removal to quieter localities had enabled them to recover.

"The noises of clocks, bells, and chimes, such as Big Ben, are nothing but relics of barbarism—the baneful accompaniments of the night."

After Dr. Hyslop's speech the conference passed a resolution asking the Central Council of the association to bring the subject of noise before the County Councils.

Sir James Crichton Browne then said that he had lately been the victim of a baneful and exasperating habit.

"But," asked Dr. Hyslop, "have you ever heard a really good, healthy tom-cat—not a melancholic cat, but one really and properly in love? It can give points to any cock that ever crew."

HOW OLD IS THE WORLD?

Professor Ray Lankester's New Theory Contrary to Geological Time.

Professor Ray Lankester, in the course of an interesting outline of the advancement of science in the past twenty-five years, which he gave at the opening of the British Association at York, raised the question of the age of the earth.

He said the discovery of radium far exceeded all other discoveries in importance. If the sun consisted of a fraction of one per cent. of radium, it would account for and make good the heat that is annually lost by it.

"This is a tremendous fact," the professor continued, "upsetting all calculations of physicists as to the duration in past and future of the sun's heat and the temperature of the earth's surface."

"The geologists and the biologists have long contended that some thousand million years must have passed during which the earth's surface has presented approximately the same conditions of temperature as at present, in order to allow time for the evolution of living things and the formation of the aqueous deposits of the earth's crust."

"The physicists, notably Professor Tait and Lord Kelvin, refused to allow more than ten million years—basing the estimate on the rate of cooling of a sphere of the size and composition of the earth. They have assumed that its material is self-cooling."

"But, as Huxley pointed out, mathematics will not give a true result when applied to erroneous data. It has now, within these last five years, become evident that the earth's material is not self-cooling, but, on the contrary, self-heating. And away go the restrictions imposed by physicists on geological time. They now are willing to give us not merely a thousand million years, but as many more as we want."

Why go limping and whining about your corns when a 25 cent bottle of Holloway's Corn Cure will remove them? Give it a trial and you will not regret it.

A WOUND THAT MADE HISTORY.

There is a certain peppery old colonel who claims to have been wounded long years ago in the leg while serving his country in some petty little frontier fight. He is very proud of that wounded leg.

One afternoon, when he sat at his club nursing the injured leg, a fellow clubman of recent acquaintance, sympathetically asked:

"Lame, Colonel?"

"Yes, sir," was the reply, after an inexpressible solemn pause, "I am lame."

"Been riding, sir?"

"No," this time with rebuking sternness, "I have not been riding."

"Ah, I trust it was not due to a fall, Colonel?"

"No!" came in tones of ferocity.

"Perhaps, then, you have sprained your ankle?"

With painful slowness the old fellow lifted his pet leg in both hands, set it carefully on the floor, rose deliberately from his chair, and looking down upon the unfortunate questioner with mingled pity and wrath, burst forth in almost sublime rage:

"Go, sir, and read the history of your country, sir!"

There was once a professor who never lost an opportunity to rebuke any bumpkinsness on the part of his students. On one occasion, when he was taking leave of a certain graduate, he is reported to have said—"Sir, your fellow-students think highly of you; I think highly of you; but sir, no one thinks more highly of you than you do yourself!"

ARE YOUR FEET GERMAN.

National characteristics are many and varied, and scientists are always discovering new things. The latest of these is feet. The French foot is narrow and long. The Spanish foot is small and elegantly curved—thanks to its Moorish blood. The Arab's foot is proverbial for its high arch. The Koran says that a stream of water can run under the true Arab's foot without touching it. The foot of the Scotch is high and thick; that of the Irish flat and square; the English short and fleshy. When Athens was in her zenith, the Grecian foot was the most perfectly formed and exactly proportioned of that of any of the human race. Swedes, Norwegians, and Germans have the largest feet, Americans the smallest. Russian toes are "webbed" to the first joint. Tartarian toes are all the same length.

Mrs. Nagget—"You don't love me as much as you used to." Mr. Nagget—"Think so?" Mrs. Nagget—"No; you used to say I was worth my weight in gold, and—" Mr. Nagget—"Well, you're not so stout as you used to be, you know."

Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator is pleasant to take; sure and effectual in destroying worms. Many have tried it with best results.

Minister mildly—"I've been wanting to see you, Mr. Kurd, in regard to the quality of the milk which you are serving me." Milkman (uneasily)—"Yes, sir." Minister (very mildly)—"I only wanted to say, Mr. Kurd, that I use the milk for dietary purposes exclusively, and not for christening."

"FERROVIM" IS A GENTLE STIMULANT to the stomach, thereby aiding digestion. As a tonic for patients recovering from fevers and all diseases lowering the vitality, it is without a rival. At all drug and general stores.

Wife: "Mrs. Neighbors threw a flat-iron at her husband last night because he accidentally sat down on her new bonnet. Now, I couldn't do a thing like that." Hubby: "You couldn't?" Wife: "Of course not. I haven't any new bonnet."

"By Medicine Life May be Prolonged."—So wrote Shakespeare nearly three hundred years ago. It is so to-day. Medicine will prolong life, but be sure of the qualities of the medicine. Life is prolonged by keeping the body free from disease. Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil used internally will cure coughs and colds, eradicate asthma, overcome croup and give strength to the respiratory organs. Give it a trial.

He—"So your husband has given up smoking? It requires a pretty strong will to accomplish that." She—"Well, I'd have you understand that I have a strong will."

PLEASE BEAR IN MIND that what is called a skin disease may be but a symptom of bad blood. In that case, Weaver's Cerate, externally applied, should be supplemented with Weaver's Syrup, taken daily.

Howell: "Rowell is always borrowing trouble." Powell: "He's the kind of fellow who, if he thought he was going to get fat, would go out and walk off the weight before he got it!"

They Drive Pimples Away.—A face covered with pimples is unsightly. It tells of internal irregularities which should long since have been corrected. The liver and the kidneys are not performing their functions in the healthy way they should, and these pimples are to let you know that the blood protests. Parmelee's Vegetable Pills will drive them all away, and will leave the skin clear and clean. Try them, and there will be another witness to their excellence.

Mrs. McDuff—"This paper says that mice are attracted by music; but I don't believe it." McDuff—"Why not?" Mrs. McDuff—"Because I never see any mice around when I play the piano." McDuff—"Well, that's no reason for doubting the paper's statement."

WE ARE ALL FAMILIAR with the deep, hoarse bark, grimly called "a grave-yard cough." Fiske Allen's Lung Balsam, a remedy for pulmonary trouble, highly recommended even in the earlier stages of Consumption.

RETALIATION.

"I'll g-g-et even w-with you, m-m-mama," sobbed small Elsie, who had just been severely chastised.

"How?" queried her mother.

"When I g-grow up and h-have a little girl I'll beat the life out of h-her," answered Elsie.

For Inflammation of the Eyes.—Among the many good qualities which Parmelee's Vegetable Pills possess, besides regulating the digestive organs, is their efficacy in reducing inflammation of the eyes. It has called forth many letters of recommendation from those who were afflicted with this complaint and found a cure in the pills. They affect the nerve centres and the blood in a surprisingly active way, and the result is almost immediately seen.

BABY LIFE AMONG THE INDIANS.

Given a reasonable chance for life, the Indian child is as happy, hopeful, ambitious, and playful as is the white child born under much happier circumstances. He is, too, quite as imitative, and, like his white cousin, he apes the ways and manners of his elders and mimics their occupations in his play. The infant Indian possesses rather more dignity than the ordinary white child. This is chiefly owing to the care he receives rather than to inherited sedateness. In his infancy he is strapped to a board or securely packed in an elongated basket woven for that purpose where he can neither kick nor squirm. He cries less than his white cousins, because he early learns that it is an unprofitable occupation. The Indian mother is very accommodating. If her infant wishes to cry she lets him do so. She does not, like the white mother, rush to the child when it begins to howl and try to pacify him. She lets him howl till he tires of it and ceases of his own accord. It is because crying brings them attention that most children cry. The young Indian does not get the attention, so he soon cuts out crying entirely. With crying, kicking, and squirming eliminated, there is really nothing left for him but to remain calm and look dignified. This is what he does as a rule.

UNIQUE.

"I married you, my dear, because you were different from other women."

"Flatterer! In what way was I different?"

"You said 'yes' when I proposed."

Cholera and all summer complaints are so quick in their action that the cold hand of death is upon the victims before they are aware that danger is near. If attacked do not delay in getting the proper medicine. Try a dose of Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Dysentery Cordial, and you will get immediate relief. It acts with wonderful rapidity and never fails to effect a cure.

SPECIALISTS' SMALL HEADS.

Brains of great men vary very much. It is found that men of encyclopaedic mind have large and heavy brains—Gladstone had to wear a very big hat—with an enormous bed of grey matter and numerous convolutions; on the other hand, men whose genius is concentrated upon one line of thought are of small brain, and, consequently have small heads. Newton, Byron, and Cromwell were in this class.

Your Doctor

Can cure your Cough or Cold, no question about that, but why go to all the trouble and inconvenience of looking him up, and then of having his prescription filled, when you can step into any drug store in Canada and obtain a bottle of SHILOH'S CURE for a quarter.

Why pay two to five dollars when a twenty-five cent bottle of SHILOH will cure you as quickly?

Why not do as hundreds of thousands of Canadians have done for the past thirty-four years: let SHILOH be your doctor whenever a Cough or Cold appears.

SHILOH will cure you, and all druggists back up this statement with a positive guarantee.

The next time you have a Cough or Cold cure it with
