21,797 DIE OF SNAKE BITE.

Record of a Single Year in India—Wild Beasts Kill 2,054.

The number of persons killed in India in 1905 by wild beasts was 2,054, as against 2,157 in the previous year, and the number of deaths reported from snake bite (21,797) is also a little smaller than that of 1904.

A feature of the 1905 returns is the increase in the number of deaths, both of human beings and cattle, attributed to leopards. It is suggested by a writer in Baily's Magazine that these beasts seek their prey more readily than they used to do in the neighborhood of villages. The fact that more licenses to possess firearms were held in 1905 than in the previous year may be noticed; but it has long been recognized that it is impossible to discover any relation between the number of firearms in native hands and the number of deaths from wild beasts.

During 1905 more dangerous wild beasts were killed than in 1904. The official figures are: Tigers, 1,355; leopards, 4,811; bears, 2,236; wolves, 2,016; and hyenas, 554. Well-known man-eating tigers were killed in several districts. A regular crusade against wolves has been carried on in parts of the Central Provinces where these brutes are most numerous and most troublesome.

To the success of the campaign no doubt may be attributed the great decrease in the number of persons killed by wolves—in 1904, 244; in 1905, only 153. Before dismissing this subject it is worth noting that the Bengal Government in September last offered a special reward of Rs. 200 for a man-eating tiger which killed seven persons last year in Gollkera Forest, Singbhum district. The ordinary reward for a tiger is Rs. 40.

ZAM-BUK SAVES A FAMOUS ODD-FELLOWS FINGER

Mr. Wm. C. Edwards, P.D.C.R.A.O.F., P.G.M.I.O.F. and P.P.O.A. Shepherds one of the most widely known men in friendly society circles it is possible to meet, is the subject and here is his experience. Interviewed at his home in Peter St., Toronto, he said:—"In January of last year I cut the middle finger of my left hand severely and blood poison set in. The wound was so very painful that I could not use the whole hand, which began to swell and inflame. I consulted one of the leading doctors of Toronto and for two months I was under his care. The wound got no better, and one day the doctor said, 'Edwards, the only thing I can do with this finger is, take it off. It can never be cured.' A friend advised me to 'Try Zam-Buk before you have it taken off.' I did so. I bathed the wound and applied some of the balm, and that night I got a little sleep. Next morning the wound began to bleed, whereas, before it had only discharged pus. Within a few days I could do away with the sling in which I had carried the hand, and in a few weeks' time there was not a trace of the wound to be seen. Today my finger is as sound as a bell, whereas, had I not used Zam-Buk, I should have been a finger less. I paid over $20 in doctors' fees, and when I think of the trifling cost of Zam-Buk I am amazed at its wonderful value. Zam-Buk is a cure for eczema, itch, scald sores, ringworms, blotches on the face and body, chapped places, cold sores, piles and enlarged veins. As an embrocation it cures rheumatism and sciatica, and rubbed over the chest relieves the tightness due to severe colds. All stores and druggists sell at 50 cents a box, or post free from the Zam-Buk Co., Toronto. 6 boxes for $2.50.

"I'm up a tree," admitted the orating politician, "but my back is to the wall, and I'll die in the last ditch, going down with flags flying, and from the mountain-top of Democracy, hurling defiance at the foe, soar on the wings of triumph, regardless of the party lash that barks at my heels." He looked as though he meant it, too.

NEWS IN THIBET.

Mounted Messengers Carry News With Great Rapidity.

Dr. Zugnayer, who has recently concluded a notable expedition in Thibet, expresses his astonishment at the splendid system of news-carrying which he found in Thibet, even in parts of the country which were only populated by nomads. He says: "As soon as I came into contact with these people mounted messengers were despatched at full speed to the next nomad chief or village, and as my caravan could necessarily only advance very slowly, the Thibetan authorities had ample time to gather troops and prepare themselves for serious resistance in case I should try to force my way through."

ANOTHER TROUBLE.

 Mrs. Bolts—"Well, just as like as not you'll not be able to find the key hole."

Dear Mother

Your little ones are a constant care in Fall and Winter weather. They will catch cold. Do you know about Shiloh's Consumption Cure, the Lung Tonic, and what it has done for so many? It is said to be the only reliable remedy for all diseases of the air passages in children. It is absolutely harmless and pleasant to take. It is guaranteed to cure or your money is returned. The price is 25c. per bottle, and all dealers in medicine sell

SHILOH

This remedy should be in every household.

Angry Wife (after a quarrel): "It seems to me that we've been married about a hundred years. I can't even remember when or where we first met." Husband (emphatically): "I can. It was at a dinner-party, and there were thirteen at table!"

Holloway's Corn Cure is the medicine to remove all kinds of corns and warts, and only costs the small sum of twenty-five cents.

"How do you like our new wall-paper, dear?" inquired a lady of her next-door neighbor. "Well, dear," was the latter's envious reply, "I'm afraid it's—er—rather loud." "Yes, dear, it is," was the rejoinder; "that's why we selected it. We thought it might drown the sound of your daughter's piano-playing!"

Lingering, stubborn old sores are erased from the skin by Weaver's Cerate. The good work of blood-cleansing is completed with Weaver's Syrup.

SENTENCE SERMONS.

Hiding sin does not heal it. Things are without what they are within.

Only veneer virtues fear bad weather. There is little love in long distance charity.

Orthodoxy is apt to be conformity to my habits. Losing the temper takes the edge off the ability.

A man never believes in honesty until he has some of it. No favoring wind comes to him who will not pull on his oars.

The more of a truth a man knows the larger liberty he finds in it. The easiest way to fall out of the Christian path is to sit down in it.

Religion may have many forms, but they all have one face of love. The man who brags of being speedy doesn't figure on the grade he is on.

The only man whom poverty can crush is he who lacks the riches of character. To make a child profess a man's religion is to put him to school to hypocrisy.

He who has many thoughts to hide never has any that men are glad to circulate. No flower strikes root more readily or blooms with greater blessing than kindness.

Lots of people never lock the door on a temptation until they get it safely inside the house. When a man is determined to go blind-folded the accuracy of his eyes will not help him much.

Undue consciousness of the intellect usually rises from an unrecognized sense of an aching void. No matter how hungry a man may be he is sure to choke on the bread of charity without the butter of kindness.

REWARD FOR HARD THINKING.
 A year ago a manufacturer hired a boy. For months there was nothing noticeable about him except that he never took his eyes off the machine he was running. A few weeks ago the manufacturer looked up from his work to see the boy standing beside his desk. "What do you want?" he asked. "What my pay raised." "What are you getting?" "Three dollars a week." "Well, how much do you think you are worth?" "Four dollars."

"You think so, do you?" "Yes, sir, an' I've been thinkin' so for three weeks, but I've been so blame busy I haven't had time to speak to you about it." He was raised.

EXCEPTION.

Biggs—"Popleigh seems proud of the fact that his boy is unusually large for his age."
 Diggs—"Yes, except when he is trying to convince a railway conductor that the kid is entitled to ride for half-fare."

When your character is gold you will not need any coinage stamp to make it current.

There is nothing more unsatisfactory to ordinary men than the opinions of an expert.

There is nothing equal to Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator for destroying worms. No article of its kind has given such satisfaction.

There is no turning a windmill with a pair of bellows and there is no turning in your chair if you have lumbago or lame back, but it would be quite easy if you had "The D & L" Menthol Plaster on your back.

LIMIT.

The elderly man has evidently, loved and lost out. "I suppose," he said, "that my gray hairs do not appeal to you."

"Oh, I respect the few gray hairs you have," rejoined she of the refrigerator heart, "but somehow I am unable to generate any respect for your bald pate."

WHEN 6 REMEDIES HAD FAILED HE TRIED BILEANS.

Now He has Dyspepsia No More.

Strange why people should not try the very thing which would do them good until last! Mr. Geo. La Portwin, of 36 St. Paul St., Toronto, tried six different remedies for dyspepsia, headache, and heartburn before he tried Bileans. The six did him no good. Bileans have cured him! He says:—"I had heartburn, dyspepsia and wind after food. The nourishment I took seemed to do me no good, and the pain I suffered was very acute. I tried six different remedies before Bileans, but they did me no good. With Bileans it was quite different. I found they relieved the flatulence and the pain within a few hours and a short course resulted in a complete cure."

In every country where they have been introduced, Bileans have quickly taken first place because of their rapid and lasting cures of indigestion, liver and kidney complaints, anemia, headache, debility, constipation, piles, female ailments and irregularities, rheumatism, liver chill, etc. Purely herbal and containing no alcohol they are an ideal family medicine. All stores and druggists sell at 50c a box, or from the Bilean Co., Toronto, for price, 6 boxes sent for $2.50.

TWO ODD FARMS.

Snapping Turtles and Pearl Oysters are Raised in Japan.

One of the oddest farms in the world is to be seen in Japan—a farm from which a crop of tens of thousands of snapping turtles is shipped every year. It is the property of a Mr. Hattori, says Professor Mitsuoki in the National Geographic Magazine, and has solved the problem of preserving the supply of what is to the Japanese as great a delicacy as the diamond-back terrapin is to some.

The farm consists chiefly of a number of ponds. Some of them are set apart as breeding ponds. Once a day a man goes over the shores and with little wire baskets covers up all new egg deposits. Sometimes thousands of these wire baskets are in sight at a time, marking the place where the eggs lie and preventing the turtles from scratching the earth from them.

Hatching requires from forty to sixty days, according to the weather. The young, as soon as they appear, are put in separate small ponds, and are fed with finely chopped fish. They eat this during September and October, and late in October burrow in the mud for the winter, coming out in April or May.

Most of them are sold in the market when they are from three to five years old, at which time they are most delicate.

Japan also contains a unique fishery in a pearl-oyster farm. In the Bay of Ago a Japanese has established a plantation from which he is reaping a harvest of jewels.

In May or June stones weighing six to eight pounds are sunk in shallow water, and in August the tiny shells begin to appear on them. Here the stones remain for two months, but the young oysters cannot stand cold. In November, therefore, all rocks in less than five feet of water are moved farther out, where the temperature is more even. At the end of three years, when the shells are about two inches across, they are taken from the water, nuclei for pearls are inserted in them, and they are put back again, thirty of them to every six feet square of bottom.

They are left there four years. Then, being seven and a half years old, they are removed and searched for pearls.

The harvest of artificial or "culture" pearls is very large, but unfortunately these are only little more than half-pearls, for although large, lustrous and of fine quality, they are flat on one side. This the farmer hopes to remedy in time; but the market for half-pearls is always very large.

He has an additional source of income in the natural pearls which his oysters produce, for there is no lacking among them the usual proportion of perfect gems to be found among oysters of this variety.

A Cure for Fever and Ague.—Parnelle's Vegetable Pills are compounded for use in any climate, and they will be found to preserve their powers in any latitude. In fever and ague they act upon the secretions and neutralize the poison which has found its way into the blood. They correct the impurities which find entrance into the system through drinking water or food and if used as a preventive fevers are avoided.

A woman is seldom interested in what a man says unless she appears to be otherwise.

Bickle's Anti-Consumptive Syrup is the result of expert chemical experiments, undertaken to discover a preventive of inflammation of the lungs and consumption, by destroying the germs that develop these diseases, and fill the world with pitiable subjects hopelessly stricken. The use of this Syrup will prevent the dire consequences of neglected Colds. A trial, which costs only 25 cents, will convince you that this is correct.

Love is blind—and a lot of trouble would be avoided if marriage didn't act as an eye-opener.

Children who are Pale and peevish want something that will make good rich blood; there is nothing to equal "Ferrovin" for this purpose. Mothers, be sure to get a bottle.

Young Medico: "What is the secret of your success?" Experienced One: "I make it a rule to find out what the patient wants to do, then I order him to do it."

Just the Thing That's Wanted—A pill that acts upon the stomach and yet is so compounded that certain ingredients of it preserve their power to act upon the intestinal canals, so as to clear them of excreta the retention of which cannot but be hurtful, was long looked for by the medical profession. It was found in Parnelle's Vegetable Pills, which are the result of much expert study, and are scientifically prepared as a laxative and an alternative in one.

WORK AND SLEEP.

It is no new principle that Doctor Fere of the Bicetre Hospital in Paris has made known in a recent article on "Work and Repose," but it is not the less worth repeating. He has made many special experiments, and announces as their general result that the supposed power of various alcoholic and other stimulants to increase physical and mental energy, and postpone fatigue, or avoid the effects of fatigue, is illusory. There is only one form of effective, recreative repose—sleep; and sleep, in order to exercise its proper power, must be natural. The sleep produced by narcotics is "a toxic somnolence having the appearance only of real reparative sleep." But sleep itself is a mystery concerning whose nature we possess merely a "hypothetical knowledge."

Mrs. Jones: "Here is a letter I want you to post, dear. It is to my milliner, countermanding an order for a hat." Mr. Jones: "Here; take this piece of cord and tie the letter to my hands, so that I won't forget it."

'Tis a Marvellous Thing.—When the cures effected by Dr. Thomas' Eclectic Oil are considered, the speedy and permanent relief it has brought to the suffering wherever it has been used, it must be regarded as a marvellous thing that so potent a medicine should result from the six simple ingredients which enter into its composition. A trial will convince the most skeptical of its healing virtues.

MRS. HUNTER'S STORY

Says Results are "Truly Wonderful."

Mrs. I. Hunter, of 111 Raglan Road, Kingston, Ont., says:—

"I have suffered with kidney and liver trouble and chronic constipation for some time. I was subject to dizziness, bilious headache, nervousness, drowsiness, pains in the back and side, and a tired, weary feeling nearly all the time. "I tried almost every medicine, was treated by doctors and druggists with little or no benefit. "I tried Dr. Leonhardt's Anti-Pill, and the results have been truly wonderful. I am so much better. Anti-Pill is a most wonderful remedy."
