

KING AND THE MADMAN.

Windsor Bookmaker Makes an Attempt to Shoot with the King.

A sensational incident in connection with one of the King's shooting excursions in Windsor Forest has just come to light.

A madman, armed with a gun, determined to go shooting with his Majesty the other Saturday, and proceeded into the forest, near High Standing Hill. He actually shot at some birds after the King and Prince of Wales had left the forest after the best day's sport in Windsor Park ever enjoyed.

One of his Majesty's keepers was on this way home when he heard a gun fired. He immediately went to the spot from whence the sound had come and saw a man running away. Just then a keeper on a nobleman's estate close by came up, having heard a shot. He saw a man with a gun who was about to get over a fence. He went up to him, and seeing he was a stranger, thought he had better use caution.

The keeper said—"Can I hold your gun while you get over the fence?" and the man thanked him and handed the keeper the gun. Having secured this, the keeper asked him what he was doing there, whereupon the man answered strangely. Producing a handful of gold from his pocket, he asked the keeper if he could "square" him.

The King's keeper had now come on the scene. From his actions the keepers concluded that the man was insane, and this proved to be the case. He had borrowed a gun at Slough and had told some of his friends that he was going shooting with the King.

He was subsequently conveyed to an asylum. It appears that the man is a local bookmaker, who has suddenly lost his reason.

LONDON THE GREATEST PORT.

Tonnage for 1906 Was 27 Millions, the Largest on Record.

Lord Desborough, who was re-elected chairman of the Thames Conservancy the other day, gave some interesting figures in reviewing the work of the year.

The registered tonnage of ships entering and leaving the Port of London for the year 1906, he said, was 27,145,000, which was not only a record for the River Thames, but was greatly in excess of that of any other port in the world. The figures for the previous year were 25,867,000 tons.

He was pleased to say that the number of large vessels entering the port had also greatly increased. By large vessels he meant those of 5,000 tons and upwards. Of such vessels 262 entered the port during the year 1906, as against 64 in the year 1900.

2 POWERFUL INSTANCES OF ZAM-BUK'S WONDERFUL HEALING.

OF ZAM-BUK'S WONDERFUL HEALING.

Here are two powerful instances of the varied ways in which Zam-Buk the great herbal balm, is doing good throughout the Dominion. Have you not enjoyed its benefit?

Wounded on by a Horse—Bad Bruises.
Mr. D. Cumming, of Springmount (Ont.), says: "I have proved that Zam-Buk has extraordinary merit. I was trampled on by a horse and my foot was all black and swollen. I could scarcely move it, the pain was so bad. A few applications of Zam-Buk cured the pain and removed the discoloration. The foot was soon all right again. It is a wonderful balm."

Running Sore Healed.
Mrs. S. J. Holden, of Hannah St. W., Hamilton, says: "My little girl had a running sore on her leg which defied every manner of treatment. Within a few days of trying Zam-Buk there was a distinct improvement and the wound is now completely healed. I have since used Zam-Buk for other skin diseases, etc., and find it excellent."

Zam-Buk is an all-round household balm. It is compounded from purely herbal essences, and cures eczema, ulcers, sores, chapped hands, bruises, cuts, burns, etc. It also cures rheumatism, sciatica, neuralgia, and rubbed well in over the chest in cases of cold removes the tightness and aching. All druggists and stores sell at 50c. a box, or post free from the Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, upon receipt of price. 6 boxes for $2.50.

INSULT TO INJURY.

"That is what I call downright impudence," said Mrs. Higgins.

"What has occurred?" inquired her husband.

"The neighbors who recently moved next door are going to have company, so they sent in to borrow our drawing-room rug. I let them have it, and in a while while they came back and said they didn't think it was handsome enough to go with their furniture, and could I lend them the money to buy a new one."

BELLES ROB BAZAARS.

Revelations of Gross Frauds at Berlin, Germany.

Astonishing revelations are being made of fraud committed by society women of Berlin, Germany, who make a practice of taking a prominent part in bazaars and other charity functions.

It is shown that these "hyenas of charity," as they are called here, have not only victimized gatherings legitimately organized, but that they have been in the habit of engineering theatrical fetes, where they sold cups of coffee at $1.25 and $2.50 each, and other articles of refreshment at equally extravagant prices.

Those who were shocked by these and still more astonishing devices for obtaining money were told that everything was justifiable in the cause of charity.

Unfortunately, further revelations have made it clear that many of these nominally charitable ladies appropriated large sums of the money obtained in this way. One society belle, a prominent figure at all charitable fetes, systematically appropriated all gold coins paid to her and only handed over silver coins to the treasurer.

Recently one woman detected in the act of stealing money, was publicly assaulted at a charitable fete by a woman whose indignation carried her away. The sight of one fashionably-dressed lady whipping another gorgeously arrayed dame at an assembly attended by 2,000 persons created great excitement, and led to persistent enquiries as to the cause of the encounter.

Another "hyena of charity" was detected in the act of pocketing money and was compelled to gorge her spoils on the spot, in full view of 40 or 50 contemptuous spectators. She was searched there and then, and gold coins were extracted from her pockets, from the folds of her dress, and even from her dainty shoes. Then she was driven from the building amid loud hisses and hoots.

HIS GRIM REVENGE.

The doctor shook his head and looked serious.

"Hum," he said, after feeling the patient's pulse and taking his temperature. "You're very ill indeed."

"You don't say so, doctor," gasped the man, as he turned pale. "Am I going to have some serious illness?"

"You are liable to, sir, unless you follow out my directions to the letter. Let's see. Do you go to Scragg, the butcher?"

"Yes, doctor."

"You must buy your meat after this at some other shop. It will be somewhat of a change, I think. Does Gritz, the grocer, get your custom?"

"He does, doctor—all of it in that line."

"Just so. I must caution you to change grocers for a while. Even that will be a little change in your diet. Who's your baker?"

"Then buy your bread somewhere else, so as to have a complete change in food all round. That's all, I believe. Follow those directions faithfully, take this prescription and have it made up, and you'll be a different man in a week."

And, as the sick man walked out, the doctor rubbed his hands and chuckled to himself.

STONE BAROMETER.

There exists a stone which is said to unfailingly foretell changes in the weather. This stone was found in Finland many years ago by an explorer, and has since been watched by scientists with great interest. It presents a white, mottled appearance in sunshine, gradually turning from grey to black as a rain-storm approaches. The stone is composed of clay, nitre and rock salt. In dry weather the salt in the stone is prominent, but when the air is filled with moisture the salt absorbs the moisture and turns black, thus forming the barometer.

THE TERM DEFINED.

POWERFUL SUGGESTION.

A doctor who was recounting some of his experiences of hypnotism, related the following story:—

"I once had a patient who was ill with consumption, and who ought to have gone to a warmer climate, but whose means were insufficient, so I resolved to try what hypnotism would do for him. I had a huge sun chalked on the ceiling of his room, and by suggestion induced him to think it was the sun, which would cure him. The ruse succeeded, and he was getting daily better, when one day on my arrival I found he was dead."

ASTONISHED THE DOCTOR.

"The Doctor told me I had heart disease and was liable to drop on the street at any time," says Mrs. Robert Eaton, of Dufferin, Ont.

"I was afraid to draw my breath, it pained me so. I was nervous, short of breath, had dizziness, loss of appetite, smothering and sinking spells, and I could not sleep."

"Sometimes I would have to lie down to keep from falling. My hands and feet would seem to go to sleep and a sort of numbness would come all over me."
