AN ODD CLOCK AND ITS MAKER.

Ingenious Frenchman Who is An Inmate of a Poorhouse.

One of the most wonderful and unique clocks, representing Biblical scenes, has been completed by Lewis Julian, an inmale of the Northampton County Almshouse, South Bethlehem. Penn. Julian is an expert watchmaker, but illness has crippled him to a great extent, making him incapable of following his trade. Notwithstanding his physical disabilities he still retains all the genius of his early manhood. The happiest moments of his life, he says, were occupied in constructing the clock.

LUCKY MEN.

MARSHALL, MICH.

Admirers of great, rich, or famous people often bestow their wealth upon the objects of their regard. The German Emperor heads the list of lucky ones so lavored. His receipts in money and real estate during the last ten years would, it is said, make a millionaire envious. Following a precedent, a Hamburg merchant prince left more than $1.000,000 to the Emperor's Chancellor, whom Kaiser William immediately created "Prince" Buelow. William Jennings Bryan recently came by wealth in the same way. In Engfand Lord Allerton has received $100,-000 from an admirer of his public career, and Dr. Jameson inherits a sum one-fifth larger under the will of Mr. Beit. Queen Victoria was very fortuhate in her admirers, of whom the put it there. At all general stores and Druggists, wealthiest was Nield, who bequathed to her the sum of $1,250,000.
