PERILOUS ARCTIC JOURNEY.

Settler's Long Dog Sled Drive to Save His Wife's Life.

Down from the north comes another of the fine stories of love and endurance that lend to the silent northern places such warm human interest, says the Winnipeg correspondent of the St. Paul Dispatch. The story is of one James P.
Galbraith, who brought his sick wife into Dawson by dog team from the Duncan district—a distance of 175 miles.
Mrs. Galbraith became seriously ill some weeks ago. There was not a doctor anywhere in the remote camp, and heroic steps were necessary. Galbraith was not a man to hesitate because of distance or obstacles. Securing the best team of trained dogs in the camp, he carefully placed Mrs. Galbraith in the basket sleigh, and with the crack of the whip was off on the long run early in the morning.

The first day out they made sixty miles. It was a fairly good trail, but nothing comfortable or enjoyable for a woman suffering the pangs of illness.
The dogs did nobly and trotted along almost every step of the way. The streams were beginning to run water.

At clear creek the water was a foot and a half deep and 200 feet wide. There was no way to make the crossing but to swim the dogs. The intrepid musher wrapped his wife carefully in canvas and made the binding so that she was virtually in a large canvas bag. Then the dogs were given the lash and headed toward the opposite shore. Galbraith waded behind, but the dogs had to swim and draw the sleigh.

The old faithfuls did their work splendidly and came out panting on the shore almost exhausted, but soon had their breath and were again hot footing it down the trail. Galbraith bounding along behind lifted his 195 pounds and drying his wet extremities by vigor of his exertion and his brisk circulation. Between McQuesten and Highet, the new Government trail cut last fall, was the course of travel. Had it not been built there would have been no means of getting to Dawson and a death perhaps would have to be recorded because of the enforced isolation of this particular season.

Through the heart of a deep forest this new trail passes, winding among the foothills and above the gulches and creeks, and it was while passing through this remote wilderness that deep baying of a band of wolves was heard by Mr. and Mrs. Galbraith. The dogs were not allowed to tarry then and they scarcely needed the warning of the anxious driver and feeble sufferer. The second day out sixty miles more was made, and that brought the travellers to Dominion Creek. From there it was a good road, and Dawson was reached.

A Purely Vegetable Pill.—Parmelee's Vegetable Pills are compounded from roots, herbs and solid extracts of known virtue in the treatment of liver and kidney complaints and in giving tone to the system whether enfeebled by overwork or deranged through excesses in living. They require no testimonial. Their excellent qualities are well known to all those who have used them and they commend themselves to dyspeptics and those subject to biliousness who are in quest of a beneficial medicine.

HOW MARBLES ARE MADE.

Most of the stone marbles used by boys are made in Germany. The refuse only of the marble and agate quarries is employed, and this is treated in such a way that there is practically no waste. Men and boys are employed to break the refuse stone into small cubes, and with their hammers they acquire a marvellous dexterity. The little cubes are then thrown into a mill consisting of a grooved bedstone and a revolving runner. Water is fed to the mill and the runner is rapidly revolved while the friction does the rest. In half an hour the mill is stopped and a bushel or so of perfectly rounded marbles are taken out. The whole process costs the merest trifle.

Young Sam was never at a loss at finding anything to do or something to amuse himself. Even when his father shut him up in the coal-cellar for teasing the baby with the business end of a pin, cunning Samuel found something to delight his heart. For a while the cellar was quiet enough; but presently Sam knocked at the door, and cried out, "Father, I don't want to come up stairs.
I've found the beer barrel and turned the tap on."

MIGHT HELP SOME.

"Bodkin says he has discovered a new asthma cure."
"He ought to experiment with it on some of those wheezy old jokes of his."

They Never Knew Failure.—Careful observation of the effects of Parmelee's Vegetable Pills has shown that they act immediately on the diseased organs of the system and stimulate them to healthy action. There may be cases in which the disease has been long seated and does not easily yield to medicine, but even in such cases these Pills have been known to bring relief when all other so-called remedies have failed.
These assertions can be substantiated by many who have used the Pills, and medical men speak highly of their qualities.

"You certainly look better; you must have followed my advice and had a change." "Yes, doctor, so I have."
"Where did you go?" "I went to another physician."

never fails to effect a thorough cure.

JAPANESE ROMANCE.

Father Finds Daughter Under Strange Circumstances, Then Vanishes Again.

A romance of Japanese life is reported from Osaka, where a young woman was suddenly deserted on the eve of her expected marriage. The fugitive bridegroom left no explanations whatever, but instead a considerable sum of money to be a dowry for her when she found another sweetheart to her liking.

The man whose name is given as Sakamoto, was 42 years old, while the young woman was only 20. This disparity of age was at first believed to be the cause of his disappearance. Investigation, however, showed that he had a much more serious reason.

It was discovered that Sakamoto was originally a well to do merchant in Osaka. He married and apparently lived happily with his wife until a daughter was born to them.
Then he suddenly turned all his property into cash, deserted his family and vanished. No trace could be found of him and presently his wife sickened and died. Then the girl baby was taken in by another couple and brought up as their own child.

After two years Sakamoto returned to his native town and presently made the acquaintance of the family into which his daughter had been adopted.
As soon as he saw her, it appears, he developed an affection for her which he mistook for matrimonial inclination.

As soon, however, as the betrothal to the girl became generally known some old timers came to the front and explained the situation to him, whereupon he concluded that the least embarrassing thing to do was to disappear again, making handsome provision for his daughter, however, before he left.

His whereabouts has not been discovered, though his daughter is eager to be reunited with him in their true relations, and search has been made for him. It is believed that he has sailed for the United States.

It Will Prolong Life.—De Sota, the Spaniard, lost his life in the wilds of Florida, whither he went for the purpose of discovering the legendary "Fountain of perpetual youth," said to exist in that then unknown country.
While Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil will not perpetuate youth, it will remove the bodily pains which make the young old before their time and harass the aged into untimely graves.
