CHARGED WITH MURDER.

Monday's papers reported a horrible murder at the little village of Agincourt in East York. Walker Blythe, C. P. R. section man, seemingly confessed to have murdered his wife Sunday night. The two little children of the deceased and her cruel husband were the first to give the alarm, and Blythe was shortly afterward arrested and taken to the Toronto jail. Lately, it is said, the prisoner had been drinking heavily, and his outburst of violence, resulting, according to his alleged confession, in the death of his wife, is attributed to liquor.

JANUARY CANADIAN.

A number of distinguished names appear among the contributors to the January number of the Canadian Magazine. Prof. Goldwin Smith writes a timely and most interesting consideration of "The Crisis in India," and Sir Charles Tupper writes on "An Incident of Confederation." These two contributions alone would make the number one of more than ordinary interest, but there are as well many other important features.
