

ALL CANADIANS ARE LOYAL.

Evidence is not wanting to demonstrate that French-Canadians are a loyal people, and true to the British flag. There is a disposition, however, on the part of some of our newspapers to assert the contrary. An English paper may express views unfavorable to the building of Dreadnoughts for naval defence, and nothing is thought about it, but should similar views be expressed by a Frenchman the charge of disloyalty will be immediately raised. This is not square dealing. A French-Canadian has just as good a right to have opinions and express them as an English-Canadian has. Sir Wilfrid Laurier has been branded as a disloyal Frenchman hundreds of times, yet his whole life shows that he is "British to the core," and proud of the British flag—the flag that floats over a peaceful and contented people in the Province of Quebec and in every province in the Dominion.

It is gratifying to know, however, that the foolish and untruthful charges are not made by men of broad minds and generous natures. Only a few days ago Sir Hugh Graham, proprietor of the Montreal Star, in his admirable response to Lord Rosebery's address to the Imperial Press Conference delegates, paid a fitting compliment to the French-Canadian press for its enterprise, and to the French-Canadian people for their loyalty to the British throne.

And again, quoting from a despatch sent last Saturday from London, England, to the Toronto World, we read that Mr. Langlois of Montreal at the Imperial Press Conference, spoke in part as follows:—

"Speaking for two and a quarter millions of French-Canadians, he declared that in all crises Quebec would stand by the Empire. There would be no discordant voice. Should the occasion arise, Canada would be united as a mighty whole to defend the common cause. French-Canadians were grateful to Britain for safeguarding their religion, customs and liberties. He recalled with pride that in the dark days of 1812 French-Canadians had saved Canada. What they did then they could be relied on to do in the future."

SAFE WAY TO INVEST.

Last year the Canadian Parliament passed what is called the Government Annuities Act. By said Act provision may be made for every man, woman or child against want in old age, and no one need doubt that people who invest in this way a part of their earnings will be investing it in a place where it will be positively and absolutely secure. The Act is sure to be popular, and will be taken advantage of by all classes of people, but probably more particularly by wage-earners and men on moderate salary who may be able to put aside a few dollars each month, after providing for the necessary household expenses.

Annuities may be contracted for at the age of 5 years and any subsequent age, but except for invalidity or disablement, no annuity shall be payable before the age of 55.

To show the advantage of an investment of this kind, making provision for old age, we may say that a man beginning at 20 years of age, and paying 25 cents a week ($13 a year) until he is 60, may provide an annuity, or annual income for the remainder of his life of $129.91. Should he live till he is 75 he will have paid into the fund $520, and he will have received $1,984.65. Should he die before the time that the annuity shall become payable his heirs will receive the amount paid in, with compound interest at the rate of 4 per cent.

Deposits may be made in the nearest Post Office Savings Bank or Money Order Office. Any person interested is requested to ask his postmaster for a booklet giving full explanation.

JUDGMENT FOR $240.

A suit which has created considerable interest occupied three days before Mr. Justice Latchford last week. Mr. Moses Vanderburgh, owner of lot 43, 1st con. Vaughan, sued in the High Court, the townships of Vaughan and Markham, claiming damages for alleged flooding of his land, owing to an improper culvert under Yonge street. A large number of witnesses were examined. Judgment was given for $240 and costs, the culvert to be put in proper condition. The judge reckoned the damages $20 an acre, three acres, for the years 1905, 1906, 1907 and 1908.
