

LOYALTY (?) TO THEIR LEADER

The Toronto World of Tuesday had a special despatch from Ottawa saying that a Conservative caucus will be held on Friday when it is expected that Mr. R. L. Borden will tender his resignation as Leader of the Dominion Opposition. The despatch says that "while a section of the opposition entertain the utmost loyalty towards R. L. Borden, personally, they are convinced that he will not lead them to victory at the polls, lacking, they say, the power of strong leadership. They base their claim on one or two incidents in the House when he failed to fasten upon the weakness of the Government, and make his party the mouthpiece of public opinion. Particularly the case, they say, during the debate on the resolution on imperial naval defence."

We can imagine that Mr. Borden does not put much value on the kind of loyalty (?) referred to above. The charge made by those Conservatives, including the Evening Telegram, is not that the proposed naval policy is bad, but that it is not good politics to support any measure introduced by the Laurier Government.

As might be supposed, King Edward on Tuesday received congratulatory messages from many notables, including the President of the United States. Long may he reign.

The World of Monday states that Warden Henry has appointed Mr. G. H. Reed, Principal of Markham High School, to the position of Inspector of Public Schools for South York, to succeed the late Mr. Fotheringham. We know no reason why Mr. Reed would not make an excellent inspector. But there are also a number of other good men who have applied for the position. Warden Henry's appointment is only provisional, which the members of the County Council may either accept or reject when they meet two weeks hence. For that reason we believe it would have been better to have given all the applicants an equal chance. Certainly, the schools in South York would not suffer for the want of an inspector till the Council meets the latter part of November.

At the last meeting of the Village Council a claim was made for sheep killed by dog or dogs. The owners of the sheep agreed to free the Council from any further obligations if the latter would pay half the value of the sheep. Councillors Sanderson and Hopper expressed a willingness to compromise in that way, but Councillor Trench objected to the proposal, and Reeve Pugsley thought the objection was well taken. The law clearly states that municipal councils shall pay two-thirds of the value of sheep killed by dogs, but only when it can be shown that the owners of the dogs are not known. Councillor Trench stated there was evidence to show that one of our citizens kicked the dogs away from the sheep they were worrying, and that one of the dogs belonged to his next door neighbor. If that is the case, surely there should be no compromise. The law also clearly states that dogs known to worry sheep shall be killed. The dogs blamed for causing the damage are still at large.

BEEF ASSOCIATION.

The Town Line Beef Association held its annual meeting at the home of Mr. Wm. Walkington on Friday evening last. The following were elected officers:—President, R. Riddell; Vice-President, M. Hadwin; Secretary, N. A. Malloy; Butcher, W. Walkington; J. Scott, Inspector. No oyster supper was held this year, but as next year will be the 20th anniversary, a "bumper" time may be expected. The speaking, which was good, brought out the fact that the late president, Mr. Alex. Cameron, had held that office for 19 years and had never missed a meeting; that Mr. Riddell was vice-president for 19 years, Mr. Walkington butcher for 19 years, and Mr. Malloy secretary for 19 years. Besides the officers, good speeches were given by Mr. Harvey, Mr. Burns and others.
