DON'T SUBSTITUTE.

Always give your customers what they ask for. "Just as good" or "the same thing" may make one sale at a large profit, and at the same time lose the confidence and trade of a dissatisfied patron. Don't substitute.

BIRTHS.

BURNS—On Friday, January 21, 1910, 3rd Con. of Vaughan, to Mr. and Mrs. Thos. B. Burns, a daughter, Lillian Loreta.

IN MEMORIAM.

In loving memory of Laura Adele Gordon, who died Feb. 4, 1909.

She is not dead,—the child of our affections,
But gone unto that school
Where she no longer needs our poor protection,
And Christ himself doth rule.

Day after day we think what she is doing
In those bright realms of air;
Year after year her tender steps pursuing,
Behold her grown more fair.

Not as a child shall we again behold her;
For when with raptures wild,
In our embraces we again unfold her,
She will not be a child.

But a fair maiden in her Father's mansion,
Clothed with celestial grace;
And beautiful with all the soul's expansion,
Shall we behold her face.

MOTHER, BROTHERS AND SISTERS.
Maple, Jan. 31, 1910.

A PENITENT POLITICIAN.

A. M. Sullivan, M. P. for Louth, Ireland, in his book, entitled "New Ireland," relates the following death-bed scene:

"When Daniel O'Connell's trial was proceeding, or rather concluding, in 1844, an old gentleman named Ffolliott—a good type of the staunch old Tory gentlemen of that day in Ireland—lay dying in a southern county.

"Do you rest all your hopes on the merits of your Saviour, Mr. Ffolliott?" said the rector, who stood by his bedside.

"Yes, I do, all," murmured the dying man.

"And are you directing all your thoughts at this moment to the Heavenly Jerusalem, Mr. Ffolliott?"

"And nowhere else."

"Above all, I trust you forgive everyone, and feel at peace with all men?"

"With all mankind," responded the genial old fox-hunter.

"There was a solemn pause.

"Mr. Halliday," he half whispered, "is the Dublin mail in yet?"

"Yes, sir, about an hour ago."

"The dying man roused himself instantly, and with eagerness asked, 'How about the trial? Is O'Connell convicted?'"

"Found guilty, sir."

"Thanks be to God!" was the last pious ejaculation of the worthy old squire."

T. BROKEN AXLES.

Several accidents have recently taken place on Metropolitan cars, the result of broken axles. One of these accidents occurred Tuesday forenoon of last week, on the car going north at Willowdale. The only other person thrown out of her seat was a lady in the front part of the car. Three or four similar accidents occurred since the beginning of the year.

FATAL ACCIDENT.

A sad accident occurred in the bush on the farm of John Proctor, Yonge street, about 1½ miles from Newmarket on Monday morning, when his second son, Harry, a young man of seventeen, was killed as he was unfastening a chain used for loading logs on the sleigh. The logs spreading on the bunks allowed one to roll on the young man's head as he was stooping beside the sleigh, killing him instantly. They had to hitch a team to the log to remove it so the body could be got out. Coroner Dr. Scott was immediately sent for, and decided that an inquest was unnecessary.
