Thornhill.

Do not forget the Presbyterian Xmas Tree and Entertainment in Victoria Hall on Thursday Dec. 22nd. Tea will be served from 5 to 7.30 o'clock and concert will begin at 8, the program consisting of recitations, drills, songs, dialogues etc. The program committee is confident that this event will eclipse those of former years.

The song service held in the Methodist Church on Sunday evening, Dec. 4, was a grand success. Though the choir-master and members were enthusiastic yet fresh inspiration seemed to come to them on sight of the very large congregation that had crowded the church to enjoy the service of song. The securing of Mr. Funston of the first grade of the Mendelssohn choir, Toronto, was due to musical director, Jno. Davidson, and much appreciated by the people. The pastor and Mr. A. G. Young of Victoria College occupied the pulpit interspersing at intervals appropriate scripture reading. The choir purpose giving another service of song on Christmas night.

A GREAT SCHOOL.

One school that is making itself felt in this community is the well-known Elliott Business College of Toronto. It enjoys a large patronage and hundreds of students go out to positions each year. The Winter Term opens on Jan. 3rd. A handsome catalogue will be mailed to all desiring to take a course.

Maple.

The young people enjoyed skating on Dr. Routley's pond last week. The rink is not ready yet, but the ice will soon be in a condition for skating there. The rink has been made 12 feet wider.

Mr. R. Walkington's horse took fright Saturday evening and ran away but no damage was done except the harness being broken.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Jackson arrived home last evening from their wedding trip.

Miss Jennie Jackson and Mrs. H. D. Cook and little son arrived home on Saturday evening after a ten days' visit with friends at Thorold.

Mr. C. H. Byam has been ill for over a week, and his place has been taken by Mr. Breen, relieving agent.

Rev. J. W. Gordon was called to Rockwood last week by the illness of his father, who passed away on Friday morning. Mr. and Mrs. Gordon have the sympathy of all in their bereavement.

NOTICE

A meeting of the Richmond Hill Hockey Club will be held in the Lorne Hall on Tuesday Dec. 20. All interested kindly attend. By order of Managing Com. J. W. Palmer sec'y-treas.

PRIVATE SALE.

The Woman's Guild of St. Mary's Church will offer for sale the remainder of their goods at cost price on Friday and Saturday afternoons of this week, at the home of Miss Elizabeth M. Brown. The articles consist of children's dresses, pinafores, flannel night dresses, fancy articles suitable for Christmas presents, dolls, chinaware, glassware, hat pins, all at cost price.

BUSINESS EDUCATION.

The success of the majority of the Business Colleges in Ontario at least is a good indication of the demand for practical Education and should prompt our authorities to give more attention to this particular work in our Public and High Schools. We learn on good authority that one prominent Business College—the Central Business College of Toronto—enrolls annually more than fifteen hundred students, and that it never has any graduates out of employment. Indeed, we are told many business firms find much difficulty in securing the necessary well trained assistants to carry on their work successfully, and they are now compelled to look to the Business Colleges almost exclusively to supply their requirements. A business education is a very safe guarantee of a good salary in these times of commercial activity.

NEWTON BROOK CIRCUIT.

Concerts and Christmas Trees will be held in the Methodist Church, Zion on the evening of Wednesday, Dec. 21, and in Newton Brook Church Thursday evening, Dec. 22. Good program of drills, dialogues &c. at each place.

DR. CLEAVER'S LECTURE.

It would be idle to attempt a description of Dr. Cleaver's lecture in the Methodist church last evening, suffice it to say nothing more interesting or instructive has ever been given in this place. The large audience was spell-bound as the gifted speaker unfolded the wonderful story of Jean Valjean, a convict for 19 years. Much was expected from Dr. Cleaver, but it is safe to say the audience was not prepared for so great a treat. After prayer by Dr. Smith, vocal solos by Miss Mary Trench and Miss Ethel Switzer, and a piano solo by Miss Nora McMahon, the lecturer was introduced by the chairman, Mr. Elmore Reaman, President of the Epworth League.

CHRISTMAS MUSIC

As a Special Xmas Service the Choir of the Methodist Church will give on Sunday evening Dec. 25, the beautiful Oratorio "Zion" by the favorite writer Fauris. The Choir are rehearsing satisfactorily and confidently expect that this music, consisting of solos, duets, trios and choruses, will give as much pleasure as did "The Eternal City" which was rendered by them two years ago. For full program see next week's "LIBERAL."

H. S. CONCERT.

The Sherlock Concert Company composed of a famous Tenor, a favorite Soprano, a fine Elocutionist, a clever Pianist, combines Solos and Duets, Recitations and Piano Selections Sacred and Secular, Popular and Patriotic, Humorous and Pathetic. A few reserved seats still available for the concert in the Masonic Hall tomorrow night. Secure your seat.

ANNUAL CHRISTMAS TREE.

The Annual Christmas Tree and Entertainment of the Presbyterian Sundry School will be held on Friday evening Dec. 23. The program will consist of Dialogues, Recitations and Music with the Cantata, Red Riding Hood, and promises to be particularly interesting. Those who were loud in their praises of last year's event may expect quite as good this year. Don't fail to mark the date.

THE LIBERAL will be sent to new subscribers from this date to January 1, 1911, for $1.00. See advertisement elsewhere in this paper for clubbing rates with other papers.
