CANADIAN MAGAZINE.
There is a seasonable flavor in the first article of the April Canadian Magazine. It is "Easter at Jerusalem," by A. R. Carman. Mr. Carman gives a most readable account of what one sees at the great centre of Easter festivities, and the illustrations are excellent. Other articles of special interest are "The Philosophy of Tipping," by Phil Ives, with pen and ink drawings by C. W. Jefferys; "The Art of John Russell," by Newton MacTavish, with reproductions of some of the artist's paintings; "The Ethics of Titles," by George Clarke Holland; "Rosebery and the Lone Furrow," by H. Linton Eccles; "Old Military Buttons," by R. W. Geary, President of the Lundy's Lane Historical Society; "A Newspaper of 1810," by A. J. Clark; "Montgomery of Quebec," by W. S. Wallace, with short stories by Isabel Ecclestone Mackay, Alan Sullivan, Grace Murray Atkin, St. Clair Moore, and poems by L. M. Montgomery, Donald A. Fraser, Jean Blewett, Carroll C. Aikins, and Margaret O'Grady.

DEATH OF GRAHAM KLINCK.
The Princeville Telephone records the death of Mr. Graham Klinck, who was an uncle of Mrs. Jesse Grant and Mrs. Amos Wright of this village, and who formerly lived in Richmond Hill.
The following paragraphs are taken from the Telephone:
Graham Klinck was born near Richmond Hill, Ontario, Canada, April 12, 1830, and died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Charles Collins, at Castleton, Illinois, March 27, 1911, lacking but fifteen days of reaching the end of his eighty-first year. He was the youngest of eleven children born to Leonard and Elizabeth Brown Grant Klinck, and is survived by one brother and one sister.
At the age of 19 years Mr. Klinck came to Princeville and here has been his home for nearly sixty-two years.
March 2, 1859, he and Miss Sarah E. Alexander were married, and this union of more than fifty-two years is broken by the death of the husband. To them were born five children, three daughters and two sons. One son died in infancy, and the other, Knowlton G., lives in Knoxville, Illinois. The daughters are Mrs. C. A. Collins, Castleton, Illinois; Mrs. W. F. Boyes, Galesburg, Illinois, and Ruby J. of Princeville.
Mr. Klinck was a man of much independence of thought and opinion. His integrity of purpose and action was most consistent. He was always unwilling to place himself in what might seem a false position, and one of his marked characteristics was the desire that his work should stand as that of a man who believed in doing honestly and well whatever he undertook.
So passes the life of a good man, which found its fullest expression in the kindness, the devotion and the strong faithfulness of a husband and father.
The funeral was held from the residence here Wednesday afternoon, conducted by the Rev. Charles Ayling of Chenoa, a nephew of the deceased, and interment was in the Princeville Cemetery.

WEDDING BELLS.
We copy the following marriage notice from The Castor Advance, Alberta, of March 23. The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. John Charles of Paterson.
"The residence of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Walter was the scene of a very interesting event on Wednesday, March 22, when their daughter, Hazel Lucille, was united in marriage to our esteemed fellow townsman, James Vernon Charles. The service was performed by Rev. Wiggins at 6.30 o'clock. The house was tastefully decorated for the occasion, and after the ceremony the guests, who were only the immediate relatives and friends of the contracting parties, partook of a sumptuous repast. The bride was elegantly attired in a robe of white messaline silk and carried bride's roses. The gifts were both numerous and beautiful.
"The young couple left this morning (Thursday) for Calgary and Banff.
"When they return they will take up their residence in their new home on Mason street, in the Stocken addition. Mr. and Mrs. Charles are both well and favorably known in this community and have the best wishes of everyone for a long and happy life."
